Terra Linda Bond Vote Sept. 15

Determined opposition was shaping up today as directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District called a meeting for Tuesday to make the first public presentation of drawings of proposed $350,000 recreation developments.

Mrs. Harriette H. Wills of 705 Montecillo road said members of the newly formed Terra Linda Home Owners Committee will be on hand to question the proposal. The committee, formed this week at Mrs. Wills' home, opposes a bond issue.

Service district directors said the bond election will be held Sept. 15. John P. (Jack) Namle, board president, said the date was decided on at an informal meeting of the board this week.

He said the board will pass a resolution Tuesday making the election date official. Previously the target date was Aug. 28.

Because of an expected large turnout, Tuesday's meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m., will be held at the Christ Presbyterian Church.

Also today came an announcement from James Schryver of 640 Montecillo road, a member of the Terra Linda Parks and Recreation Committee, that a survey of public opinion on recreational needs "indicates that over 70 per cent of the residents desire facilities that will be presented and discussed. My committee has proven to be the Terra Linda CSD directors that the need exists, that an overwhelming majority of the residents desire the facilities, and that the cost is reasonable and within the financial capabilities of the community."

However, Namle said that of the 1,000 residents questioned in the survey, only about half

College Board Picks San Rafael Man

The San Rafael High School District now has representation on the Marin Junior College District board of trustees.

Robert E. Oliver of 56 Circle road, San Rafael, was selected last night to fill the vacancy created by resignation of Mrs. Ada M. Fusselman of San Anselmo.

His term will run until June 30, 1962.

Oliver is manager of commercial research for Columbia-Geneva Division of United States Steel Co. with offices in San Francisco.

ROBERT E. OLIVER
Named to college board

THREE ASPIRANTS

He was one of three aspirants for the vacant board post who appeared before the other four trustees last night to state their qualifications. Also appearing were Francis B. Boone, Fairfax attorney with offices in San Rafael, and Alan Ewen of Mill Valley, assistant managing director of the Olympic Winter Games. All three were unsuccessful candidates for the same board in the May election this year.

Oliver was nominated by Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy and seconded by Kent O. Seymour for the position. George C. Washburn nominated Boone but there was no second.

The vote for Oliver was then unanimous.

TRIO PRAISED

Board members praised the qualifications and interest of all three aspirants.

The majority of the trustees noted that they were influenced not only by Oliver's qualifications but also by the opportunity to provide a wider base of representation on the college board by naming a San Rafael resident. The four other trustees are all residents of Tamalpais High School District.

Oliver had stressed his experience in budgeting, long-range planning and general administration, and his interest, as the father of four small children, in the welfare of the schools.

While the vote for Oliver was unanimous it was preceded by some spirited wrangling among the board members. Washburn and Mrs. Deedy, in particular, clashed on two issues:

1. The role that faculty mem-

Vista Point Throng Sees Fleet Arrival

A heavy blanket of fog lifted just in time today to provide Marin's south shore a "ringside" view of arrival of the U.S. 1st Fleet in San Francisco Bay.

Vista Point was jammed with watchers as the long parade of ships began to pass under the Golden Gate Bridge shortly after noon.

Earlier, the missile cruiser Helena, flagship of the fleet, slid in under the fog at 9:45 a.m. to anchor off the Marina near Alcatraz and serve as review ship for the 10-mile parade of two dozen fleet units.

The half hour parade was headed by the 51,000-ton carrier Midway, followed by the 33,000-ton carriers Hancock and Kearsage, the heavy cruiser Bremerton, 10 destroyers, three submarines and a variety of other ships.

The parade followed a dawn rendezvous in the Pacific preparatory to entry into the bay. As Vice Adm. Ruthven E. Libby's flagship Helena came to anchor a series of thundering salutes began.

Aboard the ships were 15,000 crewmen expected to invest $1,750,000 in entertainment and souvenirs during a three-day stay.

TO FLY AT HAMILTON

Nun Aims To Break Sound Barrier Here

A 65-year-old Roman Catholic nun hopes to break the sound barrier in an Air Force jet at Hamilton Air Force Base next month.

Sister Aquinas, science education supervisor for the Green Bay, Wis., archdiocese, said today she has been assured a chance to be co-pilot of a supersonic jet at Hamilton, United Press International reported from Green Bay.

Sister Aquinas is to leave for the West Coast Sunday — by plane, naturally—to conduct a two-week science workshop at University of San Francisco. She said she'll then receive a jet briefing at Hamilton before taking off in one of the jets there.

A spokesman for 4th Air Force at Hamilton said permission has been granted for Sister Aquinas, who is a licensed pilot, to check out as co-pilot of a supersonic jet.

The flying nun commented that American education needs to take some jet-speed steps too.

"There's too much conservatism in education," United Press International quoted her. "Educators are not alert enough to adapt curricula to the newer trends and needs of our country."

Buchignani Named San Anselmo's New Police Chief

Raymond R. Buchignani will be San Anselmo's new police chief.

City Manager Arthur W. Brewer today notified city council members he had decided to appoint Buchignani, who made the higher mark of two Hub City police sergeants on a state-conducted civil service examination for the chief's job.

Last night, the council certified by 3-1 vote (with Councilman Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. absent) the two-man eligibility list composed of Sergeants Buchignani and James Orr.

DISSENTING VOTE

Councilman Carmel H. Booth battled unsuccessfully to have Asst. Chief Sam N. Serio, who did not take the examination, considered for the job. She cast the dissenting vote on certifying the list.

Buchignani will become chief on retirement of veteran Donald T. Wood on Aug. 1.

"Serio disqualified himself for the post when he refused to take the examination," said Councilman William Franchini in reply to Mrs. Booth's demand that the assistant chief be named to the post.

"If this were put to a vote of the people of San Anselmo, Sam Serio would be chief tomorrow," Mrs. Booth snapped.

ON SERIO'S BEHALF

Also speaking in Serio's behalf was William Sousa, fireman and president of the San Anselmo Civil Service Employees Assn.

Sousa cited praise of Serio by representatives of the Federal Bureau of Investigation whom he had encountered while attending conferences. Sousa said he felt Serio should be given serious consideration despite the examination results.

"It was common knowledge that Sam had been told that even if he did take the exam, he would not become chief," Sousa declared.

UNDER FIRE

Sousa's name had come before the council earlier when he was criticized by Councilman Carleton G. Little for remarks made after the defeat Tuesday of the proposal to remove department heads (including the police chief) from civil service protection.

Little objected to Sousa's declaring city employees are

County's Budget Gets Final Nod

Supervisors Approve $11.8 Million Figure

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday afternoon gave its final blessing to the 1959-60 budget.

The board approved the budget by a 3-1 vote, with Supervisor William D. Fusselman voting against it. Fusselman is opposed to inclusion of funds for the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed civic center. Supervisor James A. Marshall was absent.

The final budget figure is $11,822,406.59, and the final budget figure for the library is $250,856. The library figures concerns only the taxpayers living in areas of the county served by the county library. Those taxpayers will pay a levy of 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation for library service.

BUDGET REVISION

Yesterday's action followed revision of the budget by the county auditor's department to make it consistent with changes the supervisors made during consideration of the preliminary budget and public hearings.

The board wound up public hearings last Saturday, and heard an announcement by Deputy Auditor Michael Mitchell that the tax rate for the 1959-60 fiscal year will drop from last year's rate of $2.30 per $100 assessed valuation.

He made the same prediction yesterday, but said the actual amount would not be known until all figures on assessed valuation are available. He would not venture a guess on the rate. He said the supervisors probably will set a tax rate on or before Aug. 20, more than a month hence.

OTHER ACTION

The board yesterday took time out for passage of the budget during an afternoon of hearing applications for assessment adjustments.

The board last week dumped requests from some county departments for salary raises that would have been as high as 25 per cent for some individuals. It approved a revised salary setup which gives all employees about a 5 per cent increase.

In broad terms, these are the final figures on the budget:

Salaries and wages, $3,533,278; maintenance and operation, $4,461,610.59; capital outlay for equipment, $96,819; and $2,147,000 (civic center) site acquisition and building construction. (Comparable figures for the county library are: $82,908; $66,900; $1,048 and $200,000.

Victim's Dad Asks Tahoe Safety Steps

A grief-stricken Sausalito father, whose only son vanished mysteriously in the dark depths of Lake Tahoe, appealed today for stronger rescue facilities which might prevent another such tragedy.

The appeal came from retired Army Col. Del W. Ehrhardt of 205 Fourth street, Sausalito. His son, John 28, apparently drowned in the lake last Saturday after being thrown from his power boat.

TOSSED OVERBOARD?

An open hatch on the drifting boat indicated Ehrhardt may have been tossed overboard by a sudden wave while working on the motor, Associated Press reported from Stateline, Nev.

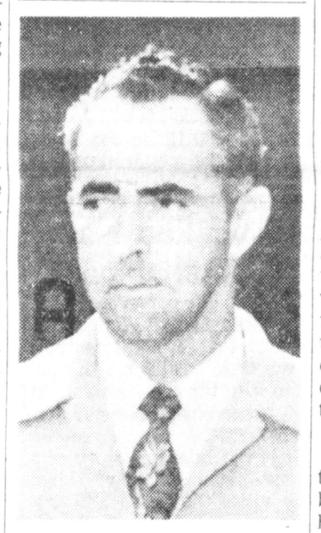
A life preserver seat cushion found floating a mile and a half from the boat—its seams torn and its arm straps loose—gave mute evidence that Ehrhardt did not drown immediately.

In a long letter to congressional and military leaders and to state and local officials, Colonel Ehrhardt declared he was "shockingly amazed" at the lack of safety on the mountain lake straddling the California-Nevada border.

SINGLE BOAT

He said the Coast Guard auxiliary's rescue facilities at Tahoe are limited to a single 40-foot boat, which was out of commission with a mechanical breakdown at the start of the search for his son.

A small dory with an outboard motor was being used for the search when he arrived, said the colonel.



DARYL A. HOPKINS

Mill Valley Principal To Be Hollis Aide

Daryl A. Hopkins, principal of Mill Valley's Edna Maguire School since it opened in 1956, will become health coordinator and general consultant with the county school department Aug. 1, County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis announced today.

He fills the vacancy created several months ago by the resignation of Roy L. Davis.

Hopkins joined the Mill Valley district 12 years ago as an eighth grade teacher at Park School. He became principal of Alto School when it opened, and of Tamalpais Valley School when it opened a few years later. He then opened the new Edna Maguire School in September, 1956.

Until January of this year, he was commanding officer of the 14th Rifle Company, Marine Corps Reserve. He is now on inactive status with the Marine Corps Reserve.

Hopkins and his wife, Irene, live at 642 Galerita way, Santa Venetia.

San Anselmo Flier Missing; Crash Feared

Friends of a missing San Anselmo flier fear he may have been involved in an airplane crackup somewhere between here and Reno.

The missing pilot is Larry Hamilton, 29, an architectural engineer, who lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brandt, at 24 Hampton avenue.

Mrs. Dorothy Kehoe of San Francisco, a friend of Mrs. Brandt, said Larry had a few more hours of night flying to do, and she thinks he took a plane out of some airport to head for Reno. The family has called all neighboring airports, but none of them reported a plane missing.

Mrs. Kehoe said they have not found the car in which Hamilton left Wednesday night. It is a 1955 Cadillac convertible, light green in color.

Mrs. Kehoe said Hamilton usually flew out of Santa Rosa, but he did not discuss flying with the family because his mother was strongly against it.

"All we know is that he took his equipment with him and nothing has been heard of him yet," Mrs. Kehoe said.

Hamilton, a bachelor, works for his father in San Francisco.

replied. The 70 per cent applies to those 500 who returned the questionnaire.

Schryver lashed out at the opposition group for "misleading and irresponsible statements."

"I say that the bond election is not being 'shoved down anybody's throat'. It is the natural outcome of a two-year study and many public meetings on the subject," he said.

Persons who attended the organizational opposition meeting at Mrs. Wills' home complained that results of the survey had never been made public. Namle said they were published, but perhaps not in detail, in the Terra Linda News, a community newspaper.

"The city of San Rafael has not announced a park and recreation program for Terra Linda valley," Schryver said, "and, in fact, has not even secured land for this purpose. The high school has not announced or even secured funds to install any facilities other than classrooms and a gymnasium. The City of San Rafael, in the opinion of my committee, is not an outstanding example of a park and recreation area and does not presently nor in the foreseeable future have adequate parks and recreation facilities."

At the Wills meeting, San Rafael City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said a swimming pool would probably be available at the new high school in two or three years. He also said that the land now set aside for recreational purposes could be taken over by the city and developed.

Preliminary plans to be presented Tuesday are those by the architectural firms of Royston, Hanamoto and Mayes, and Malone and Hooper, both of San Francisco. The Royston firm has prepared the site plan, and the other firm plans for the development of indoor facilities.

Planned are meeting rooms, tennis courts, a swimming pool, a multi-purpose slab, a patio and a kitchen.

Hunter Safety Class Tomorrow

A special hunter safety training course for Marin County hunters under 16 years of age will be held tomorrow at the police pistol range in San Rafael.

The four-hour class, 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., is sponsored by the Sheriff's Junior Rifle Club. Youngsters under 16 must pass this course to qualify for a California hunting license. Deer season starts July 25.

A registration fee of $1 will be charged.

89 More Dogs Get Shots At Fairfax

Eighty-nine dogs were vaccinated for rabies last night at the Fairfax Firehouse, in the county health department's sixth in a series of 10 clinics.

The department said that brings the total of pets vaccinated to 691.

The next clinic will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday at the Kent School in Kentfield.

College Board Pares Budget

Marin Junior College District trustees last night approved a preliminary budget whittled down by $13,000 from its former figure and changed the date for public hearing on it from Aug. 3 to Aug. 6.

The board reduced the budget total from $1,157,893 to $1,146,881 by deletion of several items.

Bids for lighting of the college athletic field are to be opened by president Ward H. Austin on the afternoon of Aug. 6 and presented to the board at its meeting at 8 p.m. on that date which will also be the budget hearing.

Strongly urging consideration of Serio was a letter from Miss E. H. Tompkins, longtime San Anselmo resident. Recommending the selection of Buchignani was a letter from attorney Robert Praetzel.

Sergeant Buchignani has served on the San Anselmo police force seven years and four months, and previously spent six months on the San Francisco force.

He was born in San Francisco and moved to Marin County when 12 years old, attending Fairfax School and Tamalpais High School. He also attended St. Mary's College briefly.

Before becoming a policeman, Buchignani spent six years in the Army. He served three years in the South Pacific during World War II as a master sergeant of infantry, and has the purple heart for wounds received in fighting in the Philippines.

He and his wife, Helen, and their three children, Diane, 12; Raymond (Rocky) 9, and Nancy, 7, live at 100 Ridge road, San Anselmo. The children attend Brookside School.

bers should play in school board elections.

2. Whether there has existed a policy or practice of spreading board memberships as widely as possible geographically.

The first issue arose while Washburn was questioning Oliver and asked him if he had run in the election as the candidate of the college's faculty association.

Oliver said he had no formal endorsement of the association but was proud that many of the teachers had decided "on their own" to support his candidacy.

Washburn then said he had been told by a friend that during the campaign Oliver had said that Ward H. Austin, College of Marin president, favored his candidacy.

DENIES STATEMENT

Oliver denied making any such statement. "I believe I did say that Mr. Austin had told me he felt San Rafael should be represented on the board," he said. "But I did not say that he supported me as a candidate. There has been a misunderstanding."

Mrs. Deedy objected to Washburn's questioning of Oliver concerning his faculty supporters.

"People in the employment of the college should not feel in any way restrained from exercising their rights as American citizens," she declared. "They have every right to participate in our elections and our campaigns, and to work for the betterment of our schools." Rupert E. Kempf, board president, agreed.

But Washburn said: "It seems to me that when the faculty promotes a candidate, that candidate is coming in here to represent the faculty and a conflict of interest results. Members of this board should be impartial and represent the taxpayers only."

Oliver replied that he had made no commitments to his teacher supporters other than to work for the betterment of the college.

Mrs. Deedy said there had long existed "an unwritten gentlemen's agreement that there would be representation from the San Rafael district on this board."

Seymour, in seconding Oliver's nomination, said he, too, felt that it had been past practice to spread representation on the board.

But Washburn said no such policy had ever been discussed by the board during his tenure and added: "I can't see why where a man sleeps is in any way a qualification for a school board. We are all residents and taxpayers of the district, regardless of the community we live in."

The new trustee was born in Cleveland, Ohio, and was graduated from University of Pennsylvania with a bachelor of science degree in economics. He served in the Army from 1942 to 1946, as a lieutenant in the finance department, and has been employed by Columbia-Geneva Steel since his discharge, as market analyst and manager of the commercial research department. He is a past president of Los Ranchitos Improvement Assn.

Children of Oliver and his wife, Mary Gertrude, range in age from 3 to 12 years.

Death Takes San Rafael Man At 90

Charles W. Goodwin, 90, a resident of San Rafael since 1906, died here yesterday. He had been living with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hollis of 1756 Lincoln avenue, and had been in retirement since about 1951.

He was born in Windsor, Canada, March 2, 1869. When he was still a small boy his parents took him to Alpina, Mich., and in 1890 he moved to Healdsburg.

Between 1906 and 1933 he worked with the bridge and buildings department of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad. Then he became superintendent of the Marin detention home where he was helped by his late wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Goodwin. After nine years he began work for the county farm where he continued until retirement.

Survivors include his daughter, Mrs. Ruth Hollis, and two grandchildren.

He was a member of the Knights of Pythias, Muir Lodge 123 and charter member of Tamalpais Temple 129, Pythian Sisters.

Services will be at 10 a.m. Monday at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael, with burial in Oakmont Cemetery, Healdsburg.

Find Tiburon Woman Dead

Lillian Marie McDonogh, 64-year-old Tiburon widow, was found dead on the floor of her garage yesterday morning, her face about a foot away from the exhaust pipe of her car, the motor of which was running.

Her son, Milton Samuel McDonogh, a tugboat captain, who lived with his mother, returned from work about 9 a.m. and found the body. The home is at 2330 Paradise drive, Tiburon.

At the request of relatives of the dead woman, Undersheriff Eugene Meyer issued orders to hush up the account of the death. Sheriff's investigators and officials of the coroner's office said they had been asked by Meyer not to release information on the finding of the body. The report of the suicide was not released until this morning.

Meyer was away from his office this morning and could not be reached for comment on why the information was withheld, and whether similar information is withheld on other cases.

The undersheriff sent four deputies to investigate the death. They included Chief Criminal Deputy Ellis Seibert, Inspector Guido Battaglia, Identification Chief Earl Cummesky and Deputy Arthur Leal.

The victim was lying on a blanket on the garage floor with her face toward the exhaust pipe.

A note on the bedroom dresser, scribbled in pencil, read: "I committed this act. Lillian McDonogh."

A doctor in San Francisco said he had been treating Mrs. McDonogh since 1948. She had been despondent for some time. Her husband, the late Samuel McDonogh, owned a boat rental shop in Tiburon.

She is also survived by another son, Gereau Francis McDonogh of 2311 Mar East, Tiburon.

Private funeral services are scheduled at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

STEEL UNION, INDUSTRY STAND FIRM IN STRIKE

Negotiations Static As Losses In Crippling Shutdown Mount

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Steel production loss mounted toward 100 million dollars today in the third day of the nationwide steel strike. No end to the crippling shutdown is in sight.

Many more millions in wages have been lost by 500,000 striking United Steelworkers, quietly manning picket lines at darkened mills.

Losses on both sides will grow steadily. The negotiations front is static.

There's little optimism on the part of strikers, the steel industry or the government that the contract stalemate can be resolved quickly. Neither the industry nor the union has given any sign of retreating from its stand.

Federal mediation efforts in the dispute will be renewed in New York Monday.

David J. McDonald, president of the Steelworkers, told pickets at the Bethlehem Steel Corp. plant in Bethlehem, Pa.: "We meet with the government on Monday, but I don't know whether it will do any good."

The strike at Tuesday midnight shut off nearly 90 per cent of the country's steelmaking capacity, representing about 300,000 tons of ingot steel daily.

Weekly production loss to the industry is estimated at 300 million dollars. The loss to strikers in wages is calculated at 70 million dollars a week.

In addition, allied industries such as coal and transportation have felt the strike keenly. About 25,000 workers have been idled due to business cutbacks.

McDonald journeyed to Bethlehem from New York as part of a union campaign to boost striker morale. Howard R. Hague, USW vice president, was touring the Chicago area while I. W. Abel, secretary-treasurer, was in the Pittsburgh.

The union president told a cheering throng: "Industry never wanted a contract. It never really made us an offer. We did not want to strike. It was the steel industry itself that provoked the shutdown."

McDonald indicated he would return to New York today. R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, was in Pittsburgh.

Negotiations foundered on the union's demand for increased wages and improved fringe benefits, the industry's steadfast refusal to make any concessions that would raise labor costs.

Steelworkers had been averaging $3.10 an hour before the strike.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) and Democratic Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts urged President Eisenhower to appoint a government fact-finding board to make recommendations for settling the strike.

FIRM PROVIDES STRIKE CHIEF WITH COMFORTS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The chairman of the striking United Steelworkers Union local eased back into a U.S. Steel Co. chair and plopped his feet on a company desk in an air-conditioned company office.

He was sitting in a portable field office the company provided for the pickets outside its Maywood plant yesterday. The company even ran in special water and power lines.

Robert Paige, the local chairman, and Otto Oster, plant superintendent, even were seen to smile at each other—on opposite sides of the high wire fence surrounding the plant. Said Paige: "We slit each other's throats gently around here."

IDLE — Half-million striking United Steelworkers, plus an estimated 25,000 in allied industries, chiefly coal, rail and Great Lakes iron ore shipping.

NEGOTIATIONS — No joint bargaining sessions scheduled. Federal mediation officials plan separate talks with both sides in New York Monday.

PICKET FRONT—Quiet and orderly. Union president David J. McDonald toured Bethlehem, Pa., steel center yesterday. Other union officials were in Chicago and Pittsburgh areas.

OUTSIDE DEVELOPMENTS —Sen. Stuart Symington and Massachusetts Gov. Foster Furcolo proposed government fact-finding.

PRODUCTION LOSSES—Steel production loss mounted toward 100-million-dollar mark in third day of shutdown.

ISSUES — Union wants increased wages and fringe benefits. Industry resists any rise in labor costs.

At the start of 1959, 4,925,000 persons were covered by employer-employee pension plans in the United States.

'HOT LEAD'

Long Shouts Threats At Newsmen

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—Louisiana's Gov. Earl Long had to be restrained from starting a fight in a Mexican cafe early today.

He spouted a tirade of curses and threatened to shoot newsmen following him.

His henchmen threatened a brawl in the streets of Juarez, Mexico, just across the Rio Grande from El Paso, if the governor wasn't left alone.

LIES DOWN IN CAR

At one time, Long lay on the floorboards of his car to keep from being photographed as he and his party ducked back and forth across the border trying to ditch reporters.

"I'm going to shoot them --- ---- ---- I'm going to shoot them." Long screamed in the Cafe Charmont, a plush Mexican nightspot.

The display of violent temper by the 63-year-old mentally troubled governor started at the Hotel Hilton in El Paso shortly after 1 a.m. as he and his party left for Juarez.

'HOT LEAD'

"Why can't you leave me alone?" Long shouted. "Do you boys know what hot lead is? I've got plenty of it and I know how to use it. I'll shoot the lot of you."

But a car of photographers followed the governor's party to Juarez and tried to take pictures as he went into the cafe. Long called them obscene names.

The price of coal per ton at the mine is approximately the same today as it was in 1948.

College Trustees To Review Adult Education Setup

Marin Junior College District trustees will meet next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the college with Samuel N. LeCount, head of the College of Marin adult education department, to review adult education programs and policies.

At that time the trustees will consider new personnel policies and a number of proposed new courses for the fall term as suggested by LeCount.

The board will also review its approval last week for start of a Mill Valley parent education-cooperative nursery school class with 20 students.

Board president Rupert E. Kempf noted last night that the action was contrary to past district practice of requiring a minimum enrollment of 29 before permitting such classes to start. He said he felt the trustees would be wise to "set up a standard and then stick by it so that everyone will know where we are going."

LeCount argued that provision should be made for exceptional circumstances. He said parent education classes customarily pick up additional students after they are under way.

Trustees approved a schedule of adult education classes for the 1959 fall quarter (not including the proposed new courses) and authorized a class in landscape design.

The board decided not to take immediate advantage of new state legislation authorizing junior college to charge out-of-state students a tuition of up to $180 a year. The matter will be considered again in a few months.

College president Ward H. Austin said the school now has pending 24 applications from out-of-state students for admission this fall. One result of a tuition, he said, would probably be that many of those prospective students would be unable to attend the college.

Kempf said he would like to know what other California junior colleges plan to do in the matter before taking action.

Trustee George C. Washburn disagreed. "I think we should do our own thinking in these matters, and not always be looking for some other district to follow," he said.

But the board majority decided that further study is needed before action can be taken on the tuition proposal.

The board awarded to Lee-Mac Paving Co. of Corte Madera the contract for some street work and seal coating of parking lots on the campus. Bidding was on a unit basis.

Costs to the district will be approximately $2,275 for the construction of a road west of the gymnasium and seal coating of the parking lot and paths around the gym; $850 for the seal coating of the parking lot near the new library addition and $2,000 for the repair of North road.

BATS IN YOUR ATTIC? HERE'S ACTION TO TAKE

If you have bats in your attic, you can drive them out with naphthalene flakes or kill them with a DDT solution, County Agricultural Commissioner Thomas W. Peryam said today.

One to five pounds of naphthalene flakes spread in and around attics will not kill the bats but will drive them out, Peryam said. This is the preventige method.

The other is a solution of one cup of 50 per cent wettable DDT to a gallon of water. This should be sprayed liberally among the rafters. In about one or two weeks, the bats will die.

Bats are being eyed with new alarm because three of them in San Rafael were found to be rabid in recent weeks.

Board Plans To Revise Rules For College Help

Marin Junior College District trustees decided last night that a proposed set of rules for non-teaching employees of College of Marin needs revision before adoption.

The decision to delay action on regulations compiled by Rupert E. Kempf, board president, was made after Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy said she felt some of them were more applicable to industry than to a college.

Kempf agreed further study should be given some of the proposals.

The proposed rules were listed in three categories.

The first category called for immediate discharge for such offenses as the intentional punching of the time clock of another employee, having a time clock punched by another, falsification of employment application, concealing defective work, stealing, misuse or removal of blueprints or confidential records, gambling on school property, sale or distribution of narcotics on school property, making of false or malicious statements concerning school personnel, conviction for a crime involving a sentence of 30 days or longer, and violation of rules of common decency or morality.

The second category called for a disciplinary layoff of three days or final written warning on the first offense, immediate discharge on the second offense for these offenses: Violation of safety rules involving negligence or willful disregard for human safety or college property, insubordination, use of vulgar or abusive language, unauthorized soliciting on school property, sleeping during working hours, posting notices on school property without approval, reporting for work drunk or with a hangover, possession of liquor on school property, and defacing of school notices.

For the third classification, penalties would include a reprimand on first violation, three-day layoff or written warning on the second offense, and discharge for the third violation.

This would include absence from work, unexcused by supervisor, habitual tardiness, leaving work before the end of a shift, leaving work area without permission, violation of safety rules not resulting in accidents, failure to promptly report an accident or injury, tampering with college property, refusal without cause to give testimony about an accident, neglect of work including negligent operation of equipment, entering restricted area without proper authorization, failure to work full shift, and failure to punch time clock at beginning or end of shift.

College president Ward H. Austin endorsed the proposed rules and said arrangements are being made for a time clock for the buildings and grounds personnel.

Mrs. Deedy said she felt the purpose of the rules to be excellent, but believes some of the proposals "are not intended for the kind of people we have working for us here at the college."

Others, she added, might be difficult to enforce. She pointed to the provision that employees are not to leave a work area without permission as an example.

Hike In Jobless Pay Bill Signed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has signed into law a bill increasing state unemployment insurance disability benefits from $50 to $65 a week.

The law is the fourth piece of social legislation signed by the governor. The others increased unemployment insurance from $40 to $55 a week, increased workmen's compensation from $50 to $65 a week, and legalized supplemental unemployment insurance benefits.

The unemployment disability bill will become effective Jan. 1. It was introduced by Assemblymen Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) and Phillip Burton (D-San Francisco).

Judge's Order Youth Attend Mass Rapped

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The American Civil Liberties Union today protested a municipal court judge's order that a youth attend church services as a condition of probation.

But Judge Andrew J. Eyman brushed aside the protest over the case of William J. Korpa, who pleaded guilty to a battery charge stemming from a teenagers street brawl. The youth had a juvenile court record.

"No citizen can be required to attend or join a church," said Ernest Besig, ACLU executive director.

Judge Eyman replied: "If this boy or any defendant appearing before me can be rehabilitated through religious ideals, that's better than jail. I've done this before, and I will continue this policy."

He had sentenced Korpa (of 417 Sixth avenue) to two years probation on condition that during the period he would not drink "and attend mass every Sunday."

War I Navy Deserter Surrenders

OAKLAND (AP) — Lewis E. Clayburg, 72, has gone without Social Security payments for seven years, he hold the Federal Bureau of Investigation yesterday, because he deserted the Navy in World War I and was afraid to collect payments under a false name.

Clayburg walked into the Navy recruiting station Wednesday, the FBI said, and surrendered as a deserter because "I want to get it off my chest."

Once a ship's carpenter and now a farm and odd job worker, Clayburg said he went on a drinking spree Aug. 7, 1917, from his post at Bremerton, Wash., Navy base, "woke up in Oregon" and decided not to go back.

The FBI said a check with Washington, D. C., failed to turn up any "wanted" status for Clayburg.

CARAT CROP PROVES TOUGH TO HARVEST

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Three men crawled on their hands and knees for five hours in a tomato patch searching vainly for $2,000 in carats.

They found only battered swizzle sticks and Hawaiian leis — leftovers from a boat club party where Mrs. Virginia Craigie lost two diamond rings, apparently in the straw that covered the dance floor.

Musician John Bayer hauled away the straw for mulch in his tomato patch but explained, "I didn't know what I was asking for. First thing I knew Mrs. Craigie was out here asking to look through the straw."

She searched and failed. Then insurance adjustor William Hales hired three men to hunt for the carats in the straw. They planned to look again today.

James Stewart Given Promotion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Armed Services Committee yesterday approved the long-delayed nomination of movie star James Stewart to be a brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve.

Approval came only after the Pentagon changed his mobilization assignment to a desk job.

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), said the committee was unanimous in approving the reserve promotion after it was disclosed that the World War II bomber pilot would be assigned to public relations, in any mobilization emergency, rather than to the Strategic Air Command's 15th Air Force as chief of staff.

Singer Billie Holiday Dies In N. Y. Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Billie Holiday died today in a city hospital bed — a wasted shadow of the once great blues singer who packed night clubs from coast to coast.

Bouts with narcotics and liquor had cracked her mellow style, and she had been in eclipse in recent years.

The Negro entertainer — called "Lady Day" — died in Metropolitan Hospital. Her husband, Louis McKay, was at her bedside.

The immediate cause of death was given as congestion of the lungs complicated by heart failure.

Miss Holiday, 44, was taken to the hospital unconscious May 31 after she collapsed in her apartment.

When death came, she was under arrest — charged with possession of a pack of heroin in her bed.

In better days Miss Holiday had appeared with Benny Goodman and Louis Armstrong. Among her big song hits were "Them There Eyes," "Strange Fruit," and "I Cover the Waterfront."

Miss Holiday was born Eleanora Fagan in Baltimore April 7, 1915.

She started smoking marijuana at the age of 14. By the time she was 25 — in 1940— she was on heroin. It was on and off narcotics after that.

She got her name Billie through her idolization of Billie Dove, the old-time movie star. She adopted her first name and picked up the Holiday from a branch of her own family.

Billie Holiday married twice, the first time to her manager, Jimmie Monroe.

Winds Feared At Fire Scene

KERNVILLE (UPI) —Extreme turbulent wind conditions are predicted today as more than 900 firefighters battle a Sequoia National Forest blaze which has burned for seven days.

More than 6,000 acres have been blackened. Forest supervisor Eldon W. Ball estimates the fire is about 80 per cent controlled.

Forest officials said conditions are generally good except on the northern edge of the fire in the Tobias Creek area where no major front has been established. Efforts in this region are hampered by the extremely steep and rocky terrain.

UNCLE SAM'S AIR DEFENSE WITH ATOMIC PUNCH

This lineup of power-packed defenders, shown at McGuire Air Force Base, N. J., is guarding U. S. shores these days against any sneak attack. At left foreground is the newest addition to the "team," Convair's F106A Delta Dart. Next to the Dart is a Genie (MB1) atomic air-to-air rocket with which the F106A can be equipped. Beside the Genie is a super Falcon air-to-air missile. An in the background are still more air defense weapons including, from left, the F102 Delta Dagger, Nike Hercules missile and F104 Starfighter. Bargain Days Draw Throng To Hub City

San Anselmo Bargain Days yesterday drew so many people into town that merchants couldn't leave their stores, hence no quorum for the scheduled weekly meeting of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce.

"Customers certainly came in for those bargains," commented George G. Washburn, chamber secretary. "We're having a three-day sale including today and tomorrow. So we just skipped this week's meeting but there will be one next Thursday."

Winning tickets in the Bargain Days give-away of two television sets and two transistor radios will be drawn at 11 a.m. Monday on the lawn of the San Anselmo City Hall, announced Homer Rickards, sale chairman. All 43 participating merchants are giving away tickets, with no purchase necessary.

Ten numbers will be drawn for each prize and posted at both banks and the Ross Valley Savings and Loan Co. office, said Rickards. If the top number is not presented within five days, the second number will be declared winner and will be good for presentation within 24 hours, when the prize will go to the third number, and so on.

CITY MANAGER TO AUCTIONEER FOR SAUSALITO 'HOSS' SALE

If you're in the market for a swivel chair, a pair of water skis or a boat trailer without wheels, you can have your chance for a bargain purchase tomorrow at 11 a.m. when the City of Sausalito holds its regular "old hoss sale" in the city council chambers.

City Manager Donald A. Duerr will act as auctioneer.

The sale includes unclaimed property collected by the police department as well as surplus city property.

Included are eight bicycles, eight swivel chair, an office desk, some rattan chairs, water skis, baby strollers, boat trailer, auto parts and luggage.

Duerr said there is also a fur coat but he declined to attempt identification of the type of fur.

Everything goes to the highest bidder.

New Supertanker Wharf Dedicated By Port At L.A.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Port of Los Angeles yesterday dedicated the world's first protected supertanker terminal designed so that one man can handle the unloading of 35,000 barrels of crude oil an hour.

Harbor general manager Bernard J. Caughlin said that in the past the new giant tankers have had to remain at sea and have their cargo discharged through pontooned pipelines. The new concrete wharf is 960 feet long and the bay at the point is dredged to 46 feet.

The new terminal facilities include one 30-inch pipe from the tanker to tank farms. One man sitting at a control panel can control the flow of oil to the maximum of 35-thousand barrels an hour.

The facility is under a 30-year lease to the Union Oil Co. with a contract clause making it available to any company that desires to use it.

Tiburon District Asks More Hilarita Annexation Data

Tiburon Sanitary District directors in a special meeting last night decided they will require some figures on the costs of additional equipment necessary for including the Hilarita Housing Project in the district before its annexation can be considered.

The sanitary district directors met with the Marin County Housing Authority to discuss the proposal.

District engineers were instructed to get up cost figures for another meeting, planned within two weeks, said Robert A. Sterling, secretary.

The City of Belvedere has set a deadline of Oct. 1 for Hilarita to terminate its use of the Belvedere sewage facilities.

Castro Quitting As Cuba Minister

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro is quitting as prime minister, apparently to rally public support for his troubled regime. Cuban workers at once began strikes and parades to show they are behind the bearded revolutionary.

Castro arrived at the presidential palace at midmorning, apparently to present his resignation to President Manuel Urrutia. Radio stations said Castro will speak to the people tonight to explain his decision.

Groups of workers marched to the plaza of the presidential palace, shouting support for Castro and his revolution.

It was generally agreed in Havana that Castro still is the No. 1 man in Cuba and that his absence from office will be brief.

Reports circulated in business circles that differences had arisen between Castro and President Urrutia, installed by Castro.

Many were saying Urrutia will step out of the presidency and that Castro himself would take over the job. This was denied, however, in official circles.

Castro's decision to resign was announced today in Revolucion, newspaper of his 26th of July Movement and confirmed by Raul Castro, his brother and heir-apparent.

Associates said Castro had been upset by recent developments, including the resignation and flight of his air force commander, Maj. Pedro Luiz Diaz Lanz. Later Diaz told U.S. senators that Castro and others high in his government are Communists—a charge the Castro forces vigorously deny.

Castro also has been disturbed about evidence of opposition to him within Cuba. But close associates say these activities have been annoying rather than serious.

Castro took over as prime minister Feb. 17.

Latin America Arms Aid Limit Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees voted today to set a 67-million-dollar limit on military assistance to Latin America for the fiscal year that began July 1.

They took this tentative action as a compromise three and one-half billion-dollar foreign aid bill, tailored to meet most of President Eisenhower's requests, neared final approval.

LAST TOUCHES

The conferees met again today to put the finishing touches on a provision to shift military aid funds to the regular Defense Department budget for a two-year trial period.

This was at least a partial victory for the President, who had urged permanent authorizations for military assistance abroad starting with the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1960. The Senate had approved the plan, but it was not in the House bill.

SUBSTITUTE PLAN

The House conferees agreed to a substitute provision authorizing such appropriations for the years beginning July 1, 1960, and July 1, 1961. If approved by both houses, this would shift military assistance out of the foreign aid bill for two years and enable the President to go directly to congressional appropriations committees for financing it.

All yesterday's actions were tentative, and subject to change before final action is taken at tomorrow's session.

Bitter Battle Assured On Labor Control Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bitter unpredictable battle on the floor of the House was all but assured today over adoption of a labor-management controls bill.

The House Labor Committee, at a late night session, virtually completed action on a bill denounced by a Republican spokesman as Teamsters President James R. Hoffa's greatest victory. Faction-split Democrats disagreed on various provisions and on the bill's overall effectiveness.

In many respects, the bill met most basic objections of organized labor and represented a substantial revision of the Senate-passed version.

Rep. Carroll D. Kearns of Pennsylvania, senior committee Republican, told reporters "Jimmy Hoffa has won his greatest victory."

"The bill tentatively agreed on by the House Labor Committee fails to correct the racketeering that has been revealed" by the Senate Labor-Management Committee investigation of the Teamsters and other labor unions, Kearns said.

"In fact," he said, "it exempts nearly 70 per cent of the nation's unions from even reporting their activities."

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market widened its losses moderately late this afternoon as steels, motors and rails declined. Trading was slow.

Volume for the day was estimated at 2,700,000 shares compared with 3,170,000 yesterday.

Leading issues were off from fractions to a point mostly.

An assortment of special situations and trading favorites posted gains.

Volume slackened and it was apparent the price softness was due more to a drying up of bids rather than to selling pressure.

The market was mixed at the start then made a progressive show of weakness.

Losses of about a point were taken by U.S. Steel, Republic Steel, Lukens and Jones and Laughlin.

Southern Pacific dropped about a point. More moderate losses were shown by New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio and Southern Railway.

Koreans Die In Stampede

SEOUL (UPI)—A sudden rainstorm sent thousands of Koreans fighting their way out of a stadium in Pusan tonight in a death-filled stampede.

Orieng Press said in a dispatch from the southern port city that 47 bodies had been counted. Several hundred others were reported injured. Orient Press said the dead were crushed and trampled to death.

Orient Press said about 50,000 persons had gathered in Pusan Stadium to watch a special "free citizens" show sponsored by the Kukje Shinbo newspaper of Pusan. Heavy rain brought on by Typhoon Billie started to fall and the crowd began to flee, the agency said.

Many died as a frantic struggle developed at the narrow entrance gate, the agency said.

ONLY BIG FOUR EXPECTED

Geneva Looms As Summit Site

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

GENEVA (AP) — There seems to be a tacit understanding with the Soviets that the East-West summit conference—if it is arranged—will be held in Geneva.

Western diplomats think it will come soon after the wind-up of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's Scandinavian tour Aug. 30.

The United States, Britain and France are reported taking it for granted that the conference will be confined to the Big Four powers.

East and West German delegates almost certainly will be along to serve as "advisers" in any talks on Berlin and the wider problems of a German peace settlement.

The Western Allies seem sure that the Soviet Union does not intend to press overly hard for the admission of Poland and Czechoslovakia as full participants at the summit talks. If they are right, the prospects are dim that such nations as Italy and Yugoslavia will be invited.

Allies authorities think the conference will work on these items:

1. The formal conclusion of a temporary East-West agreement on Berlin.

2. Means of reviving long-stalled disarmament negotiations within the framework of the United Nations.

3. German reunification, the German peace treaty and measures to consolidate the security of Europe, including steps to insure against surprise attack.

4. Sideline talks by the world's three nuclear powers —the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union—on a pact to suspend the testing of nuclear weapons.

5. Fixing of a date and possibly a place for another foreign ministers' conference and another summit conference.

All the Allied powers are agreed that no summit talks can be arranged until the Soviets agree in clear-cut terms to respect existing arrangements and Western rights in Berlin for a period of freeze on the dispute over that city's future.

Big Four Foreign Ministers Still Fail To Make Progress At Geneva

GENEVA (AP) — The foreign ministers of the Soviet Union and the Western powers failed today to make any progress in narrowing their differences over a possible Berlin truce agreement.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville of France and Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko debated the terms of a Berlin standstill deal in a three-hour luncheon meeting at Couve de Murville's villa.

The session was covered by a secrecy agreement and Western officials would say afterward only that no progress was achieved.

Herter, Lloyd and Couve de Murville were understood to have made a new effort at today's meeting to get Gromyko to break the link between the proposal for an 18-month truce in the Berlin crisis and his proposal for an all-German committee to negotiate on German reunification and a peace treaty. Apparently they failed again, as they had in public sessions earlier this week.

Yesterday's meeting produced some evidence that the West may find it possible in the end to get an agreement to shelve the Soviet threat to Berlin for several years.

The Western ministers believe that progress toward agreement can be achieved only in secret sessions, away from the propaganda spotlight.

On Monday, Gromyko said he would not agree to secret meetings unless the delegations from East and West Germany were present.

Gromyka obviously was making a grandstand bid for recognition of the Communist East German regime.

Nikita Credits Communism With Maintaining Peace

STETTIN, Poland (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev flew today to this Baltic port city in northwest Poland where Catherine the Great of Russia was born.

Khrushchev was accompanied by Polish Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka as he began the fourth day of his state visit to Poland.

At Katowice last night, Khrushchev credited communism with maintaining peace in the non-Communist world.

"If the Socialist (Communist) camp did not exist, the capitalist countries would fight among themselves," he said.

Khrushchev gave a 10-minute speech that climaxed the third day of his tour of Poland.

He warned West Germany that Russia could "repeat" its defeat of Germany if it became necessary.

"There is a reactionary voice in West Germany," he said. "Hitler started it but we gave him a lesson. Adenauer has forgotten the lesson given to Hitler, but it can be repeated again."

Nevertheless he reiterated his statement that the Soviet Union does not want war.

There are some 40,000 insurance agents in Russia, but they all work for the same government-owned company, Gosstrakh.

Here's Weekend's Marin Film Fare

By LESLIE DARD

In brief, here's what you can see at Marin's film houses this weekend:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

James Michener's little book of short stories, "South Pacific," has come a long way, culminating in a six-million-dollar color epic which is now on the screen of the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo.

Directed by Joshua Logan, it is a lavishly made, engaging show which retains all the joy, sorrow and comedy of the stage version.

Only the most diehard fans of the Mary Martin-Ezio Pinza team will complain about Hollywood's choices: Mitzi Gaynor and Rossano Brazzi.

In the subsidiary story, John Kerr plays the young Marine hero and Frances Nuyen is his Polynesian beauty.

The comedy contingent is headed by Ray Walston. Juanita Hall, from the original cast, re-creates Bloody Mary.

One of the most striking things about this film is its use of color. Careful differentiations have been made between plot sequences, which were filmed in normal color, and the musical segments, which were made in a kind of misty, dream-like kaleidescope of changing hues.

The Rodgers and Hammerstein songs are as delightful as ever.

RAFAEL THEATER

In the spring of 1863, a group of Union cavalrymen made an audacious raid into the heart of Confederate territory, severing the lines carrying supplies to Vicksburg and thus materially shortening the Civil War, perhaps even changing its course.

It is this story which is related, with embellishments, in "The Horse Soldiers" (color), starring John Wayne and William Holden. It starts Sunday.

Wayne portrays Colonel Marlowe and Holden is his surgeon major, sent along to minister to the wounded. Constance Towers plays a rebel beauty who overhears Marlowe's plan and is dragged along for the entire 16 days of the raid.

Director John Ford has made of "The Horse Soldiers" an exciting, if familiar, war story which tingles with action. Still, the script does not pretend that war is glorious, and it establishes that both sides must pay a heavy price.

NOVATO AND SEQUOIA THEATERS

Walt Disney's "Sleeping Beauty" (in color and Technirama 70 process) is a full-length animation of the elaborate Charles Perrault version of the fairy tale. It opens at both of these theaters Sunday.

Disney has reincarnated the precious blonde lass who served him so well in "Snow White" to be his beauty. The three good fairies are kind and pretty little butterballs, with droll and sprightly magic in their wands.

Disney's songs and background music are adapted from Tchaikovsky's "Sleeping Beauty" ballet and the result, along with the story, is the whimsical animated magic parents and children have always liked.

MARIN MOTOR MOVIES AND FAIRFAX THEATER

"Alias Jesse James" offers Bob Hope in one of the funnier vehicles he's had in recent years. It's now showing at these two theaters.

In this comedy (color), he plays an insurance salesman who unwittingly sells a policy to Jesse James and then is ordered to go West—either to invalidate the policy or preserve the life of the outlaw.

In short: An evening with Bob Hope; anything for a gag.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Alfred Hitchcock has substituted mental menace for physical peril in "Vertigo" (color), co-featured with "Houseboat," a comedy starring Cary Grant and Sophia Loren.

Jimmy Stewart portrays a detective who must quit the San Francisco force because of his fear of height. Then an old chum with lots of dough hires Jimmy to shadow his wife (Kim Novak) who, he says, has suicidal tendencies.

It would be unfair to reveal any details of the plot, which is essentially a story within a story.

"Vertigo" is particularly noteworthy for its unusual camera techniques, which heighten the mood of the macabre.

LARK THEATER

"My Uncle," Oscar-winner as the best import of the past 12 months (in color), has been held over.

It stars Jacques Tati, the clown of "Mr. Hulot's Holiday," and his satire is keener than ever. This time around, Tati demonstrates the idiocy of modern gadgetry by contrasting our sometimes insane mechanized, electronic world with the gay, carefree life to be found in an old-fashioned Parisian suburb.

Tati's film is a succession of small bits which show a fairly limitless imagination and are almost always joyously funny. He is still the amiable blunderer of "Hulot's Holiday," creating havoc wherever he goes.

IN CAVALRY EPIC—John Wayne heads the cast of "The Horse Soldiers," a story of cavalry in the Civil War, which starts Sunday at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael.

Law College Names Engle 'Man Of Year'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — U.S. Sen. Clair Engle (D-Red Bluff) is the 1959 "Man of the Year" at University of California's Hastings College of Law, the college announced yesterday.

Engle was a member of the Hastings class of 1933.

FRENCH VIEW OF U.S.

This Film Has Everything —Almost None Of It True

By ANTHONY AUSTIN

PARIS (UPI) — It's the movie that has everything — and almost none of it true. It's definitely anti-American, but Americans who flock to it don't know whether to howl with rage or giggle at its absurdities.

The motorcycle mob of blank faced young hoodlums rips into the American town. Black leather jackets zero in on the hapless bookstore owner.

Slap! His eyeglasses fly from his hands. Crash! Cowboy boots grind his groping fingers into the floor.

"Brutality in America!" is the screaming message of the opening scene of the new French movie, "I'll Spit on Your Graves."

The scenes shift. In a cabin deep in Mississippi (after a lynching, of course) a poor white takes a pull on a bottle—imported Ballantine's Scotch—what else?

Meanwhile, back on Main street, tempers rise. The drugstore owner pulls his pistol from under the counter. Candles in empty bottles splutter in the night.

The hero, a light-skinned Negro passing for white, makes for the Canadian border with the white girl who loves him because he scowls.

Alas! Floodlights bare the fleeing pair and machine guns cut them down. Uncle Sam has the border watched.

Boris Vian, a Parisian Jacques-of-all-trades, who wrote the script was not limited in his descriptions of America, since he has never been there. He died three weeks ago of a heart attack while watching this movie version of his original novel, "J'irai Cracher sur vos Tombes."

The movie is the talk of the sidewalk cafes and American tourists flock to it for three reasons — to get mad, to giggle or to gulp at the sex scenes which would never be shown in an American movie.

American small town girls wear their Parisian dresses only to shed them at the drop of a stare. In an underwater kissing scene the girl lacks the top of her bikini.

New Setup For Kentfield Schools Eyed

Possibilities for reorganization of Kentfield School District will be outlined by Supt. Harold R. De Pue at a meeting of the Kentfield School Board at 7:45 p.m. Monday at the A. E. Kent School library.

Included in plans for 1960-61 will be organization as a separate independent operation and combination with adjacent districts, as well as unification of a portion of the Tamalpais High School District around Redwood High School.

Several future meetings will be devoted to these subjects in contemplation of full exploration before the end of the year.

Election will be held for offices of president, clerk, and choice of a board representative for the Marin County Committee on District Organization.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Jake, Alias 'French Doughnut,' Cheers 'Em At West End Villa

Happy expressions you see on the faces of Pete Ostaggi, Nola, Wilma and the others at West End Villa are there because of Jake, alias "The French Doughnut."

His real name is Jake Donat. Maybe it was meant to be Jacques but he prefers Jake or Frenchy, and he's the new chef. He makes everybody happy for two reasons. First, he's that way himself and it's catching. Also, he's a good cook and that's catching, too, among the customers.

Jake has dabbled in food from the time he was twelve when he helped his dad in a sausage factory. Once he discovered there were other things to eat beside sausage he set about learning to prepare them and got into such a delectable rut he's never been able to stir his way out.

He took to cheffing for the country clubs, had a couple of restaurants of his own in Oakland and Phoenix. Actually, he fits in with things at West End Villa like chicken saute with mushrooms, sole and tartar sauce, prime rib and horseradish.

His veal Parmesan is neat and customers come out to the kitchen to find out what he does to sweetbreads to make them taste that way. Besides the things on the menu he's added others—think of something and ask for it. Check on the apple and banana fritters, too.

Good wholesome food here, moderate prices and a splendid family restaurant.

RETURNING TONIGHT and continuing Fridays and Saturdays each week at Trader Horn's for dance and listenin' music are Frank Hagerty and Al Trobe. There's another fellow with them playing the drums but he's too modest to have his name mentioned — you'll recognize him.

Together they maye a trio and since they were all part of the old Fourmosts I guess for want of a better name you could call them the "Fourmosts —Minus One."

SWEPT SUDDENLY into managing the food department at the Ranch House in San Anselmo the first of this month, and what with Peggy taking off on a vacation, Don McLaughlin is just now getting organized with his new menu.

Accent is on the barbecued tasties he used to prepare at the Red Fox—chicken, spareribs, shortribs, char-broiled steaks and ham, and of course, prawns flavored with wine. Adjoining lounge supervised by Wes Martin himself can be tapped for cocktails and wines to go with your meal.

Additional menu attractions will be added from time to time, I expect, but Don is playing it cagey—trying out new recipes before putting them down for sure.

EVENING SHADOWS on Richardson Bay are a romantic backdrop for Zack's outdoor dockside tables. If I were an artist I'd like to paint them and I guess some Sausalitans go there just to daub at their palettes instead of their palates.

Waterfront gear stands out in bold relief against the last fading light in the sky. An inspirational sight except for one thing.

On a nearby jetty stands the tall boom of a crane with its suspended rope sling—looking for all the world like the grisly silhouette of a hangman's noose. Or have I been watching too many westerns lately?

TIBURON TOMMIE has concocted a drink called Mai Tai Near as I can make out it's his own variation on the theme of an old Polynesian love potion, made with rum, apricot liqueur and something else to give it potency.

I dunno—I'm just mentioning it in case you're interested. Don't blame the consequences on me. You're over 21, aren't you?

STRANDED in San Francisco and don't know where to eat? Make the experience a novel one and try the House of Lebanon on Geary between Grant and Stockton—a comparatively new dinery of three months standing, specializing in authentic Arabic cuisine. Tell Kay and John Amato you're from Marin county. They are, too, and will make you feel at home.

House of Lebanon is a beautiful little spot, decked out in black and gold, oriental design. Food is carefullyESCSESCSSS pictures and lots of atmosphere. Food is carefully prepared, prices are right and there's a cocktail lounge.

Kay and John have lived in San Rafael about three years, decided to team up with Nela and Stubby Salanitro (Nela is from Lebanon) and Pete Arnes to give dining out the true Arabic touch. Menu also includes French dishes but you should try some of the house specialties.

Open for lunches from 11:30 a.m. (a different lunch menu every day) and for dinners from 5 p.m. Closed on Sundays except for special parties. Reservations recommended whenever possible.

Fighting Mary's Days Numbered

OAKLAND (AP) — The scrapper's torch is going to deal "the fighting Mary" the death blow the Japanese never could.

In two or three weeks five tugs will haul the 31,500-ton battleship Maryland down from Bremerton, Wash., to Oakland to be reduced to steel scrap by the Learner Co.

Eight months will be required to cut up the old sea warrior that survived attack at Pearl Harbor and carried the war to the shores of Okinawa.

The Maryland, built in 1920, was taken out of service in April, 1947.

Kuchel To Seek Pt. Reyes Park Survey At Once

WASHINGTON — Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel said today he has been informed that the National Park Service is going forward without delay in surveying the Pt. Reyes seashore area with a view to possible creation of a national park or national recreation area.

With a $15,000 appropriation Kuchel was instrumental in obtaining, the San Francisco regional office of the National Park Service is at work on preliminary phases of a land use plan for the area.

In a letter from George L. Collins, chief of recreation resource planning in the San Francisco headquarters, Kuchel was told the park service hopes to come up with a program which will preserve scientific features including sea life and unspoiled stretches of seashore in its natural state. The regional office restated its opinion, "the area warrants national seashore status."

Since he started efforts to obtain planning funds for the project, Kuchel has received many letters supporting the idea of preserving this stretch of shoreline, he said.

Collins assured Kuchel his office will work with local groups, including the College of the Pacific, which is particularly interested in perpetuating an area suitable for continuing sea life studies carried on by tion with William E. McDonnell Dillons Beach.

San Jose School Site Negotiations To Start

Trustees of the San Jose School District last night agreed to begin negotiations with owners of 16 acres at the end of San Jose boulevard in Raphael Village, proposed as the site for a new intermediate school.

The site is owned by Novato contractor Reuben Kaehler and several other persons represented by San Rafael real estate broker Merritt W. Pollock, reported Supt. Philip W. Schneider.

Should negotiations for the purchase of the land fail to result in agreement within 90 days after they are started, said Schneider, the district will be left with no recourse but to condemn the property in accordance with state law.

The new school is hoped to be constructed within a year or two, to provide for an enrollment of 600 children — about half the number of 7th and 8th graders expected in the district when the area is saturated with residences.

The superintendent reported that construction has begun on the rehabilitation phase of the old Meadow Park School buildings adjacent to Hamilton Air Force Base and that demolition of old Air Force residential units on the site has started, making way for the new Meadow Park additions, to be completed by February, 1960.

The work is being done by the Walter J. Kubon Construction Co. of San Rafael.

Airmen Move Into 2 New HAFB Dorms

Airmen of the 78th Fighter Group at Hamilton Air Force Base today began moving into two new three-storied dormitories at the base, built at a total cost of $666,000.

Opening of the modern dorms, each with 70 three-man bedrooms, will lead to a general shifting of several units at Hamilton next week. Members of the 78th Air Police Squadron will move into the quarters vacated by the 78th Fighter Group; the 1902nd Airways and Air Communications Squadron will move into the barracks vacated by the Air Police, and the 78th Installation and Transportation Squadrons will leave their quarters in favor of the former AACS barracks.

The new dorms were started by Baldwin Construction Co. of Marysville in April, 1958.

SKUNK VILLAIN?

Girl's Flock Dwindles One Per Day

A 9-year-old Novato girl, earning her spending money by caring for her neighbor's nine chickens, is asking the sheriff for help.

Like the proverbial nine little Indians, the nine little chickens have been disappearing one per day until there are only four little chickens left.

Patricia E. Pedroli of 705 Lamond avenue is caring for the chickens owned by Willard M. Denny Jr. of 728 Lamont, who left for vacation last July 7. Every morning since then Patricia has found one less chicken.

Deputy Sheriff Harold Goerndt investigated and found the bottom wire of the chicken pen loose enough for an animal to crawl through. He thinks that a skunk or some other animal has been crawling in each night to feast on a chicken per day.

Patricia is determined to keep closer watch on the flock so that she will have at least one leghorn left for the Dennys when they return.

Goodwill Store Opens July 30 In San Rafael

A new Goodwill Industries store will open July 30 at 1918-20 Fourth street, San Rafael, it was announced today by William A. Marcus, first vice president.

Ed Tyrrell, for many years a police officer in the area, will be manager of the store which is newly redecorated and located between the Lady Baltimore bakery and the Motor Vehicle Department.

Among articles to be placed on sale will be women's, men's, children's and infants' clothing; repaired and newly finished chests, tables and chairs, lamps, radios, and toys; and a smallware department specializing on bridge prize possibilities such as whistling teapots, copper skillets, pictures and candlesticks.

Work On Hub Firehouse Must Wait, Council Told

Despite approval by the San Anselmo City Council last night of plans for the proposed firehouse, the city is no closer to actual construction of the building than before.

The city had hoped to go ahead on necessary concrete foundation work while waiting for formation of a non-profit corporation for financing the building on the installment plan. But City Manager Arthur W. Brewer told the council this appears to be impossible.

Reporting to the council on discussions yesterday with Hanauer and Co., the eastern firm which will provide financing for the proposed formation of the corporation, Brewer said any move by the city to go ahead on construction at this time would add nothing but legal complications.

"We are still trying to find a way to start construction before the rainy season," Brewer said.

If the building is to be started this year, any concrete work must be done while the creek bed under the proposed building is dry.

In other action last night, the Council:

1. Approved a two-hour parking limit on Sir Francis Drake boulevard from Tunstead to Greenfield avenue and in the business block of Bank street off Sir Francis Drake.

2. Instructed Brewer to investigate the possibility of the taxi stand on the west side of Sir Francis Drake being moved into the Greyhound bus depot lot. This would free a portion of the block, now red-zoned, for either parking or a right turn lane into Tunstead avenue.

3. Approved bringing up to date, as to street names and numbers, the maps which hang in the council meeting room, as well as varnishing and cleaning up the mural map, painted in oil, at the north end of the hall.

4. Ordered plans and specifications for paving of Drake boulevard to Center street and Center from Madrone to Bridge streets at an approximate cost of $7,500.

5. Instructed City Engineer John C. Oglesby to draw up a map of the Sorich property behind Star Hall, dividing the property into seven parcels for possible piece-by-piece purchase by the city for a corporation yard and park site.

6. Decided to wait "a couple of months" before purchasing a five-foot strip of land along Red Hill avenue across from United Market for widening the street.

New Jet Craft Now On Guard Over East Coast

McGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N. J. (AP)—The Convair F106 Delta Dart, an all-weather jet interceptor designed to wreak atom-rocket havoc among enemy bombers, today stands guard over the nation's most populous area.

A squadron of about 25 planes — the first such unit in the world — was formally put into service here yesterday as part of the North American Air Defense Command.

The squadron is assigned to the New York Air Defense Sector, which protects the 25 million people living in the New York-Philadelphia - Washington triangle.

Ross Trustees Set Budget Of $225,437

A $225,437 budget was approved by the Ross School District Board last night.

Supt. Stephen Parodi said this compared with a budget last year of $214,250, which represents an increase of $11,187. Most of the rise was due to teacher salary increases, he said. Some of it will go to improvements in the science, mathematics and foreign language programs.

Public hearing on the budget will be held Aug. 5. This is the date of the next regular board meeting, but meetings subsequently will be on the third Monday of each month, Parodi announced.

It was decided to contribute $50 to the Marin Junior Museum for services such as visits by children to the museum. This works out, Parodi estimated, at about 10 cents per child.

The boarded awarded a $990 contract for outside painting to Peter Thorsfeldt.

Polio Preying On Unvaccinated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney warned today that crippling polio is on the upward march this summer — particularly among the unvaccinated.

The nation's health chief said that about nine out of 10 of the cases have been reported among persons who have not had anti-polio shots.

Burney also said the number of cases of paralytic polio this year is more than double the toll at this time last year.

Brown Says State Can't Keep Adding More Courts

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California can't continue increasing the number of superior courts each year, Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today, without a review of the entire judical system.

The governor called on judges to administer the courts as efficiently as possible.

He said he expects judges to "work hard and render decisions expeditiously."

The comments came after Brown, at his news conference, read a letter from Superior Court Judge Dean Sherry of San Diego urging him to veto a bill establishing four more departments of the San Diego Superior Court.

The governor said he already had signed the bill when Sherry's letter arrived.

Sherry expressed belief that if the judges themselves would take the lead, court congestion could be relieved without any more judges. He termed the $300,000 cost of four new judges in San Diego as an unnecessary waste of public funds.

New Faces Would Cure Bridge Board Bad Habits

It looks like the Golden Gate Bridge Board is up to its old tricks.

That is, an ordinary toll-payer is not permitted to "speak his piece" before bridge directors. They think they are doing a great job and they don't want to be told anything to the contrary.

The Independent-Journal was the target of verbal brickbats from several bridge directors after we called the public's attention to the fact that a recent toll schedule revision provided an increase in rates for commuters.

After a show of verbal acrobatics, the board finally reconsidered and abandoned the commute rate increase.

More recently it was pointed out that the new commute books work a costly hardship on some commuters because they are issued for a calendar month. If yours expired before the end of the month, it may be too late to use up another one before it expires; so you have paid for a bunch of tickets you couldn't use.

That isn't right, obviously.

A commuter whose name ought to be familiar to Marin residents, Tom Hardcastle of Novato, made it a point the other day to attend a meeting of the bridge board's finance committee, to plead for relief.

Hardcastle is an old hand at speaking out on behalf of commuters. He headed the Marin County Commuters Federation during some rather fierce fights over Greyhound commute rates.

Some Greyhound officials got pretty rough at times, but apparently Hardcastle never was made to feel so thoroughly squelched as he was at the bridge finance committee meeting Monday.

As we say, it looks like the bridge directors are up to their old tricks.

Our own view is that there has never been anything wrong with the bridge board that a set of new faces wouldn't remedy.

Next time our Marin County Board of Supervisors considers appointments to the bridge board, the supervisors ought to keep this in mind.

It may be that some commuters will show up to remind the supervisors of this need for some changes down at the bridge.

PUSH BUTTON EXISTENCE BY YEAR 2000

What will the year 2000 be like from the point of view of creature comforts? Here are some predictions by industrial authorities:

1. The typical home will be run entirely by electrical gadgets.
2. The temperature of a house will always be just right because an automatic control center will adjust to any changes in weather conditions.
3. Most household chores will be reduced to a minimum by merely pushing a button.
4. Automobiles will be equipped to eliminate smog, to "dial" the desired speed and even to fly in low altitude air channels.

Material advantages can prove a great blessing so long as they serve man and don't turn him into just another gadget.

After all, the big job of each in this life is to work his way to heaven. So, the more conveniences we enjoy, the more worthwhile the Lord expects our lives to be.

"Mind the things that are above, not the things that are upon the earth."
(Colossians 3:2)

Let not the passing fancies of this life, O Lord, distract me from the never-ending happiness of eternity.

Are You Rich Or Poor? Here's Test That Will Help You Decide

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you rich or poor?

Sometimes it's hard to tell, world values being what they are.

But here are a few tests to help you find your status gratis:

You're poor if you have to worry about keeping up with the Joneses.

You're rich if Jones asks, "Mind if I borrow your credit card?"

You're rich if you still have one good friend you knew when young.

You're poor if a panhandler takes one look at your face—and decides not to hit you up.

You're rich if you can say "Money isn't everything" — and name something it isn't.

You're poor if you can't.

You're rich if you're the healthiest guy in the poorhouse.

You're poor if they have to help you up the steps at the Country Club.

You're rich if they welcome you at a snob restaurant even though you're wearing tennis shoes.

You're rich if you can't even remember the names of all your former wives.

You're poor if you can't forget their names.

You're poor if you can't afford to own a car made before 1910.

You're rich if you walk to work — just because you like to.

You're rich if you can choose the particular ocean you prefer to swim in.

You're poor if you have to paint your own yacht.

You're rich — and probably over 70 — if your second cousins still send you happy birthday cards.

You're poor if they cross the street to keep from meeting you.

You're poor if the only sunsets you see are on television.

YOU'RE RICH IF the singing of birds in the morning doesn't annoy you.

You're rich if you can't recall all the servants you've had in the last five year.

You're poor if you can recall only one — the wife.

You're rich if, when someone says "Let's go to the beach," you reach for a phone to charter a plane to Biarritz.

YOU'RE POOR IF the whole gang winds up at Coney Island.

You're rich if you wear that 15-year-old elbow-patched sports jacket because they don't make 'em like that anymore.

You're poor if you still wear it because you can't afford a new one like it anymore.

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

A Correctional Training and Treatment Society was established at San Quentin to promote the training and treatment of the socially delinquent, and to provide an agency through which professional solidarity could be developed. Speakers at the organization meeting including Justice Jesse Carter of the California Supreme Court and Alexander Kidd, professor of criminal law at the University of California.

20 YEARS AGO

Carrying the names of 30,000 Marin adults, the Marin County Directory issued by the San Rafael Independent was distributed. The 686-page directory was the first comprehensive all-Marin directory ever published.

A contract was signed for the construction in Ross of a $7,000 home for Frederick Nelson, San Francisco shipping executive. The house was to be built on the three-acre lot by Enri Cavasso of the State Construction Co.

Low Bond Interest Rates Criticized

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The interest rates on good bonds, 20 years ago, were five per cent or more. In fact I did get 8 per cent on Great Western Power Gold bonds in 1922. They were soon called in at 105 when Pacific Gas and Electric took over.

The index shows that the cost of living has more than doubled in the last 20 years so interest (which is the rent of money) should be 10 per cent now instead of 5 per cent.

To this should be added another 2 per cent for the expected annual increase in cost of living. Therefore, the rate on current municipal bonds should be no less than 12 per cent.

The investor whose $10,000 provided two service trucks for the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. 20 years ago must pay twice as much for food and clothing now. The gas company employees who use this equipment have been given raises to compensate the increase in cost of living. The bond holders have been victimized. Let us try to give a fair deal.

Please print this. I would like to hear comments.

Hollow Malignin' Must Be Stopped!

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

For the third time lately, I have run across an item in the I-J, reporting a scrape with the law by someone living on Butterfield Road. In each case the address was given, followed by "Sleepy Hollow." In none of the cases was the address within Sleepy Hollow. It is obvious that some one of your reporters, possibly the one who covers the police departments and the CHP, doesn't know his geography!

Let's not have more drunken driving, etc., ascribed to Sleepy Hollow residents, than actually should be. Accordingly, please be advised that the first Butterfield Road number in the Hollow is 644. If the fact of living in Sleepy Hollow is newsworthy (just why it is escapes me), let's be accurate about it! So please pass this gem of information on to him or them as are malignin' our fair Hollow!

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Why Does Democratic Chairman Criticize His Party's Course?

WASHINGTON—You can't pick up a newspaper these days or trudge down a shadowed corridor on Capitol Hill without running into a Democratic feud; a real big, full-sized, intra-party feud, not just a little, petty, personal feud.

Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler throws a headline at Democratic Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson and vice versa.

Mr. Butler criticizes the Southern Democratic conservatives and the Northern Democratic moderates and condemns his party in Congress for not piling up enough Eisenhower-opposed spending bills to give the Democrats ammunition for the 1960 election — lots of vetoes and lots of issues.

Sen. Johnson dismisses Chairman Butler's advice to the Democratic party as about as useful as Republican Chairman Thruston Morton's — and about as friendly.

THE DEMOCRATIC advisory council, which is made up of big-name non-Congressional Democrats like Mr. Truman, Adlai Stevenson, Averell Harriman, etc. — used to devote itself to criticizing the Eisenhower administration but is now criticizing the Democratic leadership of Congress for not accepting its advice and counsel any more than the President.

And the Republicans do their best to look only moderately happy and keep out of the line of fire lest they distract a barrage in their direction.

WHAT IS CHAIRMAN Butler really after in attacking the Congressional leaders of his own party? My answer would be this:

Mr. Butler is just as sincerely dedicated to the welfare of the Democratic party as Harry Truman or Lyndon Johnson or Sen. Richard Russell. His view of what is good government and good politics and good strategy for 1960 is just radically different from Lyndon Johnson's. He believes that the political climate of the country is much farther to the "Left" than does Sen. Johnson. He wants to see this Democratic Congress build a record of "issues" by enacting a whole series of bills which, even if vetoed, would show the country what it could have during the next four years if it would elect both a Democratic President and a Democratic Congress.

Clearly the Democratic Congressional leaders and the majority of Democratic members of Congress do not share Chairman Butler's estimate of public opinion. They believe that the 1960 Democratic candidates, Congressional and Presidential, will be better off next year if the Democratic 86th Congress gives the country all the moderate legislation and all the moderate, budget-balanced spending which is enactable rather than three times as much which would end up being vetoed and unenactable.

On top of this is the fact, as Walter Lippmann has been stressing, that this 86th Democratic Congress, while elected during a recession, is legislating during a period of high prosperity. This means there is no justification for an unbalanced budget. If larger expenditures are voted, they can only be justified by increased revenue.

MR. BUTLER MUST feel that his maneuvers will help put the 1960 convention in control of Democratic liberals and insure a platform and a nominee so acceptable to the liberals that they would almost certainly be unacceptable to the more conservative Democrats.

I'm sure he would shrink from the idea, but I wonder if Mr. Butler isn't strengthening the case for Lyndon Johnson's own nomination for the Presidency? I am not advocating it, but I am saying that it is eminently logical: a Johnson nomination based on a Johnson legislative record.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By DONALD G. DAVIS

Cockles, French Delicacy, Can Be Found On Marin's Beaches

Not long ago a young fisherman from San Francisco was hailed into court and fined for taking an over limit of cockles from a Marin beach.

The single thing that interests me about this is the cockle. Because up to a couple of years ago all I knew about cockle was the "silver bells and cockle shells" in the old nursery rhyme.

So when I read the piece in the paper about cockles I remembered one of the most wonderful meals I had ever eaten.

In the fall a couple of years ago, in France, Frances, expecting our second child, and I (we left the boy in Germany) made a motor tour of Brittany.

WE STOPPED at a village near Mont-Saint-Michel, which we were to tour the next day, and took a room in an old inn that proudly advertised an even older interior and centuries-old rooms. We settled on a paneled room that featured a four-poster, creaky floors and furniture and the traditional French plumbing demurely tucked away behind massive double wooden doors.

We were warm from traveling, after seeing that our room was in order descended to the sidewalk for refreshment.

A little while later Frances said she would do without supper, and forthwith went to bed. "Must have been the ice in my lemonade," said she.

I FACED the prospect of going to dinner alone. It was not that I minded dining alone. I just don't speak French, and she does.

I went to the dining room and cautiously took a seat. (This was difficult for me, because I knew things would get balled up. I once sent a Parisian waiter into orbit by asking for a slice of cold ham for breakfast, at which meal there one usually eats just a roll and coffee.)

But things went better than I thought they would. The waitress spoke a little English and pointed out some specialties. About two hours and three dozen cockles later I was beaming, totally satisfied

THEY HAD SERVED me stuffed cockles. They came simmering on the half shell in large indented plates like those used to serve snails. They were full of butter and garlic, and herbs and bread crumbs.

Not knowing French, and remembering what little I know even less, I can only recall that the stuffed delicacies were called something like "palourde farcie." But a trip to the dictionary here lists cockles as "bucarde." Called by any name they are delightful.

I always wanted more, and upon mentioning this to a friend as we were about to return to the states, he said, "I don't think they have them in the U.S."

The only other thing I remember about them was the shape of the shell — like a clamshell only smaller.

THEN CAME the story about the cockles for which the man was fined.

Further research discloses this: Cockles are plentiful on the shores of Marin, particularly along Bolinas beach, and at Drake's and Tomales bays. They must measure at least one and one-half inches in diameter (large than the ones served me in France). The season is open all year, but the limit is 50 per day (just enough for me). You must walk out at low tide, watch for bubbles in the sand, then dig with a shovel or hoe. I can hardly wait.

But, one more thing about the dinner in France. When I returned to my room my wife rallied briefly and I went on and on about the cockles. She groaned and went back to sleep. That night I was bitten by a spider.

Bond Issue Will Put State Water Problems Squarely Up To People

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Governor Edmund G. Brown's signature on SB1106, which is the Burns-Porter Act submitting a bond issue of $1,750,000,000 to the people of California for implementation of the California Water plan, puts the project ahead another step.

For many years the California legislature has been bickering about water development and the result has been that the state has done nothing toward conserving its water resources. The federal government has accomplished most of the major works, and water districts and local communities have done the rest.

THE SIGNING of the bill marks the first major step in the water program since the Central Valley's Project was voted by the legislature in the late 1920's. Although the legislature voted to proceed with this project, the actual work was done by the federal bureau of Reclamation.

The bond issue will be submitted to the people of the state at the November, 1960, general election.

The question will be one not merely of money, but of survival itself. California could survive under present circumstances, without the huge outlay, provided no more people entered the state and no more industry established itself within our boundaries. However, no one expects a static situation to exist. As the governor says:

"This bill will remove the last great obstacle to California's full growth and prosperity. By 1985, this project will be serving areas with a population of 21,000,000, out of an estimated total state population of 35,000,000—more than twice the present population of California."

(The population now is more than 15 million).

THE COST FOR the conservataion project is expected to be small as far as the entire population of the state is concerned.

"The only items chargeable to the general taxpayer," the governor explained, "are the recreation facilities in the program, estimated to be about three per cent of the total. Everything else will come back from those who use the water and power, and those living in areas not served by the project will not have to pay the costs."

The plan, therefore, is to retire the bonds through revenues from the project, placing a very small cost on the general taxpayer, all of which will be favorable as long as times are good. But if times get bad, the bonds become a general obligation of the state.

It would appear, however, that the state must undertake the project in any event, if the people here now want to prepare for a doubling of the population by the year 1985.

SO NBC TAKES HIM

CBS Won't Let Humphrey Talk

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One television network closed its coaxial eye on Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey today but another flashed him a welcome—whether he's announced or unannounced as a presidential candidate.

NOMINATED TO AEC—Nuclear scientist John H. Williams was nominated yesterday by President Eisenhower to the Atomic Energy Commission to succeed Willard F. Libby, resigned. Williams now is director of the AEC's research division. (AP Wirephoto)

The Minnesota Democrat was knocked off the Columbia Broadcasting System's "Face the Nation" TV show next Sunday because network attorneys felt he had become a presidential candidate. This, CBS explained with regret, might force the network to give obscure candidates equal time on that program.

Humphrey replied that this was "all nonsense," and was both "unnecessary and unfounded." He said the fact that Gov. Orville L. Freeman and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota had set up a Humphrey-for-president organization did not make him a formal candidate.

His explanation had scarcely hit the news wires when the senator announced that the National Broadcasting Co. had invited him to appear this morning on its early show, "Today." Humphrey, who already had gotten some legal advice, quickly accepted.

Asked point-blank on the NBC program if he were a presidential candidate, Humphrey replied that he has given the question "very, very serious thought" and presumed that one of these days it would be "answered in the affirmative."

But he emphasized anew that he is not now a candidate, saying that "I've gone as far as I am going to."

Army Studies Wreckage Of Rocket

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Army today began picking up the pieces of its shattered Juno II satellite rocket.

Hundreds of charred fragments were scattered over an area the size of two football fields. They will be photographed just as they landed when the 76-foot rocket exploded yesterday.

Then they'll be carted away for study.

The range safety officer destroyed the missile five seconds after it was launched when its guidance system went haywire and it tilted toward the mainland instead of over the ocean.

The rocket flew crazily for a few seconds before crashing to a fiery doom 50 yards from the launch pad. All four stages blew apart. The launch area received only minor damage.

Breakwater Project Slated In Humboldt

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has signed into law a bill appropriating $460,000 for construction of a breakwater at Shelter Cove in Humboldt County.

The breakwater will help form a small boat harbor.

The appropriation will come from the small craft harbor revolving fund.

NEWS VIEWS

By LEON C. SMITH

It may be the atomic age, and gun-toting westerners may be riding the TV ranges high wide and handsome, but Chicago has an old law on the books that can disarm every kid in the city. A while back police announced a crackdown on the sale of toy pistols to the city's small fry. Squirt guns, cap pistols and Buck Rogers disintegrators are as illegal as a pickpocket's intentions. If the gendarmes can make that one stick they'll need more cops than an old Mack Sennett comedy ever had. We may not especially approve of juvenile artillery, but we'd sure hate to run down every piece in this town. There'll be a pack of tired policemen in old Chicago. And when somebdy says, "They went that-a-way," the posse is apt to say, "So what?"

Jones Faces Bucs Tonight In Crucial Series Opener

PITTSBURGH (UPI)— The San Francisco Giants hustled into town today for a crucial four-game series with the fourth place Pittsburgh Pirates—after narrowly averting a second double-header disaster in Philadelphia last night.

A couple of old World Series heroes — Johnny Antonelli and Dusty Rhodes — prevented the Giants from dropping their second twin bill of the season to the Phillies last night.

Antonelli tossed a three-hitter and Rhodes singled home the winning run in the ninth inning to give the first place Giants the nightcap, 1-0. The Phils won the first game 6-4.

Sam Jones (12-9) is Manager Bill Rigney's choice to take the mound for the Giants tonight. Ronnie Kline (7-7) will probably pitch for the Pirates.

Rhodes, who batted home the winning run in the 1954 series that gave Antonelli his victory over Cleveland, hit a line drive over second base to send Jackie Brandt home with the big run

Brandt had singled and gone to second when Centerfielder Richie Ashburn momentarily bobbled the ball on the soggy turf.

Gene Conley, although touched for eight hits, pitched almost as well as Antonelli. Except for the ninth, he was able to keep the Giants well in control.

The victory was Antonelli's 14th of the season against only four losses. It was his third shutout, his second against the Phils.

Mike McCormick, the young lefthander who tossed three shutouts at the Phils earlier in the season, was chased from the mound by the Philadelphians in the first game.

He was touched for four runs in the four and a third innings he worked. The loss went to ex-Philly Jack Sanford who is scheduled to pitch here tomorrow. Sanford came in in the sixth inning and he was hit by a two-run rally in the seventh that won the game for the Phils.

The game-winning rally saw Ashburn walk, Ed Bouchee single and Wally Post also single, to drive home Ashburn. Dave Philley clinched it with a pinch-hit double off the centerfield scoreboard to score Bouchee.

Robin Roberts, who allowed the Giants 10 hits while working the distance for the Phils, was credited with his second win over the Giants this season and his eighth win against as many losses.

The Giants will play a single game against the Pirates tomorrow and a double-header Sunday. They return home to play the Dodgers on Monday.

MORE TO COME?

Stanford Enters New Conference

STANFORD (AP)—With Stanford University signing on, the Athletic Assn. of Western Universities expanded to a big five conference.

There was talk the new league would grow bigger.

"I don't see how they can help taking back the Oregon schools eventually," Jack Curtice, Stanford football coach, said in a strictly personal comment after announcement yesterday of Stanford's decision to join the new group.

The AAWU carries on in place of the Pacific Coast Conference, and AAWU football champions will represent the West in Rose Bowl games starting in 1961.

The four original AAWU members were California, UCLA, Southern California and Washington, all penalized by the former PCC for violating aid-to-athlete regulations.

The PCC officially died July 1 after angry discord over aid-to-athlete standards. Former PCC members not yet invited to join the new conference are Oregon, Oregon State, Washington State and Idaho. The 1960 Rose Bowl's west team will be picked from among the original nine PCC members under a contract commitment.

Jess Hill, Southern California's athletic director, joined Curtice in expressing a hope the AAWU would grow.

"I'm very happy," said Bill. "I'm very hopeful that as time passes we will enlarge the association."

Leo Harris, Oregon's athletic director, declined comment on whether Oregon eventually might join the conference.

"You have to be invited," Harris said.

Tom Hamilton, wso resigned as Pittsburgh's athletic director to take over as the AAWU's executive director, will not have investigative powers as did the PCC commissioner.

Dr. Wallace Sterling, Stanford president, said Stanford's academic standards will continue to be exacting.

Builders Unbeaten In Summer League

Billings-Hutchison Builders, paced by John Galten's 15 points, won their third straight game in the adult division of the Drake Summer Basketball League last night.

The Builders downed the Giacomini team, 34-24 to remain the only unbeaten team in the league.

Other games last night saw Pinky's Pizza Parlor drub Taveggia-Brusati Sports Shop, 47-30 and the Benchwarmers smash Cox and Co., 36-19.

Nalu Rallies To Capture Hawaii Race

HONOLULU (UPI)—The sloop Nalu II, nosed out in two previous Trans-Pacific Yacht Races ,came through in "Silky Sullivan" style today to take over the handicap lead from the yawl Chubasco.

Balboa investment broker Peter Grant used every bit of canvas possible to bring the 46-foot sloop across the Diamond Head finish line at 1:09:39 a.m. (HST).

The Nalu II's handicap time for the 2,225-mile run from San Pedro, Calif., to Honolulu was 9 days, 5 hours, 50 minutes and 27 seconds. The Chubasco finished in 10 days, 20 hours, 18 minutes and 15 seconds.

The sloop's stretch drive apparently assured it the Class C and the fleet handicap trophies.

However, a darkhorse—the Class D Debit—still had a mathematical chance for a handicap victory. To win, it must cross the finish line by 3:30 a.m. (HST) tomorrow.

Nalu II was just three minutes off the time of the winner, Legend, in the 1957 race—and finished third, 54 minutes behind the Staghound and the Constellation in the 1955 run.

Seventeen of the yachts in the field of 41 have now finished the race which began on July 4. Late finishers last night were the yawl Kialoa, of Newport; the yawl Robon, of Lido Isle Yacht Club; and the ketch Marilen of Santa Monica.

Expected to complete the race today were the Skylark, Los Angeles; Diablo, Alamitos Bay Y.C.; Tasco II, St. Francis Y.C.; Patronilla, Portland; Janie, Portland; and No Hu Hu, Honolulu.

The Chubasco, owned by Arnold Haskell, actually finished in second place behind the scratch boat Goodwill, a 161-foot schooner owned by Ralph Larrabee of Newport.

Sally Blair Ames of Los Angeles, only woman skipper in the race, won the Class A Division with her 75-foot schooner Constellation which finished Wednesday morning.

Li'l League Playoffs In Mill Valley

Mill Valley's Little League "World Series" tops all baseball action in southern Marin tomorrow when the Tigers, champs of the American League, and the Realtors, pennant winners of the National loop, play for the Mill Valley City Championship starting at 2 p.m.

The game will be aired over Radio Station KTIM with the voices of Ted Mitchell and Karl Barron.

The Tigers, who were the American loop's winner three straight years, have yet to win a city championship, while the Realtors have been in two out of the three played.

The Realtors club was undefeated in 16 games. On the other side of the field, the Tigers finished with a 14-4 record.

Manager Stan Woodward of the Realtors will probably start with his big righthander David Beswick, while manager Barney Johnson of the Tigers will go with either Cedric Collett or Larry Brady, both righthanders.

Here are the probale starting lineups:

Realtors — 1B, Jim Hopper; 2B, Bill Stephenson; 3B, Ronnie Rhoades; SS, Dick Finn; LF, Greg Zak; CF, Pete Rucinski; RF, Steve Woodward; C, Tom Hayes; P, David Beswick.

47 Runs Scored In Softball Twin-Bill

A wild and woolly doubleheader produced 47 runs last night in the San Rafael Softball League at Albert Field as McPhail's team routed Keaton's, 20-1, and the Dugout Dandies blasted Currie Plumbing, 18-8.

The McPhail victory saw George Weaver pitch a one-hitter and Al Baldwin, Ed Schulze and Roy Ellison lead a 22-hit parade. Baldwin had four hits and Schulze and Ellison three each.

HUB COUNCIL TO HONOR BASEBALL STAR

John Boccabella, Marin Catholic High School third baseman and San Anselmo's representative on this year's all-northern California nine, is due for official recognition by the city council.

The acknowledgment of Boccabella's diamond exploits —which include playing in the Polo Grounds in New York in the annual sandlot classic last year and being honored by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors — followed a letter from his father, Dominic Boccabella, blasting the council for ignoring the youngster's efforts.

Mayor Arthur W. Smith admitted the council had committed an "oversight" in their failure to publicly note John's rise to stardom.

"I admit I am not too sports-minded," Smith said. "It is unfortunate the recreation department did not bring this matter to our attention."

UMP GETS A KICK OUT OF RIGNEY

Manager Bill Rigney of the Giants appears to be placing a well-aimed kick on posterior of Umpire Frank Dascoli during argument in game against Phillies last night. The manager was kicked out of the game for protesting a close decision. When he was told to leave the diamond Rigney kicked first base, but camera angle made him appear to be kicking Dascoli. Yanks Win Pair, Take On Leading White Sox

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

All you can say about the American League pennant race at the moment is IF.

IF the Chicago White Sox can do no worse than split the four-game series they open in New York tonight against the Yankees, they might be able to do something with their newly reacquired lead.

IF the Cleveland Indians can rebound quickly they might bounce right back into first place in a four-game series at Boston opening tonight.

IF the Yankees can sweep the White Sox, or at worst lose no more than one of the four, then it might be all over.

The White Sox slipped back into first place while splitting a doubleheader at Boston yesterday, losing 5-4 after pushing their winning streak to five games with a 4-3 decision in the opener. The Indians were jolted to second, a game behind after a month's stay on top, when they dropped a double-header to the Yankees, 7-5 in 10 innings and 3-0.

Kansas City defeated third-place Baltimore 4-3, and Washington's spurting Senators swept a three-game series from Detroit's sliding Tigers 5-2.

In the National League, first-place San Francisco beat Philadelphia 1-0 on Johnny Antonelli's three-hitter after the Phils had won the first game of the twinight double-header 6-4. Third-place Milwaukee lost its third in a row to the Chicago Cubs, 4-2, Cincinnati defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 7-5.

The White Sox beat Boston on Sherm Lollar's tie-breaking double in the seventh inning against loser Tom Brewer (7-6). Dick Donovan won it. He allowed only four hits, but needed Gerry Staley's hitless two-inning save for a 6-5 record.

Ted Williams' pinch single in the sixth gave the Red Sox a 4-4 tie in the second game, and Vic Wertz, who drove in an early run with one of two doubles, then beat reliever Ray Moore (2-6) with a seventh-inning single. Mike Fornieles gained his first victory in relief.

Bobby Shantz (4-3) pitched a five-hitter, walking two, striking out seven, for his fourth straight victory, first complete game and first shutout since 1957 in the nightcap for the Yankees. Enos Slaughter and Hank Bauer homered.

The fourth-place Yanks gained a 5-5 tie on Yogi Berra's 11th homer in the ninth inning of the opener, then put it away on Mickey Mantle's two-run, two-out homer off losing reliever Gary Bell (8-9). Yankee relief ace Ryne Duren lost his shutout string at 32 innings—tops in the majors—when the Indians scored twice in the eighth for a 5-4 lead.

Olmedo Booted Out Of Nat'l Tournament For Not Trying

RIVER FOREST, Ill. (UPI) — The U. S. Lawn Tennis Assn. today considered disciplinary action against Alex Olmedo, who was kicked out of the National Clay Courts Tournament for not trying.

The 23-year-old sparkplug of the U. S. Davis Cup team and holder of the Wimbledon singles crown went down in listless defeat against South African Abe Segal 6-2 ,6-1, 6-0, in singles yesterday and left the court amid loud boos from a disappointed crowd at the River Forest Tennis Club.

Segal said Olmedo told him he "threw the match."

"I came here to play tennis. I don't like to win that way," Segal said.

Olmedo and his partner, Earl Buchholz of St. Louis, Mo., were dropped by officials from the doubles.

Olmedo's burst of temperament threw the tournament into an uproar. The Peruvian walked off the court and hurried from the dressing room to his hotel room, refusing to speak to anyone.

Later Perry Jones, captain of the Davis Cup team, quoted Olmedo as saying he was "sorry about the whole thing."

Olmedo, Jones said, would "talk to everybody later" to explain his actions.

Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode, the top-seeded Forest Hills, N. Y. queen who was seeking her fourth clay title, was eliminated by Rene Schuurman of South Africa, 7-5, 8-6, and Larry Nagler, a 19-year-old unknown from Hollywood, Calif., defeated eighth-seeded Grant Golden, Evanston, Ill., 6-4, 6-0, 0-6, 6-3 in a men's quarterfinal tilt.

The number of illegitimate births in this country rose from an estimated 89,500 in 1940 to almost 202,000 in 1957, the last year tabulated.

Norton Choice In 2 Races Against Russ

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —until Bobby Morrow regains his form, the new "world's fastest human" is a lanky lad from San Jose State named Ray Norton.

The Russians are going to get a look at him for the first time in three events in the U. S.-Soviet track meet Saturday and Sunday.

Ray, 21 ad 180 pounds, is favored to win the 100 meters, 200 meters and anchor the 400-meter relay, which should win in a breeze. Already this year, he has equaled the world record for the 100 yards (9.3) and the 100 meters (10.1).

Norton thinks it's mostly a matter of gaining confidence that has brought him along, plus some very serious pep talks from his coach, Bud Winter.

"It used to be," he said today, "that I'd get so nervous and tied up before a race, that I wouldn't have a chance. Why, until last year, I used to dream about a meet for a week. I'd get muscle spasms just lying in bed. Strictly mental, but it was awful.

"But Bud taught me to concede to no one and think no one is better than I. Now I'm confident I can beat the Russians Edwin Ozolin and Leonid Bartenev."

Tel Aviv is Israel's largest city with a population of more than 300,000.

Marin Catholic Hoopsters Win

Ed O'Connell scored nine points to pace unbeaten Marin Catholic to a 23-15 victory over Novato last night in the Marin County Junior Varsity Basketball League at the Tamalpais High School gym.

Other games saw Redwood nip Tam, 34-33 and San Rafael top Drake 32-30 in sudden death overtime.

High scoring honors of the night went to Bob Sweeney of Tam with 14 points.

Pinelli May Ruin Umps' Chances Of Sharing Players' Pension Plan

CONNOLLY

It is consoling to read one of my favorite authors, "Babe" Pinelli, the ex-umpire, who notices some nasty traits developing in the ranks of organized baseball players.

"Alibi and chronic kickers" is what Pinelli chooses to call cry-baby ball players. And he isn't fooling. He really wades into players, managers and fakers who "would rather whine and scream than swing a bat."

When Pinelli quit active playing and turned to umpiring he surprised everybody. His friends knew Babe had a fiery temper and were afraid he'd become a "fighting umpire."

As a young player he tangled with the likes of Al De Vormer, White Sox catcher, Ty Cobb, Detroit's favorite son, and he even pushed the late and great umpire Bill Byron around. But because he was shifty with his dukes and knew how to fight, Babe's mixups were short-lived.

In the late 30s, while umpiring in Los Angeles, Babe came to me and asked for a lift to become a major league ump. He knew that the late George Grant, once owner of the Boston Braves, and I were pals. So I made the "pitch" with Grant who was a great admirer of the Babe.

JOHN HEYDLER, then president of the National League, Grant's close pal, Jack Lelivelt and I were playing golf this particular Monday at the Wilshire Golf and Country Club. I invited Pinelli to come along. He never played golf, but agreed to pack my clubs if he could only meet Heydler.

After the golf game, while driving back to the Biltmore Hotel, Heydler inquired of me, "What makes you think Pinelli would be a great umpire?" Heydler asked.

"When he quit playing baseball he led the Coast League in base stealing," said I.

That was all Heydler needed. He realized that an umpire, to be effective, had to be able to move around. And in Pinelli's case he knew Babe could anticipate the next play

A FEW DAYS later, Heydler bought Pinelli's contract from Harry Williams, then president of the Coast League. I think the figure was around $1,800.

For 21 years thereafter Pinelli roamed the National League circuit and became one of the finest umps in the business. When he quit, his last game happened to be the only perfect World Series game in history. Of course Don Larsen of the Yanks was the winner.

So when I pick up True Magazine for August and read of Pinelli's whacking of ball players, I begin to add up things. I remembered that a year ago it was Pinelli who was carrying the torch for the umpires to become a part of the baseball players' pension fund. So far the players haven't agreed to take in the umps and maybe now that Pinelli has spoken his piece about the leagues being loaded with players "who are worse than old women," the players never will adopt the umpires as co-pensioners.

Calhoun Vs. Dick Tiger In Rematch

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI) — Tonight's featured boxing show (on NBC, 7 p.m. PDT), like so much summer television fare, is a repeat: A return 10-round match between Dick Tiger of Nigeria and Rory Calhoun of White Plains, N.Y.

But if the two promising middleweights put on a show as good as their first encounter six weeks ago in New York, few viewers will complain.

The two boxed 10 exciting rounds in Madison Square Garden June 5. The fight, the first in this country for Tiger, ended in a draw when Calhoun made a strong comeback in the later rounds.

Tiger, British Empire middleweight titleholder, had the edge over the 24-year-old Calhoun, according to a poll of sports-writing covering the fight. But one official scored the fight even on rounds and points while another gave the edge to Calhoun and the third said Tiger won.

Mindful of their tight battle the first time around, the odds-makers rated tonight's War Memorial Auditorium bout a toss-up.

Ruuska Captures Mile Race In National AAU

REDDING (UPI) — It's one down and three to go today for Sylvia Ruuska in the Women's National A.A.U. Swimming Championships.

Miss Ruuska successfully defended her mile crown yesterday by winning in a new meet record time of 21:38.9.

On today's program are the 100-yard freestyle, 220 backstroke, 220 breaststroke, 440 individual medley and one-meter springboard diving. Miss Ruuska is the defending champion in 440-yard medley.

Defending champion in the 100-freestyle and 220 backstroke is Chris von Saltza of Santa Clara. Susie Ordogh, Washington Athletic Club, Seattle, is the defending champ in the 220-yard breaststroke.

Miss Ruuska, who holds more records than any current campaigner among the mermaids, will compete in six events during the meet. In addition to the individual events, she'll race on two relay teams.

While she failed to crack her own American record yesterday, the 17-year-old blonde did crack the meet record of 22:13.7. Miss Ruuska has a best time of 21:26.4 for the American mark.

Surprise second place finisher in the mile run was Carolyn House of the Los Angeles A.C. Miss House, only 13, took a position about three lengths behind the champion and stayed there throughout the race. She dropped back on the last couple of laps and was timed in 21:45.9. Donna Graham of the Riviera Club of Indianapolis, Ind., one of the pre-race favorites, finished in third, clocked in 22:10.

SUMMER SCHOOL ON THE FARM—Donald J. McIsaac (right) Marin County dairyman, demonstrates vaccination of a calf to Anthony J. Mathios of San Francisco, University of California pre-veterinary student at Davis, who is one of more than 100 young agricultural students receiving on-the-farm summer training course.

Davis Student Learns On Marin Dairy Farm

Donald J. McIsaac, Tocaloma dairyman, is one of more than 100 farmers and ranchers giving assistance to the University of California College of Agriculture this summer through the Davis farm practice program.

Getting practical, on-the-farm training with McIsaac is Anthony J. Mathios of San Francisco. Young Mathios, a pre-veterinary student, got the job through an agreement between McIsaac and the college's farm practice division.

"We have 112 students working on farms from southern California to eastern Washington," said Harry O. Walker, chairman of the Davis division. "These boys, many of them from city backgrounds, will come back to school in the fall with knowledge of production problems and an understanding of agriculture they could not get without farm work."

Under the program, students prepare during the year with a non-credit course to familiarize themselves as much as possible with farm machinery and methods.

The farm practice project, often known as the Bixby program, is designed to fill the gaps in experience of agriculture students.

Davis students work with range operators, fruit growers, dairy farmers, veterinarians and many other agricultural specialists.

Vote On Monte Maria Service District Asked

Petitions urging an election to determine whether a community services district shall be former in the Monte Maria subdivision of Novato have been signed by 120 persons — 95 more than needed to bring the issue to a vote.

E. Donald King, president of the Monte Maria Improvement Assn., said today the petitions will continue in circulation for several more days and will be presented to the county board of supervisors next week.

At the time the petition is presented, said King, he will request that no election be set which would precede an incorporation election for Novato.

Should incorporation take place this year, plans for the district would be dropped, he said, since the city would be requested to perform the improvements being sought. But should incorporation be rejected, "then the trigger would be cocked" for an election for creation of the district, he added.

The proposed district would be formed exclusively to improve and maintain the three center island strips on Sunset parkway at the entrance to Monte Maria off South Novato boulevard.

The entire project would be financed by a loan estimated at $1,500, to be amortized over a three-year period. The 124 homes in Monte Maria would be charged an ad valorum tax, estimated to cost each home owner an average of $7.58 per year for three years. After that, the cost would amount to about $3.11 per household per year for maintenance, said King.

An election to determine the formation of the district would also serve to elect a three-member board board of directors.

Jobs In State At High Peak

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Two state agencies announced yesterday that California employment in June was at an all-time high and unemployment was down substantially from a year ago.

Director John F. Henning of the Industrial Relations Department said total civilian employment rose to a record 5,853,000 during June, up 192,000 or 3 per cent from 1958.

Employment Director John E. Carr reported unemployment at 234,000 was down by 121,000 from last year but still remained at the second highest June mark since 1954.

Solution Grasped

EAST AURORA, N.Y. (UPI)—Francis Nichols, 20, of North Java, took things into his own hands when he realized he was in dangerously fast company. Nichols reached across James Kerwin, 21, driver of the car in which they were travelling, and pulled the key from the ignition, ending a 100 mph police chase.

IN COLORADO

Miss Keagy Bride Of Dwight Allen

Mr. and Mrs. Van Allen Treat returned to Sausalito yesterday from Fort Collins, Colo., where they attended the July 11 wedding of Mrs. Treat's son, Dwight S. Allen and Kathleen Keagy, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reiner A. Keagy of Fort Collins.

The double ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. William J. Hage took place at Danforth Chapel at 3 o'clock. Chapel decorations were pink gladioli flanked by white candleabra with pink gladioli garlands.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a waltz length gown of peau-de-soie, hand embroidered with sprays of lilies of the valley. Her shoulder length veil was caught with clusters of the delicate flower which was repeated in her hand bouquet.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Richard H. Finley of Big Springs, Tex., who wore a pink embroidered polished cotton gown with overlap of pink chiffon, and carried a basket of pink gladioli.

Candlelighters were Peggy and Debba Ackard of Denver, Colo. The little flower girl was six-year-old Kristine Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green of Fort Collins, who wore a white lace and net dress with bouffant skirt and carried a miniature basket of pink gladioli. Andy Ackard, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Ackard of Denver, was ring bearer.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was his only brother, Robert E. Allen Jr., of Berkeley, with Steve Ackard of Denver as usher.

The bride's mother wore beige embroidered organza and Mrs. Treat chose a silk floral print in shades of pink and green.

A reception for 150 guests followed the ceremony with Velma De Baer in charge of the guest book.

The new Mrs. Allen received her B.A. degree at University of Colorado and is a member of Delta Gamma Sorority. Dwight is a graduate of the University of California where he will continue at the School of Law. Following a wedding trip to Jackson Hole, Wyo., the couple will be at home after Aug. 15 at Berkeley.

How To Bathe Dog During Hot Days

NEW YORK (UPI)—A dog bath during the dog days can be easy on both pet and owner when a few simple precautions are taken.

The water temperature should be about the same used for bathing babies, says Bob Bartos, manager of research kennels for a dog manufacturer. Test the water with your elbow to make sure it's not too warm.

Before dunking your pet, put a few drops of sweet oil in each eye and plug its ears with cotton to keep out water and soap.

MAMIE'S MILLINER

Sally Victor Gets Fall Theme From 11-Day Visit To Russia

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mamie Eisenhower's milliner is back from Russia with the news that the "lack of good fashion is appalling."

Mrs. Sally Victor found Soviet women anxious to see American styles, anxious to try on the all-over floral hats which were a hit with U.S. women this spring and summer, and amazed at American hat makers' methods of keeping a hat on—with the tiny combs set inside the band and pushed firmly into the hair.

"The women aren't nearly as hat conscious as we are," said Mrs. Victor. "I guess they're just supposed to pave streets, not wear hats."

The milliner took with her, on an 11-day visit to Moscow and Leningrad, 18 of her own designs. First she showed them to salesgirls and executives at GUM, the state-owned department store in Moscow, and then left them as gifts for "Americans and Russians who were especially helpful on the trip."

"The women oh'ed, ah'ed and touched," she said. "A woman loves pretty things, no matter where she is."

"The flowered wig hat . . . I wore one of pink rose petals . . . was the biggest hit," she said. "And all those jingly bracelets American women wear created quite a stir among the Russians."

Mrs. Victor returned with a theme for her fall collection, shown this week. The milliner copied Soviet Cossacks, cathedral spires and hats once worn by Catherine the Great.

"If you're going to Russia to look for new art, don't," she said.

New York Fashion Previews Show Clothes With New Ease

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—All-American fashions, made to be worn in each of the 50 states, scored a smash hit as some 240 fashion editors from all sections of the country applauded the opening shows of a week of fall previews by New York designers.

Clothes shown today have a new ease, a new swagger, an air of casual sophistication that identifies the well-dressed American woman at home or abroad.

A highlight was a showing of American knit fashions by Alamac, climaxed by the appearance of Miss America of 1959, Mary Ann Mobley, in a white cotton knit evening gown designed by Ceil Chapman and trimmed with the state flowers of each of the 50 states.

Each fashion shown, ranging from casual separates to formal evening gowns, was dedicated to one of the United States, with special bows to Alaska and Hawaii.

Afternoon showings included highlights from the collections of Maurice Rentner, Mollie Parnis and Hannah Troy.

Bill Blass, talented young designer from Maurice Rentner, shows a group of handsome and flattering styles ranging from little "smoking jacket" suits with lush fur collars to evening fashions in the fabulous category. One of the latter is a black broadcloth theater costume consisting of short sheath dress with puffed short sleeves of white ermine, worn with a sleeveless jerkin-like jacket, cut to fit over the ermine.

Mollie Parnis, known as the favorite dressmaker of Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, shows a group of flattering and ladylike "Sunday silks," of which a white satin shirtwaist dress with jeweled buttons is typical. Also outstanding are a group of luxurious metallic brocades used for theater suits, short dinner dresses and coats.

Hannah Troy underscores the trend toward casual elegance with an evening ensemble of ice blue satin, the rakish collar in white mink, the matching dress cut on the simplest lines.

Toney Roberts Are Feted On Anniversary

Fifty neighbors, family and friends gathered Sunday to celebrate the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Toney A. Roberts (Winifred Canham) of Warm Springs, Alameda County, including their three sons, Edward, Gerald and Vernon and the latter's wife.

Attending from Marin County were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Canham with Ricky, William Canham, Miss Alma Kraft, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kraft with Judy from Mill Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Brusati and David from San Rafael. Another brother of Mrs. Roberts, Roy Canham and his wife, and their sons, Clark and Greg, from Menlo Park attended.

Farewells were said to Miss Alma Kraft as she was leaving on Tuesday for a tour of Europe, her destination being Germany where she will visit cousins and her youngest nephew, Maj. Arthur E. Canham and family who are now stationed in Germany after having spent the previous two years in Turkey.

Embroidery Display Forms Program Of Blythedale Lodge

A display and demonstration of handpainted embroidery was the unusual program that followed the recent meeting of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge No. 305 at the Odd Fellows Temple in Mill Valley.

During the meeting conducted by noble grand Mrs. Peggy Dahl it was suggested that a shower of birthday greetings be sent to Mrs. Anna Scott for her 91st birthday this week. Mrs. Scott has been a member of the Rebekah Lodge for over 50 years and is presently a member of Blythedale Lodge.

Mrs. Barbara Ridgeway of the Home Embroidery Co. displayed and demonstrated the unusual method of embroidery with paints. Members took part in the demonstration using tubes of paint as one would a pen or pencil in tracing in color the outlines of the stamped models.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Harry Wall, district deputy president of District 61, Rebekah Assembly of California, and Harold Owen, District Deputy Grand Master of District 11, IOOF of California.

Terra Linda Scouts Hold 2nd Annual Court Of Honor

The Girl Scouts of Terra Linda neighborhood recently held their second annual Court of Honor. The Color Guard, composed of girls from Mariner Ship 155, opened the ceremony with the presentation of the colors and the pledge of allegiance.

The Commander of the Color Guard, Claudia Steele, led the girls and the audience in singing "America The Beautiful." Toni Leisure, one of the girls chosen for the Roundup Patrol, was mistress of ceremonies and welcomed the girls and their parents. Diance Di Grazia gave the benediction. The mistress of ceremonies then introduced Mrs. Fred Thompson, who explained the need for Badge Consultants and their value. Mrs. Robert Huck gave a brief resume of the recent trip which the troops in Terra Linda had made to Sky Oaks for their first inter-troop overnight camp. Nikki Hoff and Virginia Hinckley, changemen from Ship 155 led the girls in singing. The leaders, aided by their assistant leaders, then presented the girls with the badges, awards and pins which they had worked for during the year. Each girl received her award, salute and congratulations from her leader. Mrs. W. W. High And Low News In Fashion Necklines

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)— Sometimes a girl can look more enticing in a high-necked dress than in one slashed for maximum exposure, says Oleg Cassini, reviewing his fall collection for members of the national fashion press.

Just to make sure, however, he shows necklines in two extremes — either high turtlenecks or plunging as low as the law allows.

The high-necked versions usually are fitted to reveal every curve of the figure, an effect of which Cassini is highly in favor. A new interpretation of the white tie—without tails—is his dramatic black velvet evening sheath, long, tight and devastating, with white satin bow tie worn in a new position—at the bosom.

A highlight of his collection is a snugly fitted gray wool sheath with black turtleneck dickey and an asymetric neckline below. This one he calls "Scotch and Soda."

Ben Zuckerman, known for upper-bracket suits and coats, shows severely man-tailored suits with easy fit, and sparks them with fur "gimmicks" — his word for small ascots, of mink, leopard or ermine.

Zuckerman also brings back the fitted Chesterfield coat in popcorn tweed, complete with black mink "gimmick."

John Moore, young designer for the house of Talmack, shows a youthful and wearable collection of day and evening fashions, with particular attention to glamor for the cocktail hour, in the form of brilliant metallic brocades, austerely cut.

Wedding plans of the young couple are indefinite.

Have A Fur For Every Occasion

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Need a fur for a night? A fur-leasing firm may be your best friend.

Four or five years ago a woman would have felt embarrassed to borrow a fur, says M. Dillon Russell, of Miami's only fur rental business, but nowadays it's a commonly-accepted practice.

Russel's clients include all classes, ages, sizes and purses. He receives many requests from women who can afford to buy furs, but find it more convenient to rent.

His best customers are the wives of businessmen.

"These are the women who feel they don't use furs often enough to invest in their own but they do want them for special occasions.

Renting, Russell insists, is more economical than buying a fur.

"First of all, there is no origina output. There is no worry about depreciation, no insurance, no storage, no upkeep, no remodeling.

OUTDOOR ART CLUB

Humane Society Auxiliary Plans August Salvage Sale

Mill Valley's Outdoor Art Clubhouse will be the scene of a three-day salvage sale on Aug. 2, 3 and 4, when the auxiliary of the Marin County Humane Society stages its annual fund-raising event under the chairmanship of Mrs. Stewart A. Bostwick.

In addition to children's back-to-school clothing, adult apparel, furniture and antiques, the sale will also feature a well stocked plant booth. Refreshments will be served in the patio under the direction of Mrs. Eugene Heide.

Proceeds from the sale help support the work of the animal shelter in San Rafael, provide ambulance service to Mill Valley, restore lost animals to their owners, examine animals for rabies and place unclaimed animals in suitable homes.

Mrs. Bostwick has served as director of the Humane Society for the past 24 years and has been chairman of as many local fund-raising events.

This year Mill Valley Boy Scouts will be stationed at the gate of the Blithedale avenue entrance to the Outdoor Art Clubhouse on Sunday, Aug. 2, to help unload contributions of salvage sale items from automobiles.

For the second period of flower arrangements, amateur divsion, Sally Fulton again won the blue ribbon for her arrangement of "Gold Gate Sunset," and a third for "Yosemite."

Accompanying her mother was Deborah Fulton, who took a ribbon for her arrangement of "Honey Child" — and arrangement for father made in an ash tray by juniors aged six through eight years.

In the cut flower division Gertrude Gustafsson placed second with snapdragons and Chinese forget-me-nots in the "any others not listed" division of this class, as well as a third with fuchsias. Her daughter, Christie Ann Gustafsson, won the blue ribbon for her pelargoniums in the "any others not listed" class.

SPADEWORK

Audition Dates Set For Amateur Hour

It may seem a date in the distant future but already the Entertainment Guild of Sunnyhills have done the spadework for the Amateur Hours which will be the featured show at the 60th annual Grape Festival, Saturday, Oct. 3.

Important to remember are the audition dates which have been set for Saturday, Sept. 12 at 10 a.m., Wednesday, Sept. 16 at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday, Sept. 19 at 10 a.m. in the auditorium at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Any amateur over the age of 10 is invited to compete. Musicians, singers, actors, magicians — whatever the talent, have a fine opportunity to try out and later perform.

Judges at the auditions will select those who qualify for the big show Oct. 3 at the Grape Festival. Those entrants requiring an accompanist are asked to provide their own.

Trophies for the winners will be supplied by the Lions Club of San Anselmo.

Entertainment Guild members who will handle various phases of the program are Mesdames Arthur Wigell, Kentfield, and Edward J. Ruff, Greenbrae, audition reservations chairmen; Bradford Collins, Fairfax and Elmer J. Martin, Belvedere, publicity; Ralston Hodgson, Ross, auditions; Arthur Dettner Jr., Sausalito, posters; John M. Wolfe, Kentfield and John A. Lesoine, Ross, judges; John Finn, Mill Valley, Dettner and Les Vogel Jr., Kentfield, state direction and Charles F. White, Ross, awards.

Mrs. Kitty Oppenheimer of Ross, well known radio commentator, will act as advisor during the show on festival day.

Mrs. Kershaw Weds Harold E. Winey

Mrs. Margery Lee Kershaw of Mill Valley and Harold E. Winey of San Francisco were married yesterday afternoon in the chapel of Star King School in Berkeley.

Relatives only attended the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Samuel Wright at 4 o'clock.

The bride chose for her wedding ensemble a blue lace over satin dress fashioned with boat neckline, three-quarter sleeves and bell skirt. On her hair she wore a blue satin halo coronet and lilies of the valley and forget-me-nots were attached to her purse.

Her only attendant was her aunt, Miss Fanny Adler of San Francisco, who wore a Dior blue taffeta dress, white satin hat and a corsage of phalaenopsis orchids.

Best man was Jack Adams of Mill Valley.

Among those attending the wedding were the bride's daughter, Shawn, a student at Tamalpais Valley School, and her son, Tony, who attends Tamalpais High School. Also present was the bridegroom's daughter, Susan, a student at University of California.

Following the ceremony a reception for approximately 110 guests was held at the Claremont Hotel in Berkeley.

When the couple left afterward to take a plane to Mexico City, the new Mrs. Winey was wearing a charcoal gray suit with gray beaver felt hat and black accessories. After several weeks in Mexico they will return to live in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Winey is secretary to R. Gordon Agnew, chairman of the department of Oral Pathology at the University of California. Her husband is director of the California Fund for the Salvation Army.

Newlyweds Are Feted At Reception

Just returned home from a tour of duty with the U.S. Air Force in England is S/Sgt. Henry G. Stuehmeyer and his British bride, the former Joan Thorp, whose parents reside in Ruthin, England.

This is the first trip to the United States for the new Mrs. Stuehmeyer. After driving to San Rafael from New York, she says, "It certainly is big," and that the weather here is more like that in England.

A reception was held in their honor at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gimi John Sessi in San Rafael Meadows.

Their next tour of duty will be at Portland International Airport, in Portland, Ore.

Show Will Feature Morgan Collection

"If summer comes can fall fashions be far behind? And what better place to find the answer to this question on these warm summer days than around the cool pool at Rickey's Rancho Rafael?

For "Fashion Forecast for Fall" is next in the Fashion Focus series of luncheon fashion shows to be held next Tuesday.

To be show in an exclusive preview is the Jackie Morgan fall collection, which will be flown from Los Angeles for this first in a series of six major previews of fashion trends for fall. This designer, who specializes in coats, suits, costume suits and after five wools, has risen to top rank in the moderately priced field. Checks, plaids, and paisleys in browns, mahoganys, beige and rust reflecting the earth tones of Marin's well loved hills will be featured.

In the spotlight as honored community service group will be the Marin Volunteers, a group of Marin County women dedicated to serving the needs of Marin's Senior Citizens. In order to attend, the group will take time off from "Trade Whims," its recently-opened thrift shop in the basement of the Senior Center.

Modeling will be Mesdames William Donohoe, Clarence Amonette Jr., William Byron Wallace, Raymond Brusati, Evelyn Husby, Corky Jones, and Caroline Rose, president of the Marin Volunteers.

Reservations for the luncheon which begins at 12:30 p.m. may be made by calling Rickey's. The fashion show will start at 1 p.m. and clothes will be modeled informally around the poolside tables so that guests may inspect colors and fabrics at close range.

Mother Claims College Is A Waste For Women

Mrs. A. E. "I agree with the professor who said women should not go to college. I graduated five years ago, expecting to be a teacher. Instead, I married. I now have four children. My life is an endless round of drudgery. Any dumbbell could do what I do. My sister did not go to college. She also has four children and is much happier than I am. She doesn't know what she is missing. Doesn't college really make a girl unfit for motherhood?"

Reply. Probably some colleges do. A few women's college presidents say they consider their graduates who get married failures. That's an awful attitude. Most college leaders disagree with them. I believe that in general college graduates make superior mothers. They know more about human nature. They have broader horizons. Don't say any dumbbell could do what you do. You should use your training and insight in your delicate job of getting the little ones off to a good start in life.

Mrs. T. Y. "My daughter is 12. She's a happy little thing. She never has asked about 'the facts of life.' She doesn't know where babies come from, or how they are born. Should I bring up the subject with her?"

Reply. Your daughter is unusual. Probably you should bring up the subject indirectly. Can you have a pet which will reproduce? That would lead to conversations. You might follow the suggestions in the Child Study Association's paperback book, "What To Tell Your Children About Sex." Price 35c. All children should know the facts of life before reaching their teens. It is an important safeguard.

Mrs. P. V. "I'm still upset over your preference for cross-breed dogs. I have a kennel where I raise German shepherds which have been bred for good dispositions. They make wonderful pets. Can't you admit that?"

Reply. Yes, of course. If parents can find a strain of pure-bred dogs which have been bred for a good disposition, they'll get good pets.

A stewardess held the child at the door of the plane. She turned and went back inside. Seconds later, the child was dead.

A doctor said the baby apparently died of pneumonia.

Better Welfare Staff Is Sought

SACRAMENTO (UPI — The state Department of Social Welfare is aiming to have a far better qualified staff by 1965.

The department has proposed a new employee classification plan related to an overall management pattern. The plan went before county welfare directors and personnel directors recently and includes new ideas for recruitment, training, scholarship, supervision salaries and public understanding.

Radio Energy Used To Study Circulation

BERKELEY (UPI—A scientist at University of California here has come up with a radical new method of studying blood circulation that promises to be a great boon in the development of new drugs and medicines.

Dr. Jerome R. Singer, associate professor of electrical engineering, said his method starts with a small amount of radio energy sent through the patient's tissue, not enough to do harm. By studying this energy's absorption, Singer learns about the patient's blood.

FCC Considers Plans To Shift TV Channels

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Communications Commission yesterday announced it is considering several channel change proposals which would make Fresno a predominately VHF television area.

The FCC said it also is considering a proposal to add VHF Channels 8 and 12 to Bakersfield if the Mexican government concurs. Bakersfield also has VHF Channel 10 and UHF Channels 17, 29 and 39.

The commission said it is proposing to assign VHF educational Channels 2, 5, 7, along with Channel 9, to Fresno. It also proposes to keep UHF Channel 53 in that city.

Channels 12, 18, 24 and 47 would be moved from Fresno, Channels 5 and 9 would be removed from Goldfield and Tonopah, Nev., respectively.

The commission said KJEO in Fresno would have to shift from UHF Channel 47 to Channel 2, McClatchy station KMJ-TV from 24 to 5, and Triangle Publications, Inc. station KFRE-TV from 12 to 9.

The commission also invited comments on conflicting proposals to assign additional VHF channels to either Sacramento or San Francisco.

S. F. Bay Pollution Study Authorized

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday signed a bill appropriating $213,000 from the California water fund to begin studies and investigations of water pollution in the Sacramento River and in the San Francisco Bay Area.

The bill was authored by Assemblyman Charles W. Meyers (D-San Francisco.)

Under the measure, the state Department of Water Resources will received $130,000 for the first year's study of the Sacramento River problem. The studies will continue for three years at an estimated cost of $400,000.

The University of California will receive $83,000 under the bill for the first year's study of water pollution in the Bay Area. The investigation is expected to require five years, and will cost about $428,000.

BELTS

Partial Survey Finds Car Seat Belts Little Used

SACRAMENTO (CNS) Only about one automobile out of 33 in California is equipped with saftey belts, but these are in use only about on-fourth of the time.

Any expanded use of the safety belts is up to the individual motorist. The recent Legislature killed a bill which would have required the devices in all California vehicles after 1961.

In addition, the Legislature directed the California Highway Patrol to discontinue an opinion-survey of its investigating officers. For about a year, each officer filled out a form after an accident, noting whether seat belts were present and in use, and possible effects. The form also included a space for the officers' opinions on what might have resulted in no-belt-equipped vehicles if they had been installed and in use.

Of 54,409 automobiles involved in accidents checked during the first half of last year, only 1,975 were equipped with one or more belts. If the belt was in the driver's seat, it was in use about one-third of the time but usage of belts in other passenger positions was only about one in five.

Results of the opinion forms were punched on cards and sent to Cornell University for processing. However, results were somewhat less than conclusive.

In the first place, CHP officers are "sold" on use of the belts, most of them fastening their safety belts as automatically as they turn on the ignition switch. Because of this opinion, they tended to minimize the possible effectiveness of belts, when they were not present, to keep from being influenced by their own judgment.

In addition, the opinions appeared to be influenced by the presence or absence of injury. Opinions stating the belt was effective appeared more frequently when the belt had been used than when it had not been available.

More POWER to you . . . with COLOR!

COLOR IS DRAMATIC. It flags attention . . . more people stop, look, and read. Surveying 3,600 men and women readers, the Houston Chronicle found that color practically doubled the readership of advertising. A message was remembered as much as three times longer than when printed in black and white. Twice as many readers said they purchased products advertised in color than responded to similar black and white ads. A particular color ad tested was remembered by 53% of the men and 69% of the women a month after it was published.

These dynamic results confirm the experience of thousands of advertisers in all parts of the country. Similar action is obtained with color in the I-J right here in Marin, at only slightly higher rates than for ads in black and white. Every week more local advertisers are using the powerful selling force of color in their Independent-Journal ads to produce extra sales.

For full information on how to give plus-power to your advertising with color, ask the I-J.

SHE SPEAKS FOR WILD HORSES

Mrs. Velma B. Johnston, Wadsworth, Nev., ranch woman known as "Wild Horse Annie," displays photographs which she showed the House Judiciary Subcommittee yesterday she appeared before that body in Washington to urge passage of a law controlling the hunting of wild mustangs on western ranges. The left photo, she said, shows a horse bleeding at the nostrils after being chased by plane. The right picture, she added, shows a horse tied to a tire to wear it down after capture. The subcommittee yesterday heard a number of advocates of a law prohibiting mechanized roundups. U. S. Bureau of Land Management spokesmen said they wish to hold the size of wild horse herds down to prevent serious competition for grazing with game animals and livestock. (AP Wirephoto)

KHRUSHCHEV TELLS POLES:

Russ 'Will Never Launch War'

SOSNOWIEC, Poland (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today pledged that the Soviet Union would never start a war against anyone, anywhere at any time.

He told a cheering throng of delegates at a meeting of miners unions in this Silesian industrial town: "I give you our solemn pledge that never, never, never shall we launch any war against any country anywhere at any time."

He said he did not believe capitalist countries would start war either but claimed that was because the "balance of forces" is now overwhelmingly in favor of the Communists.

He predicted inevitable victory for communism — with "struggles" but without war.

"I believe that, as I believe the sun will rise tomorrow.

"We want coexistence; we don't want war. We don't need war. Neither do the capitalist countries. When they thought they would win they wanted war, but I believe they have become wiser."

Khrushchev said people accused him of having said that communism would be the gravedigger of capitalism.

"All right, I did say it. But I didn't mean we would take shovels and dig their graves, only that history will inevitably give the victory to socialism—not voluntarily, we must struggle."

Khurshchev said he had told recent American visitors: "We are stronger than you are. You have no intercontinental ballistic missiles. You send up rockets containing oranges. We send up rockets which can carry several tons . . .

"You cannot equal us."

His listeners cheered and applauded.

Khrushchev asked himself when the struggle between capitalism and communism will end. He answered:

"When we have unified society all over the world, because all workers have the same interest, the best way to eliminate war is the gaining of power by Communists all over the world."

Khrushchev spoke with bitterness about capitalists.

"I say to you capitalists, if there were a God and He could act He would take strong broom and sweep you out."

ENLISTED MEN NOT SERVANTS FOR OFFICERS, SOLONS TOLD

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department denied today that enlisted men are being pressed into "demeaning or degrading" work as officers' servants.

Asst. Defense Secretary Charles C. Finuncane told a House armed services subcommittee that 2,070 GIs are serving as orderlies, stewards, or drivers on the personal staffs of officers. As such, he said, they relieve senior officers of "numerous administrative chores."

Finuncane added that the men are not employed as servants. To do so, he said, would be to violate the law.

The subcommittee on military manpower is studying complaints that many GIs are performing tasks for officers ranging from baby-sitting to housework.

Sequoia Fire Control Near

PORTERVILLE (AP) — A fire which has burned approximately 6,000 acres of brush, grass and commercial timber in the Kern Canyon area of the Sequoia National Forest apparently was near control today.

Most of the loss has been in brush and grasslands.

The fire-fighting force was being reduced with the fire 70 per cent controlled this morning and conditions favorable.

Letter In Mail Box Torn By Tamperer

Mail tamperers tore up a letter inside a Kentfield mail box, Kentfield Postmaster Jack Benze reported to the Marin sheriff's office yesterday.

The victim was Gene Nielson, retired, who lives at 20 Hillside road, Kentfield. Nielson told Deputy Sheriff George Barnes that he found a letter from Australia had been torn open. The letter and several photographs had been torn and put back into the envelope.

Pills Hospitalize Sausalito Man

Russell C. Ryan Jr., 24, of 60 Monte Mar drive, Sausalito, son of a San Francisco physician, swallowed a half bottle of barbituate tablets at his home yesterday afternoon.

He was found by his father, who called police. The fire department ambulance took the young man to Marin General Hospital where he was treated and later discharged.

Police Chief Howard Goerndt reported the son had written a note outlining what disposition should be made of his personal effects.

Russ European Aim Becoming Clearer

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — The Soviet Union's main political aim in Europe now is becoming clear. It is to set up East Germany as a showpiece Communist state and Moscow's strongest continental ally by 1961.

The Soviets seem determined to obtain by 1961 a settlement dividing Germany indefinitely or reuniting the country but neutralizing it. That apparently is the significance of Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's proposal that the situation in Berlin be frozen by 18 months while a committee of West and East Germans negotiate on reunification.

It is the considered Allied view that Soviet aid meanwhile will boost East German military and economic power in an effort to offset (1) any Allied moves to train and equip West German forces with nuclear weapons and (2) the attraction and power of the booming West German economy.

One big problem the Reds have been unable so far to solve is the possibility of an anti - Communist upheaval among the 17 million East Germans.

Ever-haunting fear of uprising lies behind the current Soviet effort to squeeze the Allies out of West Berlin. If Moscow were to succeed, the Reds would have a clear field in which to cancel the magnet which West Berlin is for untold numbers of grumblers and discontented in East Germany.

Boy, 6, Admits Starting Blaze

A 6-year-old San Rafael boy admitted starting a fire that consumed three-fourths of an acre of grass on Glen Park avenue about 6 p.m. yesterday.

Officer A. M. Newman said the boy tearfully told his father that he and a companion, age 5, had been playing, and that he used a match to ignite the grass. Both youngsters were ordered to see the juvenile officer today.

San Rafael firemen raced to Glen Park north of Myrtle avenue and had the fire out in less than an hour.

The original settlement at St. Paul, Minn., was called Innijiska. It became St. Paul in 1841.

Scientist Urges U. S. Build Big A-Smasher

WASHINGTON (AP)—A famed atomic scientist said today the United States should build the proposed new atom smasher which he described as history's most expensive piece of research equipment.

But Dr. Henry DeWolf Smyth of Princeton cautioned against any tendency to cut corners on basic research in other fields because of the expense that would be involved in the new machine.

Smyth testified at hearings on a proposal that the government underwrite the construction of a two-mile-long "electron linear accelerator" that would be built at Stanford University.

It would cost approximately 105 million dollars and require at least 15 million a year to operate.

The hearings were held by the joint House-Senate atomic subcommittee on research and development.

Smyth said the proposed device "is the most expensive piece of research esuipment I have ever heard proposed.

But he said he believes the project "is scientifically sound and the results will be worth the cost."

Helicopter Used To Rescue Man

KINGS CANYON-SEQUOIA NATIONAL PARK (AP)—An Air Force turbo jet helicopter today plucked a bruised and bleeding fisherman from the 12,500 foot level of the park—one of the highest altitude rescues ever made in the West.

Robert Moser, 54, of Palm Springs, injured Tuesday when dragged by a pack mule, was flown from a meadow three miles from Sky Blue Lake to Lone Pine. There he was transferred to another aircraft and sped to a Visalia hospital.

The "Savannah," the United States' first atomic merchant vessel, will have a cruising radius of 350,000 miles compared to the present average of 10,000 miles.

'Wanted To See What Makes Me Tick' Says Slick Burglar

LOS ANGELES (AP)—At 24 a success, by some standards, he wanted to start over—to turn the page and become an entirely new person.

That's why he worked so hard at his adopted trade—burglary—says Gordon Ellis Atteberry.

He was good at it. He says he carried off more than 200 burglaries, which netted him $100,000 or more. He kept three luxurious apartments at once. He eluded officers in almost 48 states, Canada and Mexico.

When caught, he was dropping his last nickel in a Reno, Nev., parking meter.

All through his months of exciting flight from one police trap to another, the keen-minded lawbreaker kept trying to figure himself out.

"I want to see what makes me tick," he said yesterday on returning to Los Angeles.

Atteberry worked successfully as a professional hypnotist, actor, writer and photographer of nudes. He studied engineering at the Universities of Colorado and Wisconsin. He's described as an expert at electronics.

Still there was something lacking in his life.

"I planned to reduce my age by five years, assume a new identity and eventually enter the University of Florida as a premedical student majoring in psychology," he says.

So he became a burglar.

"I'd been capering (committing burglaries) for at least five or six months," he said. "I averaged four or five jobs a night, very seldom ever taking a night off. I averaged in money about $100 a night."

LOOT IS FOUND

Police found $100,000 worth of loot in his apartments last March. They got onto him after a husband complained Atteberry was stealing his wife.

His confession is sprinkled with hair-raising escapes. In Kansas he shot a policeman—"to scare him"—and swam the Missouri River, then hid in a hollow log for eight or ten hours. In Reno he said he decided it would be easy to blow up the jail—but he refrained. In Montana he bluffed through a roadblock. In New England he "pulled a few jobs." He put 40,000 miles on a car he stole in Hollywood.

He was ordered held for preliminary hearing in lieu of $105,000 bail. He professed to be glad he'd been caught.

'FEW WHITE MARKS'

"I want to find myself so I can operate successfully in society, and relate myself to society," he said. "Perhaps I can make a few white marks to offset the black ones."

Said Detective Sgt. Tom L. Rogers, who rode with him from Reno to Los Angeles:

"He's always analyzing himself."

TO PORTLAND

Woman, 71, Hiking 25 Miles A Day

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Mrs. Emma Gatewood, 71-year-old great-grandmother of six, stopped here overnight on her trip from Independence, Mo., to Portland, Ore. — on foot.

She bought a new pair of shoes.

"People have been trying to scare me out of this for a long time," said Mrs. Gatewood, who lives in Gallipolis, Ohio. "But I haven't had any trouble. I just take things as they come."

She says she is enjoying the trip, making about 25 or 26 miles a day, turning down all offers of rides and staying overnight usually at a motel.

She carries some spare clothing, food, water and a blanket in a 14-pound pack. She also carries an umbrella.

Mrs. Gatewood is a widow. She has 11 children, 27 grandchildren and 6 great-grandchildren.

She started the 2,000-mile trek May 4.

Mill Valley Man Unhurt

Joseph Cazassus, 46, of 24 Sumerset lane, Mill Valley, had a lucky escape from injury when his car was sideswiped on the San Francisco Embarcadero yesterday.

The accident happened after the admitted consumption of "eight or nine beers" by James Foubister, 21-year-old apprentice machinist of San Francisco, who sped between Piers 29 and 31 and hit a pedestrian, Lilburn Watts, 52, of Redwood City, after just missing two others. Watts suffered a broken arm, shock, cuts and bruises.

Foubister then hit Cazassus' car at Battery and Filbert streets, halted, and asked that police be called.

He faces charges of felony drunk driving and suspicion of felony hit-and-run, speeding and violation of a pedestrian's right of way.

Adventurers At Marquesas

Four bachelors who sailed from Sausalito for the South Seas last March in the 46-foot ketch Blue Sea have reached the Marquesas in French Polynesia, the brother-in-law of one reported today.

Those who sailed were George B. Willcutt of Kentfield and Ross, and brother-in-law of County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel; Gilbert C. Wheat of Kent Woodlands; James R. Cunha, a San Francisco attorney, and Henry W. Taft III of New York.

Broemmel said a radiogram had been received by a friend of one of the sailors, saying the ketch had arrived at the French island possession.

State Ended Fiscal Year In Black

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Controller Alan Cranston has announced that the State of California ended the fiscal year $13,773,358 in the black.

Cranston yesterday attributed the "healthy glow" of the state's general fund to stringent government economies and the transfers of the last of reserve funds.

In addition, what could have been a deficit was offset by the legislature's action in advancing insurance company taxes from November to June in order to gain $55,167,752.

Total general fund revenues for the 1958-59 fiscal year ending June 30 were $1,211,682,245, Cranston reported. This was an increase of $104,487,465 or 9.44 per cent over 1957-58.

Total expenditures were $1,273,341,633, an increase of $98,824,139 or 8.41 per cent over the previous fiscal year.

Major contributor to the general fund in the past fiscal year was the state's three per cent sales tax which netted $631,096,838. Principal outgo was for schools which cost $571,045,118.

Aid To Low Assessment Counties Cut

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Legislation cutting state school aid to counties with below average property assessments and increasing aid for counties above average was signed yesterday by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

School districts whose aid is cut under the new law will be permitted to ask the county board of supervisors to levy a special school tax on property, without a popular vote.

The new law, introduced by Assemblyman John L. E. Collier (R-Los Angeles) will shuffle apportionment of about 150 million dollars in equalization aid given to school districts each year.

"On the basis of past performance this will penalize more counties than it benefits," said Dixwell L. Pierce, executive secretary of the state board of Equalization.

Electric Union, Employers Sign

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Disputing electricians of 17 northern counties and electrical contractors settled on a two-year contract yesterday calling for a 50 cent an hour package raise.

The pay and fringe benefit increases will be put into effect at the rate of 12½ cents each six months. The contract will expire July 1, 1961.

Most electricians refused to work for a time after the old contract expired July 1. The 1,000 members of Local 340 had been earning $4.21 an hour, including 15 cents in fringe benefits.

CLOSEUP OF A SUNSPOT—Princeton astronomer Dr. Martin Schwartzschild said today this is the best picture ever obtained of a sunspot. It was taken last Saturday with a telescope camera mounted beneath a high altitude balloon and controlled from the ground by television. The dark area is part of a 25,000 mile sunspot, made up of gases 2,800 degrees cooler than sun's surface. Small black dots and black streak at left were caused by flaws in the camera system. Police Reinforced In Tense Harlem

NEW YORK (UPI) — Additional police were moved into Harlem and three other heavily Negro districts today to lessen the danger of a race riot. Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy, in announcing the move, charged that the danger had been increased by "inflammatory statements" by politicians.

"The people who are doing most of the talking are interested in the political situation," Kennedy told a news conference. His reference was to current primary campaigns for party district leadership.

"If there were no tensions before, they now have been certainly started by inflammatory statements by such people."

Kennedy named no politicians, but he apparently made reference to statements of seven Negro leaders who met at City Hall Tuesday after a threatening crowd incident at a Harlem precinct station.

Manhattan borough president Hulan E. Jack, one of those leaders, said tension was rising dangerously in the district, not because of police action, but because of housing and economic problems.

The Monday night incident involved the arrest of a 21-year-old Puerto Rican woman on charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. More than 500 persons milled around a police station in an angry mood over reports she had been beaten. The woman denied through her lawyer yesterday that she had been mistreated or ever claimed to be.

Slayer Denied Execution Stay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black yesterday denied a stay of execution for Marion J. Linden, scheduled to die Aug. 7 in San Quentin Prison for the murder of a Los Angeles policeman.

Linden had asked a stay in order to allow for an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court from an adverse ruling by the California Supreme Court. He claimed he was denied effective counsel and the right to an impartial jury.

He was convicted of murdering police officer Leo Wise in 1957.

Sergeant Honored At Presido Rites

M/Sgt. Robert E. Sherrill, 1550 Armstrong avenue, Novato, has been presented with the Army commendation ribbon with metal pendant in ceremonies at the Presidio of San Francisco. Maj. Gen. John W. Harmony, commanding general of the 15th Army Corps (Reserve) officiated at the presentation.

The ribbon was awarded Sherrill for his outstanding supervision over administrative and operational activities of enlisted personnel in his post as intelligence sergeant in the G-2 section, U.S. Army, Alaska from June 27, 1956, to March 30, 1959.

Radio Back To Normal After Sunspots Flare

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Worldwide radio communications slowly returned to normal today after 24 hours of disruption caused by sun spots and accompanying electrical disturbances.

The solar activity was described by scientists as the greatest in many years.

The sun spots resulted from an immense explosion of the sun's gases.

The huge flare on the sun was observed early Tuesday in Europe and its effects were felt 30 hours later on earth.

It was the second such bombardment in the last 45 days and a Standards Bureau spokesman said its effects were expected to equal or exceed the record disturbance of Feb. 11, 1958.

A cosmic ray balloon was launched yesterday by University of Chicago physicists to measure the subatomic particles loosed by the solar blast.

Cable communications and telephone connections between New York and London were not affected by the atmospheric disturbances but lines were jammed because other communication was washed out.

Firm Forbidden To Ask Religion Of Job Applicants

NEW YORK (AP)—A state Supreme Court justice has forbidden the Arabian-American Oil Co. (Aramco) to ask the religion of job applicants in New York State.

The decision upset a ruling by the state Commission Against Discrimination which had exempted Aramco from state laws prohibiting such questions in employment.

Many Aramco employees are sent to Saudi Arabia, which is stringent in Arab barriers against Jews.

The court decision was made yesterday by Justice Henry Epstein. He sent the case back to the state Commission Against Discrimination for action "not inconsistent with this opinion."

Drunken Driver Gets $350 Fine

A Ukiah motel operator, caught drunken driving, must pay a $350 fine and not drive for 90 days.

Edward Dixie Morgan, 48, was sentenced Tuesday by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court. The judge put him on two years' probation and suspended his driver's license for 90 days.

Morgan was arrested on Highway 101 on June 5.

Edward Stuart Durham, 49, of 55 Hillside drive, Mill Valley, also lost his license for 60 days. He is on 10 months' probation and must pay a $150 fine. Durham was arrested on Highway 101 last April 29.

Antonelli And McCormick Oppose Phillies Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A slightly worried Bill Rigney will send Mike McCormick and Johnny Antonelli to the mound tonight for San Francisco in a twin bill against the Philadelphia Phils.

Rigney showed real concern after the Giants were rained out for the second straight day yesterday.

"I sure hope we get to play (today)," Rigney said. "That first rainout was all right because we were tired from the Milwaukee series, but too long a layoff won't do us any good now that we've started to roll."

"We only come back here one more time and I don't like the idea of having to play three double-headers in a row, not in this kind of race," the Giant manager said.

"We've only got nine pitchers, and five of them have been doing almost all the work. If these double-headers keep piling up, we're certainly going to have to get another pitcher, but right at the moment I don't know where."

Rigney still feels Milwaukee is the team to beat, although right now the Giants hold first place by a game over Los Angeles. The Braves are third, 1½ games back.

Rigney was also anxious to see McCormick (8-7) pitch here. Mike has tossed three shutouts at the Phils this season, including that five inning no-hitter.

San Francisco's pitching rotation is set for the remainder of the road trip, thanks to the two days of rest. Rigney will call upon Sam Jones to hurl the first game against Pittsburgh tomorrow. Jack Sanford will pitch Saturday and Stu Miller and Eddie Fisher will work the Sunday doubleheader.

That will leave Antonelli and McCormick ready for work against Los Angeles in Seals stadium on Monday and Tuesday.

The Phils will send Robin Roberts (7-8) and Gene Conley (7-5) against the Giants tonight. Both have beaten the Giants this year.

Antonelli (13-4) holds seven straight decisions over the Phils. They haven't beaten him since August of 1957.

Mat Palacio Beaten In National Publinx

DENVER (AP) — Defending champion Dan Sikes Jr. of Jacksonville, Fla., and 15 other hopefuls faced third round foes today in the National Public Links golf tournament.

Sikes' opponent was Leonard Pietras of Toledo, Ohio.

Don Essig II of Indianapolis, the 1957 champion, tangled with Randy Petri of Austin, Tex.

Other third round tests over the 5,617-yard, par 71 Wellshire Municipal course sent William McCool of San Francisco against Hugh Farmer of Toledo; Jack Zimmerman of Dayton, Ohio, against Gene Towry of Dallas; Cliff Brown of Cleveland against Frank Campbell of Jacksonville, Fla.; Bill Tindall of Seattle against Don Kristofitz of Fargo, N. D.; William Wright of Seattle against Wallace Smith of Pontiac, Mich., and Raymond Massey of Miami, Fla., against Gene Dahlbender of Atlanta, Ga.

Yesterday's big casualties were Mat Palacio Jr. of San Rafael, Calif., Rich Casabella of Louisville, Ky., and Dr. Donald Keith of San Diego, Calif. All posted 36-hole qualifying totals of 138 — a single stroke behind medalist Sikes.

Palacio lost to Wright 5 and 4. Casabella bowed on the 19th hole to Bob Denton of Peoria, Ill., after defeating Richard Hopwood of Phoenix, Ariz., 1 up. Dr. Keith was eliminated by Campbell by a similar score.

Survivors of the morning round today squared off in the afternoon quarter-finals.

Sikes squeezed by two opponents yesterday. The 28-year-old University of Florida law student edged Al Benefiel of Denver 1 up and Marshall Strauss of Highland, Ill., 2 and 1.

Pietras, after downing Akira Hashimoto of Honolulu, 4 and 3, had to go 24 holes before nipping Larry Lee of Spokane, Wash., 1 up.

Essig disposed of Steve Swain of Los Angeles on the 20th hole 1 up and trimmed Conrad Guenther of Minneapolis 2 up. Petri whipped Harold Kotwitz of Janesville, Wis., 6 and 5 and Jack Omuro of Honolulu 2 and 1.

JACK HANLEY'S REPORT

Russ Athletes Top Subject In Philly

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA— Still feeling the effects of Milwaukee's classic one-two punchers (Lou Burdette and Warren Spahn), and the Braves' soporific socker (Eddie Mathews), the Giants checked into Philadelphia's Warwick Hotel at 4 a.m. the other morning.

At that hour the lobby was deserted except for a couple of bellboys, waiting to manhandle the mountain of luggage, and the night desk clerk, waiting to dispense room keys which he had neatly arranged along the counter with each individual's name attached.

At noon when the first of the Giants began filing back downstairs in search of belated breakfasts after eight hours in the sack, the lobby was jumping. But not for the Giants. The main attraction was the Russian track and field team.

The Russians — 42 men and 17 women athletes — preceded the Giants into the Warwick by 12 hours and they definitely were the celebrities, not the baseball players.

BASEBALL was temporarily shelved as a subject of conversation. After all, it was raining and the scheduled double-header opening the four game series with the Phillies was postponed. And, furthermore, major league ball players — even pennant contenders — seem to be checking in and out of town every day.

Eyeing the Russians close-up became the lobby custom, not only for the hotel personnel and the rest of the guests, but the Giants as well. Their identifying insignia — blue blazers —made them easy to spot.

Without the blazers, they could have passed without one head being turned. This would have been particularly true in the case of Vasily Kuznetsov, the ascestic looking hero of the Russian delegation.

KUZNETSOV, without his blazer, could have passed for one of the Ivy League boys. He has that kind of haircut.

One reason Kuznetsov, at 27, is the world's decathlon star is the way he goes about his job. He keeps his supple six-foot-one, 183-pound frame in top condition with a rigid routine that calls for four hours of practice daily, six days a week.

Kuznetsov expressed disappointment that UCLA's Rafer Johnson, victim of a back injury, would not participate in the US-USSR meet at University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field.

In last year's dual meet in Moscow, Johnson was acclaimed as something of a superman when he posted a new world's record of 8,307 points which Kuznetsov bettered by 50 points just two months ago.

"I was looking forward to meeting him again," said Kuznetsov through an interpreter.

"Do you think you would have beaten him?"

"I want to compete, not beat," was the diplomatic reply. "Johnson is a fine athlete, a fine man and sportsman."

A HIGH SCHOOL anatomy and psychology teacher when he isn't practicing the 10 demanding decathlon events, Kuznetsov also replied to a variety of questions on all subjects.

He's a camera and jazz bug. Satch is his favorite. He dug rock n' roll for a while but "too much — no good." Like other Moscovites, he didn't cotton to the antics of the Harlem Globetrotters. He dismissed them with "To each his own taste." (Note to Abe Saperstein: He said it with a smile, Abe.)

On the serious side, recalling that his father was killed in World War II, Kuznetsoy said:

"We are all tired of war."

FEW SIGHTINGS

Air Force Hearing Less Of Saucers

WASHINGTON (AP) — There apparently are fewer flying saucers around these days. At least, the Air Force said yesterday it is hearing less about them.

The number of mystery objects reported sighted in the first six months of this year was only 143, compared with 296 during the previous half-year period.

As in the previous periodic reports, the Air Force said its investigation of unidentified flying objects has provided no evidence to confirm the existence of flying saucers as interplanetary or interstellar space ships.

Astronomical bodies or natural phenomena accounted for the highest percentage of sightings in the period covered by the latest report. Sixty-five objects were identified as astronomical. Aircraft accounted for 23 sightings, balloons for 7, and birds, searchlights, and hoaxes perpetrated by pranksters accounted for 19.

The Air Force said 26 reports included insufficient data to permit any conclusion. Three reported objects could not be identified.

Crash Hurts HAFB Man

A 23-year-old airman from Hamilton Air Force Base was in Sonoma Valley Hospital in Sonoma today with a possible spine fracture after his open sports car left the road three miles south of Sonoma early today, tearing through 80 feet of barbed wire fence.

A/2c Patrick Hilliry Doran of Petaluma, assigned to the 4754th Radar Evaluation Squadron at Hamilton, was cited for speeding, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Doran was to have been transferred by ambulance to the Hamilton hospital sometime today. Attendants at the Sonoma hospital reported his condition "satisfactory."

The accident happened at 2:30 a.m. on Watmaugh road as Doran was attempting to light a cigarette, the CHP reported.

Knows His Nature

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Jailer Dave Edwards received this note from Alex Maldonado, serving 60 days for petty theft: "I would consider it a personal favor if you would not send me to the jail annex because I think I would try to run away. In fact, I know I would. So I would rather spend my 60 days up here and go out clean. Maldonado's request was granted.

'Shoe' Wins 4 Races

INGLEWOOD (AP) — Jockey Willie Shoemaker rode four winners at Hollywood Park yesterday, including Caronat ($8.80) in the $10,000 feature.

49ers Count Heavily On Rookie Crop

New Coach Howard "Red" Hickey opens his San Francisco 49ers pro football training camp on July 25 with 30 rookies and 14 veterans, including the two top quarterbacks.

Indicating he wants to get right down to business, Hickey invited signal callers Y. A. Tittle and John Brodie to take part in the early drills.

St. Mary's College again is the scene of operations for the San Francisco club, which opens its pre-season schedule against the Washington Redskins at Kezar Stadium on Aug. 16.

Hickey, who succeeded Frankie Albert as head coach, counts heavily on the rookies. He's let veteran linemen Lou Palatella and Bob Toneff go in trades. Yesterday end Gordy Soltau announced his retirement.

Some observers believe the 49ers will keep 12 to 15 rookies on their squad, more than double the usual number.

After the shakedown for the newcomers, the rest of the veterans report to the camp at Moraga on Aug. 2.

Five outstanding newcomers have been invited to the All-Star game in Chicago and will miss early 49ers drills. In the group are halfbacks Dave Baker of Oklahoma and Eddie Dove, Colorado; quarterback Bobby Newman of Washington State, center Dan James, Ohio State and tackle Frank Geremia of Notre Dame.

With Tittle and Brodie among the veterans in the early call were halfbacks Abe Woodson, Bill Atkins and Bobby Luna; fullback J. D. Smith, linebackers Jerry Tubbs, Denny Morris and Karl Rubke; end Fred Dugan, tackle Charlie Kruger, guards John Wittenborn and John Thomas and center Frank Morze.

Oklahoma linebacker Bob Harrison, one of the nation's top collegiate stars last season, will miss the All-Star game because of a leg cut suffered in a boating accident last month. He'll be at the 49ers training camp, but won't be in heavy drills for a month at least.

Newcomers to the coaching staff are Jack Christiansen, former Detroit defensive halfback ace who'll direct the defensive backfield, and Bob Shaw, formerly a Los Angeles Ram, who'll help with the offensive ends and backs.

Nalu II Possible Trans-Pac Winner

HONOLULU (UPI)—The 46-foot sloop Nalu II appeared today to be the only yacht with a chance to better the handicap time of the yawl Chubasco in the 21st Trans-Pacific race from San Pedro to Diamond Head.

The Nalu II, owned by Peter Grant of Balboa, is capable of making 180 miles in a daily run—and freshening winds off Hawaii are just what she needs.

The sloop has a 3-day, 10-hour handicap and can beat the Chubasco if she crosses the finish line by early tomorrow.

The 66-foot Chubasco skimmed past Diamond Head at dawn yesterday to become a top favorite to win both the Class B and the fleet handicap divisions. She was the second finisher.

Ralph Larrabee's 161-foot schooner Goodwill, the scratch boat, was the first arrival Tuesday night. Sally Blair Ames' 75-foot schooner Constellation finished third, about four hours behind the Chubasco.

The Chubasco is owned by Arnold Haskell and skippered by Don Haskell of the Newport, Calif., Yacht club. Her actual crossing time was 10 days, 20 hours, 18 minutes and 16 seconds.

John Graham's 67-foot yawl Maruffa from Seattle arrived fourth, shortly before noon. The fifth finisher was E. L. Doheny's ketch Kamalii of Los Angeles.

The next three yachts to cross the finish line were the 72-foot yawl Escapade, owned by Baldwin M. Baldwin and registered at the Newport Y.C.; the 66-foot cutter Nam Sang, owned by A. B. Robbs Jr., of the Los Angeles Y.C., and the 90-foot ketch Novia Del Mar, owned by John P. Scripps of the San Diego Y.C.

The Novia Del Mar made the entire trip in silence after losing her radio communications shortly after leaving San Pedro on July 4.

The 60-foot yawl Criterion, owned by Ira P. Fulmor of the Newport Harbor club, crossed Diamond Head last night—and six of the remaining 32 yachts in the race were expected to finish today.

CANDLESTICK SET FOR WORLD SERIES, IF...

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Top men in San Francisco baseball circles agree the San Francisco Giants, should they win a pennant, will represent the National League in 42,500-seat Candlestick Park.

"There is no question if we get in the World Series we will play there," said Business Manager Jerry Donovan yesterday. He added he knows President Horace Stoneham also wants to play the last 18 games of the season there.

The Giants, now a game in front of Los Angeles, presently play in 22,000-seat Seals Stadium, smallest in the majors.

Their final home stand begins Sept. 2, and contractor Charles Harney said "I think we'll be right in there, knocking at the door."

In any event, he added, "If the Giants get the series, they'll be safe."

Hockey Star Signed

DETROIT (AP)— Terry Sawchuk, Detroit Red Wing goalie and six times a member of the National Hockey League's All-Star team, was signed to a new contract yesterday.

MIMS DEFEATS BENTON IN VIDEO FIGHT

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)— Holly Mims' manager is still worried, even though his clever fighter outpointed hard-punching George Benton in 10 rounds last night.

"I was afraid of this guy Benton," said Manager Nick Trotta. "He was the most feared middleweight around. I suppose now that we've beaten him we won't get any other fights for 10 months."

Mims, eighth-ranked middleweight who fights out of Baltimore, weighed 155¾ as he tied up Benton's attack, refusing to give the 159½-pound Philadelphian punching-room.

The winner concentrated on short right uppercuts in taking an unanimous decision in the nationally televised bout.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Drysdale Sparkplug In L. A. Title Drive

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A suddenly settled pitching staff has made a National League contender out of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The mainstay of the crew is Don Drysdale—the guy who's done the job as a starter or in relief, and the guy who's been their stopper.

The Dodgers began their run a month ago, when they were in fifth place. They've won 19 of 29 since and it all began with Drysdale's four-hit shutout over then first-place Milwaukee.

The cross-firing right-hander has lost only one since — that controversial one-hitter by San Francisco's Sam Jones.

Drysdale won his sixth in the Dodger surge last night, stopping their skid at three games with a three-hitter that beat Pittsburgh 3-0 and jumped Los Angeles back into second place.

The Dodgers again are within one game of the first-place Giants, idled by rain, and have a .002 percentage point edge over the Braves, who slipped to third with a 5-2 defeat by the Chicago Cubs.

Cincinnati rapped St. Louis 11-5 in the other N. L. game.

Rain postponed all but one game in the American League. Washington won it, 3-0, over Detroit as Harmon Killebrew hit his 31st home run.

Drysdale, no better than 12-13 in a disappointing 1958 season, now is 11-6. He retired the first nine in order last night, not giving up a hit until Danny Kravitz singled in the fifth. Dick Groat doubled in the sixth and Dick Stuart singled in the seventh, but Drysdale then went through the last two innings 1-2-3 for his third shutout of the season.

Drysdale also slapped a two-run double in the seventh against Bob Friend.

Sophomore Glen Hobbie (10-7) pushed his career record to 5-0 over the Braves with a five-hitter. He also singled home the run that clinched it when the Cubs scored twice in the fourth against loser Carl Willey (4-4) for a 3-1 lead.

Frank Robinson of the Reds took the National League runs-batted-in lead with 85, one more than the Cubs' Ernie Banks, with a two-run homer and a sacrifice fly.

Johnny Temple drove in four runs with a double and sacrifice fly for the Reds, who had 17 hits — five by Gus Bell. Rookie Jim O'Toole (2-2) won it, with Brooks Lawrence's save. Wilmer Mizell (10-4) was the loser.

Rams Open Training

REDLANDS (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams open their training camp today for the National Football League wars.

Coach Sid Gillman has 27 rookies and two veterans checking into the camp at the University of Redlands. The vets are fullback Ollie Matson and quarterback Frank Ryan.

Steel Strike Causes At Least 20,000 In Allied Industries To Be Laid Off; Figure Growing

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Union and management negotiators marked time today as the basic steel industry strike spawned growing unemployment in other areas of the nation's economy.

There was no indication of any early break in the two-day strike of 500,000 United Steelworkers—the sixth major shutdown since World War II.

Patches of unemployment have sprung up and will grow daily in such allied industries as rail, coal, truck, inland water shipping, iron ore mining and processing.

Roughly 20,000 or more workers in these industries have been idled.

RAILROADERS HIT

Those idled in allied industries include about 10,000 railroaders, 3,700 Great Lakes seamen, 5,000 coal miners and nearly 2,000 in truck company employees.

Joseph Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, summed up the deadlocked situation when he stated: "I don't think it's susceptible to easy or early solution."

At the direction of President Eisenhower, Finnegan had met separately with both sides to explore their positions. He said afterward he plans no formal peace moves until Monday.

PLAN REJECTED

Earlier, the union proposed —and the industry rejected—a plan to submit disputed issues to a three-man fact-finding board. The industry said the facts already are well known.

Basically, the union seeks increased wages and improved fringe benefits, contending the steel industry can afford it. The industry says that to grant the demands would be inflationary; it must hold the line on production costs, also have more leeway in effecting operation economies.

Steelworkers had been averaging $3.10 an hour. Their old three-year contract expired June 30, was extended two weeks until Tuesday midnight at the request of President Eisenhower.

The President said at his news conference that there is no present emergency which would warrant government intervention under the Taft-Hartley Act.

Industry Well Stocked With Steel Supplies

By WILLIAM FERRIS

NEW YORK (AP) — Most of American industry can get along for about one to three months without further deliveries of steel.

The big steel users—the automotive, construction and canning industries—are well stocked with supplies, an Associated Press roundup disclosed today.

Many firms anticipated the current steel strike. They built inventories far above normal.

The strike had a quick impact on transportation, however. Eastern railroads immediately furloughed workers and warned they'd lay off more if the strike continued.

Rails were hit not only because they carry steel products, but also because they haul ore, coal and limestone to mills which make steel.

The Western roads, not immediately hurt by the strike, said they did not expect to feel its pinch until later—not until there is a drop in finished goods production.

Automotive producers, which normally take 15 to 20 per cent of total steel production, estimated they could go 60 to 90 days without strain. That would bring them into the new model season.

Ford was least affected by the strike. It normally makes about 50 per cent of its steel requirements at its Rouge plant in suburban Dearborn, Mich., which isn't involved in the strike.

Automotive suppliers were in about the same position as the auto companies. Said Elmer Lange, purchasing agent for Midland-Ross, supplier of automotive frames: "We're all set into the first month of 1960 models."

The construction industry situation was harder to pin down.

In Dallas, Julian Capers Jr., manager of the Associated General Contractors of America, said: "There should be no difficulty here for several weeks."

Norman Tishman, president of Tishman Realty and Construction Co. Inc., which is actively building in the New York and Los Angeles areas, said it had enough steel to keep present projects going for three months.

The biggest unit in the canning industry, American Can Co., contented itself with saying it had enough steel to supply consumers "during a strike of any reasonable duration."

HE TOLD THEM IT WAS WRONG; HE WAS RIGHT

LOS ANGELES (AP)—While viewing a Joan Miro exhibit at the county museum, Allan Packler took a long look at the contemporary Spanish artist's painting, "Composition — Oil, Rope and Plaster on Canvas."

"That painting is upside down," he told officials.

And it was.

A museum crew rehung it right side up.

House Group Divided On Labor Bill Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The sharply-split House labor committee argued today over whether to include Taft-Hartley Law changes in labor reform legislation.

Democrats, who outnumber Republicans 2 to 1 on the committee, were divided on the matter. GOP members were reported to have agreed in secret to offer a tougher substitue measure when the committee bill reaches the House floor.

The Senate-passed labor reform bill included Taft-Hartley amendments sought by both labor and management. Some Democrats felt that Taft-Hartley changes would hurt the chances of passage of labor clean-up legislation. They want any reform bill to deal solely with labor and management misdeeds.

The House committee is trying to finish writing its labor reform bill this week.

Other congressional developments:

RIVERS AND HARBORS — The House began debate on a $640,931,500 rivers and harbors authorization.

MEDICAL CARE—A spokesman for the National Retired Teachers Assn. and the American Assn. of Retired Persons opposed a plan to provide free medical care for social security pensioners. Ethel Percy Andrus told the House ways and means committee that this would take away elderly folks' freedom of choice.

CIVIL RIGHTS — Southerners promised not to filibuster against a new civil rights bill in the Senate judiciary committee. But they predicted consideration would take "a little time." The Senate constitutional rights subcommittee approved the measure 4 to 3 yesterday and sent it on to the parent judiciary committee.

Auto Workers Union Faces Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee plans to start a preliminary investigation of the United Auto Workers in hearings behind closed doors.

The three-day inquiry, starting July 27, is to determine whether evidence compiled by the committee's Republican members is sufficient to justify public hearings.

The investigation could set off a political row among the senators as a similar one did when the committee investigated the UAW in 1958.

The union traditionally supports Democratic candidates for political office, although it has supported some Republicans at times.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) announced the inquiry. It will deal among other things with UAW "flower funds"—which usually buy few flowers.

UAW President Walter Reuther told the committee last year flower funds really are union campaign funds raised by voluntary contributions from members. He said the funds are used mainly to finance the campaigns of incumbent UAW officers, including himself, and the campaigns of rivals, with each side having its own flower fund.

Admirals May Quit

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Arturo Frondizi today faced the prospect of a navy without most of its top commanders unless he fires his navy secretary.

Twelve admirals and a number of captains have applied for retirement to force the president's hand after he refused to dismiss Navy Secretary Adolfo Estevez.

A "hot" ring helps tame an old enemy

Atomic radiation helps this man do his job.

He's Dr. Hugh Macpherson, one of Standard's research engineers. The "hot" ring he's holding is an ordinary piston ring which has been exposed to atomic radiation.

By installing such radioactive piston rings in a car, our research engineers can use a Geiger counter to measure wear as it happens while the car is driven on the highway, in traffic, on hills—in every possible driving situation.

This research technique has taken months off the time needed to test the effectiveness of new motor oils, and it's far more accurate than previous methods.

It's one of the techniques pioneered by Standard's scientists to help defeat an old enemy . . . wear — to learn what it is, what causes it, how to prevent it.

Our progress has been steady. Working with car manufacturers, we've virtually ended the problem of wear in automobile engines.

In the 1930's, for example, cars could go only 20 to 40 thousand miles before a major overhaul. But with today's motor oils and regular oil changes, your engine can be good for more than 100,000 miles — can, in fact, outlast the car.

By such never-ending research that leads to better products . . . the people at Standard are planning ahead to serve you better.

BUFFET DINNER

AAUW 'Fun For Funds' Parties To Aid Center

Marin Branch, AAUW, believes that fun begins at home, and this summer its members are holding a series of "fun for funds" parties in their homes for the benefit of AAUW's new two million dollar Educational Center in Washington, D.C.

The first of the social events are two bridge luncheons given by members of the Afternoon Bridge section today. One is at the home of Mrs. Otto Meyer in San Rafael and the other at the home of Mrs. Frederic A. Hough in Sausalito.

Another date on the AAUW calendar will be a buffet dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Rhoads Jr. in San Anselmo on July 25. Assisting Mrs. Rhoads as hostesses will be Mesdames William M. Weeks, Hugh G. Marchant, John B. Sundin, Charles C. Swenson, William H. Ecker, and Gordon Cochrane. Persons wishing to attend this dinner are urged to call Mrs. Rhoads before July 18.

The ideas and plans for a new headquarters building were conceived in 1941, but, due to the intervening war, were not acted upon until 1957. This great Educational Center, which should be completed in 1960, is to be so constructed that additional wings can be added when and if needed.

More important than the building itself is the fact that it will be the seat of the AAUW Educational Foundation. A significant part of this is the world-wide Fellowship program which creates for both foreign and American women an opportunity for study in the graduate field.

Other work of the Foundation includes a recently completed study in regard to women with earned doctorates.

It is also making a survey of scholarships available to women, and a study of the extent of participation by women in higher education.

OUT OF UNCLE REMUS

Raccoon, Civit Cat, Opossum Spotlight New In Fall Fashions

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—Those once-humble little animals—the raccoon, the civit cat and the opossum—have come out of the Uncle Remus stories and into the spotlight of high fashion.

Brer Fox is here, too, in all his glory—and even Peter Rabbit shows up occasionally in budget lines.

The animals are star performers in the current fall fashion previews of the New York Dress Institute, staged for the benefit of 240 fashion editors from newspapers throughout the United States.

The second day of the crowded press week showings ended on a high note, with lush collections by Nettie Rosenstein, Philippe Tournaye of the House of Marquise, and Ceil Chapman, designer of after-five fashions for many personalities of stage, screen and television.

Nettie Rosenstein, famous as America's leading advocate of the "little black dress," shows it in many versions, but this season adds glamor in the form of elegant evening gowns in rich brocades. She also introduces her favorite color of the season, "Opossum," a soft taupe, which she teams with real 'possum fur hats and accessories.

Ceil Chapman introduces a new ankle length in her severely tailored dinner suits, in fabulous fabrics such as metallic brocades, satins and cut velvet, with plan box jacket over a slim wrapped skirt with hemline about eight inches from the floor. This is worn with a wrapped blouse of white matte jersey.

The ultimate in casual opulence is achieved by her theater ensemble of silver brocade, the coat lined in chinchilla, the world's most expensive fur. Both coat and dress are cut on the simplest possible lines, leaving the drama to the fur and the fabric.

GRANTS WILL MAKE TRIP TO EUROPE

The James Grants of San Anselmo are leaving on July 27 on an extended trip during which they will visit their birthplaces and families in the Old World. They are traveling by train, going first to Vancouver, B. C., there boarding a Canadian Pacific train, stopping en route for several days at Banff, then going to Montreal. On Aug. 4 they will sail from there on the "Empress of France" landing in Liverpool. In Scotland, Mrs. Grant will see her birthplace in Dundee and some of her relatives. In Belfast, Northern Ireland, the Grants will visit her two sisters. Then they will go to the farm nearby and stay at the home where Mr. Grant was born and visit his three brothers.

Mr. Grant left Northern Ireland in 1913 and went back for a visit in 1920. This will be Mrs. Grant's first return since she left in 1921. Mr. and Mrs. Grant met and married in San Francisco.

After visiting their families, the Grants will go to France to complete their three months' of travel.

Mrs. Bertha Cummings Feted By Yolansdale P-TA At Tea

The Yolansdale Parent-Teacher Association recently honored Mrs. Bertha Cummings at a testimonial tea in the home of Mrs. Conrad Olsen in San Anselmo. The parents of former Yolansdale students taught by Mrs. Cummings were invited to attend and signed a guest book which was presented to her. Mesdames Potter Lewis and Charles Wagner, past presidents, were hostesses and president Margo De Maestri and her executive board served.

Mrs. Cummings, who for the past year has taught a combined class of first and second graders at the Yolansdale School, retired in June after 23 years of teaching in the San Anselmo School District.

A native, Mrs. Cummings was born in Hayward. She attended San Jose College and her graduate work was done at Dominican College, the University of California and San Francisco State College.

Before coming to Marin she taught for two years in Mendocino County and four years in Humboldt County. For nine years, starting on July 1, 1936, Mrs. Cummings taught handicapped children in the confederated school district which then consisted of San Anselmo and Kentfield. In 1945 she began teaching at the Yolansdale School and has taught the first, second and third grades. During the 14 years at Yolansdale she taught whole families of children, as they one by one grew old enough to attend school.

Mrs. Cummings and her husband, Lewis, live on Martling drive in San Anselmo. They have one son, Vernon, who is the assistant manager of the Bank of America at Antioch where he resides with his wife and daughter.

Mrs. Cummings plans to spend more time working on her hobbies, flowers and gardening, a pleasure she had to forego while recuperating from an operation last spring.

'THE DRUNKARD'

Patrol Will Sponsor Theatre Production

Phillaron Patrol, Court 45, of the Ladies Oriental Shrine of North America, has "bought out the house" for a special performance on July 21 of "The Drunkard" at the Sausalito Little Theater.

Tickets to the social affair and fund raising event will be sold within the organization.

The patrol is the drill team unit of the Marin Court 45, and according to Mrs. Hayes Arnold of Corte Madera, captain, proceeds will be used to provide new uniforms for the patrol to wear at the national convention of the organization to be held in San Francisco in 1960.

Mrs. Everett Thomas of Sausalito, patrol secretary, is chairman for the event.

Sausalito Little Theater makes full house sales to various organizations, either for regular performances or for special performances at substantially reduced rates. Tickets may be sold at any price the group decides upon as a means of raising money either for charitable or for its own purposes.

Arrangements for such performances may be made by telephoning the theater box office of Mrs. Ann Brebner, producer.

Back From Minnesota

Mrs. W. G. Hughes of San Rafael, her daughter, Mrs. E. R. Cullen and the latter's daughter, Susan, of San Anselmo, recently arrived by plane from Rochester, Minn., where they spent two weeks. Susan flew to Rochester and joined her mother and grandmother, who had traveled east by train.

Dr Hollis Officiates At Ceremony

Marin County superintendent of schools, Dr. Virgil Hollis, officiated at a flying up ceremony held recently at Boyle Park in Mill Valley for the Humming Blue Birds under the leadership of Mrs. Harry Krieger and her assistant, Mrs. Josephine Arago.

Claudia Bright, a member of the Wa Da Ton Eena Camp Fire Group, assisted Dr. Hollis by placing the camp fire scarves and slides on each graduating Blue Bird, and Mrs. Krieger presented each with a Camp Fire book.

Following the ceremony, hot dogs and games were enjoyed by the girls and their families. Mrs. Krieger was assisted by Mesdames Charles Zuffinetti, Donald Bennett and Harold Heller.

The Blue Birds flying up to Camp Fire Girls were Kathy Bennett, Suzan Zuffinetti, Lee Heller, Sandra Mills, Margie Stevenson, Suzanne Arago and Susan Krieger.

THE MILL VALLEY Community Church was the setting for the recent wedding of Sally Bodine and Leonard Hedberg. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. E. W. Bodine of Strawberry and the late Dr. Bodine. A reception was held at the Sausalito Women's Club. (Don Faulkner photo)

Sausalito Barbecue

In celebration of Dr. Emmet Rixford's birthday, his wife gave a barbecue on Saturday at their home in Sausalito. The piece de resistance was a large bass which had been caught from Dr. Rixford's boat, "Kittywake." Present in addition to the family were the Rixfords' house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Horace M. Scales of Menlo Park.

Cargo Of Import Fashions Kindle Stylish Flames At Focus Show

Saggy summer wardrobe, a midseason malady common among the feminine sex was shooed away by the bright light of the torch on Tuesday at Rickey's popular poolside luncheon.

Torch bearers were the Marin Alumnae Chapter of Delta Zeta Sorority honored by Fashion Focus for their outstanding philanthropic program of volunteer and financial assistance to the deaf, including work with the Marin Hearing Society and the special classes for deaf children at Marindale School.

Kindling a fashionable flame in the eye of every poolside guest was the glamorous cargo of imports, each ready to add hot coals of pleasure to a summer of fun and brighten up a lack-lustre closet.

COOLIE COATS

Whatever the midsummer mood, there was a tog to go with it; for the escapist, the attractive Delta Zeta models showed merry coolie coats from China or sleek capris from Italy; for the travel minded, they returned in versatile Italian knits or Austrian blazers. With freshness and flair they reappeared carrying their torch for the cocktail circuit and important first nights to satisfy the most sophisticated summerite.

"Light a Torch" for:

"Marvelous Marin" and a barbecue: Mrs. George Mallory showing black sketches of Sausalito by artist Patricia Rogers on her beige felt skirt and a black cotton skirt added for emphasis.

"The USA" and the first nighter: Mrs. James Hetrick, ready for any theater season in two piece red silk shantung; the jacket importantly collared and cropped short at the waist.

"Hawaii" and a hostess, Mrs. H. W. Chamberlain flounced in Stan Hick's long holomu printed in gold, white and flame for a bright at-home party.

"Canada" and the casual look personified by Bernard of Canada in wool plaid slacks chaperoned by classic slipover and cardigan in lambswool from Lyle of Scotland; their shocking chartreuse color becoming to model Mrs. Alexander Beaton, whose husband, Dr. Beaton heads the Marin Hearing Society.

"Italy" and a traveler in class two piece navy cotton knit; fresh white trim and buttons on the shortsleeve, round neck jacket topping the slim Italian skirt of Mrs. William Brooke.

COCKTAIL CLASSIC

"India" and a cocktail classic, pink mirror cloth by Dore, a two piece version joined with a matching cummerbund to cinch the tiny waist of Mrs. Robert Oates.

"Austria" and a fashion scene stealer year round, a cherry red felt accordion pleated skirt banded in bright blue, plus a dashing matching blazer and Mrs. Robert Pritchard to model it.

"Hong Kong" and important evenings, the luxury of pure silk emerald green brocade made into a full collared, richly lined short evening coat to cover the slimest cap-sleeved matching silk brocade sheath; Mrs. Byron Jones to show it to perfection.

Next Tuesday, Fashion Focus introduces its first "Fashion Forecast for Fall" and presents the versatile collection of the young California designer, Jackie Morgan, flown from Los Angeles especially for the luncheon which will honor the Marin Volunteers for their work with the Senior Citizens. Reservations are open to the public with luncheon at 12:30 and the fashions at 1 p.m.

Does Marin Really Lack Youth Recreation Facilities?

Marin County lacks "guided recreational facilities for youth."

Does that sound familiar, at least in essence if not in exact wording?

It sounds familiar to us.

It was brought to our attention again the other day in a letter from an East Bay resident who for some inexplicable reason undertook to register some bitter criticism against Marin as an aftermath of publicity flowing from some recent juvenile misdeeds.

His assertion sounds familiar because it is one made not infrequently hereabout.

But is it a factual assertion?

Let's take another look at a story which was printed in Monday's I-J:

Here is the weekly calendar of teen-age summer activities as compiled by the Marin County of Community Services, 820-B Fifth avenue, San Rafael:

ARCHERY—Wednesday, 10 a.m. to noon at Albert Park range. Free instruction, furnish own equipment. San Rafael Recreation Department.

BATON—Saturdays, 9 a. m. to noon at Albert Park. Beginning, intermediate and advanced, girls 8 through 13. One dollar fee for course for six to eight weeks. San Rafael Recreation Department.

BOWLING—Fridays, 4 p.m. at Marin Bowl. Free instruction and shoes, special rates for league play. San Rafael Recreation Department.

CAMPING—Camp Kilowona, Mt. St. Helena, July 17-24 and July 24-31. Open to girls 7-17 years; cost $30.50 for non-Camp Fire Girls. For information call Camp Fire Girls office.

PACK TRIP FOR BOYS—July 25-Aug. 2; cost $40. For boys graduating ninth and 10th grades. For information call YMCA.

PACK TRIP (COED)—Aug. 15-23, for boys and girls graduating 11th and 12th grades; cost $45. For information call YMCA.

DANCING—Friday evenings; San Rafael High cafeteria; for senior teens. San Rafael Recreation Department.

Fridays (first and third), 8 to 10:30 p.m., Davidson School, for junior teens. San Rafael Recreation Department.

Fridays (second and fourth), 8 to 10:30 p.m., Santa Venetia School, for junior teens. San Rafael Recreation Department.

Thursday (July 16) 8 to 11 p.m., St. Raphael's gymnasium. Open to all eighth grade graduates and high school students of Marin. Admission 35 cents and high school student body card. Dress: sport (no levis).

DRAMATICS—Wednesdays, 1 to 4 p.m., under direction of Irene Pritzker, for teenagers residing in Mill Valley Elementary School District. For information call Park School.

SWIMMING—Monday through Sunday, 1 to 8 p.m., San Rafael High School pool. Fee 25 cents, for teen-agers 13 to 18. San Rafael Recreation Department.

TENNIS—Mondays, Wednesdays, and Friday, 11 a.m. to noon, city courts, Mill Valley. Mill Valley city summer recreation program.

Thursdays, 1 to 3 p.m., Albert Park, free instruction, furnish own equipment; San Rafael Recreation Department.

DROP-IN PROGRAM—Tuesdays, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., Davidson and Santa Venetia Schools. San Rafael Recreation Department.

EXPLORER PROGRAM—Activities include summer camp, weekend camping, sailing, water skiing, surfboarding, yachting, flying, vocational exploration, socials. For information contact Boy Scouts office, 739 A street, San Rafael.

HAY RIDE — Wednesday 5 to 10 p.m., transportation fee 50 cents; club or group arrange own food. For more information call YMCA.

RECREATION—July 13, 15, 17 and 20 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Marindale School, Terra Linda. Open to all handicapped school age children. Teen-age volunteer help needed. Recreation unit of Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

SWIMMING AND BOATING—July 13, 14, 16, 20, 21, 23 from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., junior high nautical program. Marin Yacht Club, San Pedro road, San Rafael. Cost $2.50. Open to girls who hold a Red Cross swimmer's certificate or passed swimmer's badge. For information call Girl Scouts office.

It doesn't seem to us that all the foregoing—typical of a summer vacation week—adds up to a lack of organized and guided recreational activities for our youth.

If we are looking for a deficiency on which to blame recent juvenile misdeeds, we will have to keep looking.

War's Glamor Based On Feeling Of Importance It Bestows On All

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

It is sometimes said that the world will never have true peace until a way is found to make peace as exciting as war.

But war, at least as seen by the men who fight it, is only rarely exciting.

For every moment of bright danger the ordinary soldier faces, he undergoes 10,000 moments of boredom. For every hour of action he can remember, he can recall at least one hundred hours of waiting.

Excitement comes to the soldier but spasmodically. War to him is more often endless monotony. War is dust and rain and mud and noise. War is thirst and hunger and heat and cold and dirt and flea bites and loneliness. And always the soldier is bored more often than he is either brave or afraid.

No, war isn't terribly exciting. If wars were fueled only by excitement, they would all burn out in a month.

Perhaps the most awful fact of war is that it makes everybody feel more important than he does in peacetime — important not only to himself but to others. Therein lies war's terrible glamor.

Suddenly everyone is wanted. Suddenly everyone has a job to do. Suddenly everyone is needed and has a place in the national effort.

THE BUGLE blows not for a few but for all. It summons them out of themselves and aims them toward a common goal.

Retired men are called back to their old jobs. Girls and wives go into the factories and earn more money than they have ever seen before. The kids go around town picking up scrap metal. Even dancing is patriotic — if you dance with a boy going away.

There is something for everyone to do. And even if you can't do anything you can help — by doing without some thing. You can eat less meat, use less gasoline, give up chocolate bars for the duration.

No wonder illness falls off in wartime and the population's general health improves. People have no time to pick their mental sores and worry themselves sick.

EVERYONE feels a foot taller. Actually, everyone is drunk — in a sense. For no wine or liquor ever bottled is as intoxicating to the human spirit as its embarkation on a crusade, the losing of oneself in the immensity of a common purpose.

War not only affords people a way to find themselves by losing themselves. It brings home to them, as nothing else seems to do, how really dependent men are on each other's help.

This is best seen, of course, on the battlefield itself. In combat the members of a platoon must fight together or they will all surely die or be captured. They forge a loyalty to one another they have never known before, and will never quite know again.

But all the rest of their lives they will miss that unit loyalty.

That is the true problem of peace — to find a way to make people feel they are just as important to each other, just as needed by each other, when the guns are silent as when they roar.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Mental Health Facilities Needed

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Reading recently in your publication I have found unwarranted attacks, denunciations and condemnations of the youth of today in general and a "Kayo" Hallinan in particular.

At the present time I'm a married man, the father of three; successfully completed college and am now in the study of law. I'm on the board of directors and chairman of the public affairs committee of the Mental Health Assn. of Contra Costa County, West, and the legislative chairman of the El Cerrito Democratic organization and yet 10 years ago when I was this young man's age I had a long police record, had been kicked out of nine high schools and probably would have been voted least likely to succeed by everyone with whom I came into contact. The point I'm attempting to make is that the faith and constructive action of individuals and groups I came in contact with were the factors which became so important in the turning point of my life.

I don't feel that your editorials (if they can be called that for they lack first objective background and research and secondly quality and talent) aid and/or serve constructively either the youth of Marin County in general or young Mr. Hallinan in particular.

I would like to suggest that you possibly could turn your editorial talents constructively to more important problems of your county, to wit: the lack of guided recreational facilities for the youth of your county, the strange attitude of the District Attorney toward youth as made up entirely of toughs and criminals, and finally the lack of adequate psychiatric facilities in your county not only for the youth of your county but for the entire population.

In the particular case of young Mr. Hallinan I strongly suspect your editorials are really an attempt to embarrass Mr. Hallinan, the elder, whose views are inimical to your own and I heartily suggest to you that you make a magnificent show of courage and attack the gentleman directly. It is my understanding that he can defend himself quite adequately.

Country Cannot Be Governed From Other End Of Capitol

WE HAVE BEEN seeing once again that this country cannot be governed from the other end of Pennsylvania Ave., that is to say from Congress. The Democrats have big majorities in both houses but they cannot mobilize them to impose a positive program on the President. They can deny him what he asks, and he can deny them what they want. But the center of authority cannot be moved from the White House to the Capitol.

AT BOTTOM THIS is, as I understand it, the reason why Sen. Lyndon Johnson defers to the Persident so much on bills dealing with expenditures. The Democrats with all their majority cannot compel the President to spend more than he is willing to spend.

If, therefore, Congress votes money bills that the President vetoes, and if neither then yields to the other, there is a deadlock of mutual obstruction which in the field covered by the bill brings the government to a standstill.

A responsible party leadership will not, in Sen. Johnson's philosophy, bring the government to a standstill.

THE DEMOCRATIC critics of Sen. Johnson's leadership are, at least most of them, aware that these are the facts of life. They know that in the housing bill, for example, they cannot compel the President to spend more than he is willing to spend. They know, too, that in the final showdown they will have to choose between letting the President have the smaller bill which he wants and getting no housing bill at all.

What then would the critics have Sen. Johnson do? They say they would have him use the Democratic majority to pass bills that they believe in, and then to let the President veto them, and, having made this demonstration for the record, to accept the President's half-loaf rather than no bread at all.

In discussing this proposed tactic in a previous article I pointed out that it is insincere and unconvincing in a time of boom like the present to enact a bill to spend more money unless it is accompanied by a bill to raise more taxes. If the tactic is insincere and also unconvincing it is surely not good politics, and Sen. Johnson has been right to avoid it.

BUT IS THAT ALL? I think not. The political tactic proposed by Sen. Johnson's critics would be a mistake. But surely they are not wholly wrong in their feeling that somehow a Democratic Congress should be doing something of its own besides choosing between obstructing the President or giving in to him. What could that something be? It would be to prepare public opinion for the future, which is not yet here but is near at hand. It would be to prepare public opinion for the decade of the sixties which, assuming that there is no war, is bound to be an era of great innovation and development of our public activities.

For it is inconceivable, to cite a few examples, that a country which can spend what we spend on luxuries should tolerate much longer the shameful neglect and starvation of public education. It is inconceivable that this country will put up with inadequate medical care, with blighted areas in its big cities, with the pollution of the air and of water, with inadequate airports and failing railroads. The public facilities of this country are not keeping up with the growth of the population, the congestion in the cities, and the rising standards of private life. It is as sure as anything of this sort can be that in the decade of the sixties there will be a great modernization and expansion of public facilities.

Without doubt, this will require more taxes out of a more rapidly growing economy.

It is here that Sen. Johnson and the Congressional leadership are missing the bus and are failing to hold the confidence of the new generation of Democrats in Congress and in the country. For while the Democrats in Congress cannot, and should not try to, govern the country they can and they should be leading and teaching the people to realize what the future is going to be like.

10 YEARS AGO

First inmate of the newly remodeled juvenile detention cell of the county jail was a 17-year-old Santa Venetia boy, supposed to be on a naval reserve cruise in the Pacific. He was caught with a 16-year-old companion stealing groceries.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A salesman called on the firm of Straley, Morgan, and Carnegie and asked to see Mr. Straley. "He's tied up," explained the receptionist. Asking for Morgan, he was told he was out of town. So it seemed was Carnegie.

Next day he called again, and asked for the three partners in the same order, only to elicit precisely the same replies from the receptionist.

When it happened a third time, the salesman grew suspicious. "There's something very fishy about the fact that every time I come here," he complained, "Morgan and Carnegie are out of town, and Straley is tied up.

"Nothing fishy in the least," countered the receptionist hotly. Mr. Morgan and Mr. Carnegie have to go out of town very frequently — and every time before they leave, they tie Mr. Straley up."

A fetching young blonde fetched a bottle of imported perfume back to a Fifth Ave. shop for credit. Her complaint: "I don't care for the men it attracted."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By DIANA BRUCE

Supervisors Ponder Promotion, Development Financial Requests

IF THERE WERE such a thing as a medal for political courage, County Supervisor Vera Schultz would get my nomination.

This is what happened last Saturday morning when the county board of supervisors was winding up its hearings on the 1959-60 budget. (Supervisor William D. Fusselman was ill but the other four were present and accounted for.)

Shortly before noon the four supervisors had progressed to the portion of the budget entitled "Promotion and Development."

This portion earlier had consumed about four hours time while various and sundry organizations presented requests for county grants on the grounds that they were "promoting" Marin County and bringing new businesses and homeowners (i.e. new taxpayers) into the county.

FIRST REQUEST on the list was from the California State Chamber of Commerce, asking for $500.

Mrs. Schultz questioned whether the state chamber's lobbying activities in Sacramento were in fact representative of the wishes of Marin residents. Supervisor James Marshall moved, and Mrs. Schultz seconded, a motion to delete the $500 from the county budget. The vote was 4-0.

Next came a request for $2,000 from Junior Museum of Marin. Last year the Museum received $500 from the county.

Mrs. Schultz said she believed the museum was a "worthwhile" endeavor but that it should live or die by support of those who use it. An allocation of $500 had been included in the preliminary budget but Mrs. Schultz, noting the frequent financial doldrums of the museum, said: "I don't believe $500 is going to keep it in business."

The supervisors voted unanimously to delete a grant to the Junior Museum of Marin.

Next organization on the pan fared better. This was the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, which asked and received (by unanimous vote) a grant of $9,000 or approximately half of its operating budget for 1959-60. The foundation was termed a "county-wide chamber of commerce" by County Clerk George S. Jones.

Without discussion, the board granted $1,000 to the Marin Music Chest which uses the money to keep benches at Forest Meadows in good condition, and $100 for a Veteran's Day Parade.

NEXT CAME the Novato Chamber of Commerce's request for $500. Perhaps the sequence of events would have been different if another local chamber had preceeded it on the list. Supervisor William A. Gnoss of Novato is well known to be very solicitous about anything affecting his constituents.

Mrs. Schultz declared: "I feel about all local chamber the way I do about the state chamber."

"You can't say they're not doing anything," Gnoss protested. "I was at their meeting when they were talking about their budget. And they are all young men coming into the community."

Mrs. Schultz: "It's for Novato, not county-wide. It's true anything that helps Novato helps the rest of the county. But I point out that the chamber in my city of Mill Valley isn't in here and never has been."

"That $500 is the only thing that carries them over," Gnoss said.

"That's all wrong, Bill," objected Mrs. Schultz. "It should support itself."

However, the Novato chamber got its $500. The vote was 3-1, with Mrs. Schultz dissenting.

THE SUPERVISORS were united on the next grant. The Redwood Empire Assn. asked for $6,650 but the supervisors decided that $4,000 was what they would get.

They all agreed that the San Francisco Bay Area Council was doing an effective job of publicizing the Bay Area and voted a $500 grant.

Next item was $500 requested for the Sausalito Regatta.

"This is a localized activity and I understand it has been taken over by the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce, said Mrs. Schultz.

"I was prepared to move that it be taken out but I can't justify it if we contribute to Novato, San Rafael and everywhere else. I'm going to move it remain in." The vote on her motion was 4-0.

WITH NO DISSENSION, the four supervisors next voted $240 for a display of the county civic center model at the State Fair, $1,500 for the Marin County Historical Society, $1,000 for the Symphony Guild of Marin, $500 for the West Marin Livestock Show, and $350 for a 4-H District Fair.

The San Rafael Chamber of Commerce was granted $3,500 by a 3-1 vote with Mrs. Schultz dissenting.

All four supervisors voted against giving $1,565 to the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce to stage next year's Miss Marin contest. (The junior chamber was granted $500 for the contest held this spring.)

At this point, Chairman Walter S. Castro told the other supervisors that they could ask the Redwood Empire Assn. to make a survey of tourist-oriented businesses in Marin County.

"They do it without charge," Castro said. The other supervisors agreed to ask for a survey.

The supervisors by a unanimous vote next denied a $5,000 grant to the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. They voted in favor of $220 for restoring the Old Mill in Mill Valley under a committee of Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West.

And with that they wound up the promotional budget for a total of $22,810. It is not a large figure when compared to a county government spending program of about 12 million dollars but it is in a unique category. It represents taxpayer's money for support of privately run activities.

The argument used to justify it goes like this: If some private organization wasn't doing these things then the county would have to, and it costs much less the way things are now.

Fleet Coming In; Ships Open For Public Visits

The fleet's coming in.

Components of the 1st Fleet are due to dock in San Francisco Friday and stay until next Monday. Open house will be held from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

The Navy said the 25 ships will be located at the Naval Air Station at Alameda, the Oakland Terminal and along piers in San Francisco.

Cheif A. J. Zuurbeir of the San Rafael Navy recruiting office has suggested that young men who wish to join the Navy make a tour of the ships—including destroyers, submarines, cruisers and aircraft carriers. But the ships' open house is for the general public.

Zuurbier said the following ships are scheduled to dock at these locations:

Midway and Hancock at Alameda Naval Air Station; Bremerton, Taussig, Maddox, Pomodon, Hanson and Brush, Ninth avenue terminal, Oakland; Ashtabula, Chemung and Regulus, Oakland; Helena, Kearsarge, Wilkinson, Ponchatoula, Pritchett, Cowell, Cushing, Dennis J. Buckley, Sea Devil and Rasher, piers in San Francisco, and Fortify and Engage at Treasure Island.

The Mt. Baker, an ammunition ship, will dock at Concord, but will not be open to the public.

Square Dance Party

Larry Twist will be caller for the Charm 'n' Farmers square dancing party from 8 to 10:30 p.m. today at the E Street School in San Rafael, announced Lynn Payton of the club.

BIKE ESCAPEE IS RECAPTURED

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. (AP) —Alfred Guy, 21, who escaped from the county jail on the bicycle of the sheriff's daughter, was recaptured when a state trooper recognized him at a bus station in Binhamton.

Guy was under 180 days sentence for driving an unregistered vehicle.

KINGFISHER, Okla. (AP) — A 10-year-old cow gave birth to nine consecutive sets of twin calves. All but three of the calves lived.

County To Deduct For United Drive

The Marin County Board of Supervisors has authorized solicitation of county employees in county offices for donations to the United Bay Area Crusade, and, for the first time, authorized payroll deductions for the crusade.

Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, chairman of the public employees drive for the crusade, told the board that in previous years the county pay check system did not lend itself to payroll deductions for such a purpose, but new checks make it convenient to handle deductions.

Board Awaits Name For New School

Trustees of the Larkspur School District have asked Supt. Carl Tivel to find out whether or not a committee has been formed to forward names for the district's new school, scheduled to open Sept. 10.

The committee was to include a representative from the district's two Parent-Teacher Assn. groups, the Dad's Club and the Larkspur-Corte Madera Teachers Assn. Their presidents said representatives would be selected, Tivel said, but so far no suggested names for the school have been submitted to the board of trustees.

In other business Tuesday night, the board hired Miss Mary Lou Krempel to teach third grade at the new school. She has taught two years in Sausalito.

The trustees agreed to hire a new custodian on a temporary basis.

Sheriff Starts Vacation Trip

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos and his family left Marin by automobile yesterday on a two-week vacation into the Midwest.

They were headed for Clinton, Iowa, to visit relatives of Mrs. Mountanos.

Sheriff Mountanos expects to be back on the job Aug. 3. During his vacation Undersheriff Eugene Meyer will be acting sheriff and Chief Criminal Deputy Ellis Seibert will be acting undersheriff.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D.
Guidance Counsellor

Why Should I Be Good When Mother Wasn't?

Dorothy L. "I'm a girl of 16. Will you answer a question about my mother? She has taught me it is wrong to 'make out' or neck with boys. I believed her. I followed her advice, even thought it meant losing some boy friends. Last night I overheard her joking with a man she used to date. They laughed about the necking they used to do. They kidded about how surprised her parents would have been if they'd known what was happening. How can my mother expect me to be a good girl when she was like that?"

Reply. One of the tough lessons we all must learn is that our parents are not perfect. Sooner or later we have to realize that they have made mistakes and will continue to make them. Please try to understand your mother. Don't judge her too harshly. She wants you to be a better girl than she was. You'll expect similar improvement in your daughter. Continue to do what she says and don't do what she did. Eventually you'll be glad.

JACK S. "I'm going to summer school. Only a few of us attend. We are all twelfth graders. Every one of us smokes at home, and in the neighborhood. The only place we can't have a cigarette is at school. All our teachers smoke too, except at school. Wouldn't it be sensible to let us smoke in classes? We'd study better. The rule against smoking only causes trouble. How can people say smoking is immoral?"

REPLY. Several schools have tried to do what you suggest. It didn't work. There are laws against it. The laws are backed by strong public opinion. Many fine people feel smoking is immoral. Probably their feeling is basically religious. Others are impressed by the evidence that smoking is physically harmful. Most parents nowadays would much rather their teenagers did not start smoking.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, July 16, the 197th day of the year, with 168 more days in 1959.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The evening stars are Saturn, Jupiter, Venus and Mars.

On this date in history:

In 1790, Congress established the District of Columbia as the permanent seat of the U.S. government.

In 1821, Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the Church of Christ, Scientist, was born.

In 1862, David Glasgow Farragut became the first admiral in the U. S. Navy.

In 1912, Herman Rosenthal, the biggest gambler in New York, was murdered.

In 1918, the Bolsheviks murdered Czar Nicholas II and the royal family of Russia.

In 1945, the first experimental test of an atomic bomb took place at Alamagordo Air Base in New Mexico.

A thought for today: Adm. David Glasgow Farragut said, "Damn the torpedoes! Captain Drayton, go ahead . . . full speed!"

Council Queried On Alarm Boxes

The Corte Madera Volunteer Firemen's Assn. has decided to ask the city council if it wants to extend the present system of fire alarms boxes in the older section of Corte Madera, simply repair what now exists, or do away with it entirely.

Chief Frank L. Nelson said most fire alarms are telephoned in. Of every 14 alarms from an alarm box, 13 are false alarms, he said.

The 20 volunteer firemen who attend Tuesday's meeting decided to write a letter asking the council's intentions. President Robert Freet presided.

Brown On Council

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown today became the 28th member of the Democratic National Advisory Council. He issued a statement criticizing Republicans, but steering clear of Democratic feuds.

Typhoon Hits China

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon Billie struck Chekiang province on the Red China mainland today after causing extensive flooding and possibly seven deaths on Formosa, and one death and property damage in the Philippines.

More than a million mainland Chinese were frantically harvesting early rice, menaced with destruction, the New China News Agency reported.

In southern Japan the death toll from a week of torrential rains on the fringes of the typhoon rose to 45, with 75 hurt, 16 missing and nearly 1,000 homeless.

SHARP REPORT ONLY EVIDENCE BLOWING CORK

DETROIT (AP) — The judge jumped from his chair and several policemen reached for their guns when a sharp report shattered the stillness of Recorder's Court.

Embarrassed grins replaced looks of alarm when a geyser of foam shooting from an open beer bottle made it clear what had happened.

SEQUOIA NATIONAL PARK (AP) — Naturalists estimate that of some 4,000 adult sequoia giganteas now standing, perhaps no more than one a year falls on the average.

So brobdingnagian gigantic or majestic are the redwoods, mingled with huge firs, pine and spruce, that pictures have never captured their grandeur. They must be seen to be believed. A famous magazine photographer recently spent two weeks photographing the General Sherman tree. He was sent back by a dissatisfied editor. This time he built a high scaffold and took some more shots. He told friends he had something different, but still short of fulfilling hopes.

The most worldly of travelers, sated with magnificent views to the point of becoming blase, will pause in a mellow and humble mood before the redwoods.

What causes one of these giants, sometimes antedating recorded history, to die?

Standing beside the recently upended roots of the tree that crashed on June 3, Parks Supt. Thomas J. Allen remarked that the best answers are to some extent educated guesses. "It is almost as much a mystery what makes them stand as what causes them to fall," he said.

The sequoia has no tap root, or anything else below its stupendous weight closely resembling roots of other trees. The uprooted portion looks much like the head of Medusa, with waving grooved roots of moderate size serrated with hairlike tentacles.

Unseen is a web of small roots extending laterally near the surface an average distance about three-fourth the height of the standing tree. The massive trunk appears to have clung to the earth with its oddly formed roots much as a starfish fastens itself to rocks beneath the sea.

Judge Walter Fry, a recognized authority on the sequoia gigantea, wrote 30 years ago that the age of the tree seems to have little to do with its death. He believed it might live 10,000 years and some may attain that age.

The most common cause of the tree's downfall, he maintained, is undermining from erosion, caused by a change in the moisture pattern at the base. This shifts the weight and the octupus-like root structure no longer can sustain the burden.

Inasmuch as the recorded deaths of the giants have all been without advance warning, and most of them under normal weather conditions, a visitor posed the question to a ranger: "What is to keep one of these trees from suddenly crashing on buildings in the national parks and crushing their occupants?"

Pausing to weigh this possibility, he answered: "Well, if my rapid calculation is correct, one of these sequoias is likely to fall in an inhabited area about every 200 years, and then there probably is about one chance in 10 it will hit anyone. I guess we will just have to take that chance."

Air Defense Major Is Awarded Ribbon

Maj. Gordon Howard, 355 Las Colindas road, Terra Linda, installations and programming officer with the 6th Region Army Air Defense Command, last week was presented the Army commendation ribbon with metal pendant by Col. Charles H. Blumenfeld, regional chief of staff. The commendation noted "coordinating and supervising the . . . housing program for the 6th region headquarters and the major subordinate commands."

Major Howard has been assigned to the Army Air Defense School at Ft. Bliss, Tex.

Service For Older Workers Approved

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has given a special break to California's older workers.

The governor signed into law a bill establishing a job counselling and placement service for oldsters. The bill was authored by Assemblyman Edward M. Gaffney (D-San Francisco), aged 72.

Different Firm Will Service County Elevators

San Rafael's courthouse elevators are due for a new nursemaid.

Attending the ups and downs of the lifts for the past nine years has been the service firm of Woody, Sweazey and Rowe. Henceforward, for one year, maintenance will be performed by Otis Elevator Co., manufacturer of the elevators.

Stoutly defending his company's service over the past years before the board of supervisors Tuesday was Phillip M. Bouthiller, service manager for Woody, Sweazy and Rowe. Pushing the button for better service and fewer shutdowns was Supervisor William D. Fusselman. Vote to change was 3-2, with Supervisors Vera Schultz and James A. Marshall voting against.

Bouthillier's company charges $55 per month per elevator. The new charge, under Otis' supervision, will be $78.18.

Fusselman maintained that either Otis made its elevators of "pretty soft material" or the maintenance was faulty.

COUNTY OF MARIN MARINERO IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT
NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS OR BIDS

Pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913, as amended, and the resolution directing this notice adopted on June 30, 1959, by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, said Board invites sealed proposals or bids for the grading and construction of street, drainage and utility improvements as more particularly described in Resolution of Intention No. 5848 adopted by said Board on June 30, 1959, which resolutions are on file in the office of the County Clerk and to which reference is hereby expressly made for a more particular description of the work to be done.

All of said work is to be done at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes and dimensions and of the materials, and to the lines and grades and at the elevations as shown and delineated upon the plans, profiles and specifications made therefor and preliminarily approved by said Board on June 30, 1959.

Any provision of said specifications to the contrary notwithstanding, the contractor shall provide all of the material necessary to install the water system as specified in Schedule C of said specifications, and shall purchase same from the Marin Municipal Water District on such terms and conditions as may be established by said District.

Payments will be made in cash by said County to the Contractor on itemized estimates duly certified and approved by the Engineer of Work, based on labor and materials incorporated into said work during the preceding month by the Contractor. However, notice is given that a period of 30 days is given to the property owners in which to pay their assessments, and if cash collections are insufficient to meet such monthly estimates, there will be a delay in making such payments until money is received from the sale of the bonds issued upon the unpaid assessments. County shall retain ten per cent (10%) of the amount of each such estimates, and the accumulation of said amounts so retained from said progressive payments will be paid to said Contractor 35 days after the completion and acceptance of said work by said Engineer and said County.

Notice is hereby given that on June 30, 1959, the Board of Supervisors adopted a resolution determining the general prevailing rate of per diem wages to be paid to the various craftsmen and laborers required to construct said improvements, a copy of which wages scale is contained in and made a part of the specifications for said work, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars.

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by a cashier's or certified check payable to the order of the County, amounting to ten per cent (10%) of the bid, or by a bond in said amount and payable to said County signed by the bidder and a corporate surety, or by the bidder and two sureties who shall justify before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double said amount and over and above all statutory exemptions. Said check shall be forfeited or said bond shall become payable to said County in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within 15 days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the County.

Contractor shall furnish to County a faithful performance bond and labor and material bond as required in said specifications.

Said sealed proposals shall be delivered to the County Clerk of said County on or before 11 o'clock A.M. of the 4th day of August, 1959, at the regular meeting place of said Board, Supervisor's Room, County Court House, San Rafael, California, said time being at least fifteen days from the time of publication of this notice. Bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared on said day and hour. The County reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any informality or irregularity in a bid, and further reserves the right to make its award at any time within 30 days of the bid opening and no bidder may withdraw his bid after the date set for the opening thereof for 30 days thereafter.

A copy of the plans and specifications may be obtained from Harold Bishop Reid, Jr., Engineer, 36 Main Street, Tiburon, California, upon payment therefor of $10.00.

Miller Play At Tam Valley

"All My Sons," dramatic three-act play by Arthur Miller, will again be presented tomorrow and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Clubhouse after an enthusiastic opening last weekend.

Nick Monteleone plays the father, supported by Dunya Chernenko as his wife. His son is portrayed by Morrie Batz and the girl by Esther Allen.

An art exhibit, with works hung on the walls of the playhouse, is an added attraction.

Planners Propose Left Turn Ban

The Mill Valley Planning Commission has reiterated its recommendation of a year ago that left turns in or out of the Purity Store or Del's Liquor Store on East Blithedale avenue near Camino Alto be banned as traffic hazards.

City Manager A. E. Almcrants asked the planners for a recommendation.

They suggested signs, divided lines and possibly center barriers to correct the traffic problem created by the left turns.

The planners passed on several minor items and deferred others because not all members were present.

Colonel Is Deputy Wing Commander

Col. Benjamin B. Cassidy, former staff officer at the Air Force Academy in Colorado, has been named deputy wing base commander at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Colonel Cassidy was expected to arrive at Hamilton this week to assist Col. George Ceuleers, base commander. The base is administered by the 78th Fighter Wing.

BOOKED FOR FAIR—The Bogino Troupe, sixth generation European circus stars, will perform at the Sonoma-Marin District Fair in Petaluma on Aug. 9, the closing day of the fair. The troupe will be but one of 20 circus acts to be presented at the fair that day by the Ken Jensen three-ring circus.

Barbecue Pits At Fair To Offer Treat

Two huge barbecue pits at the Sonoma-Marin District Fair in Petaluma, Aug. 6 through 9, will have something new in the way of chicken the last day of the fair.

A "Chick-n-que" will be held in the fair's picnic area, with Petaluma chickens to be barbecued in pits 34 feet long.

Along with the chicken will be served baked beans, buns, cottage cheese and peaches.

Dinner will be served from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m.

There are 19 national parks in Japan, with a total area of 174 million acres—placing Japan fourth after the United States, Canada and the Soviet Union in this form of conservation.

Cantor To Talk At Jewish Center

Cantor Robert Harmon will be guest speaker before Congregation Rodef Sholem at 8 p.m., tomorrow, at the Jewish Community Center in San Rafael.

Cantor Harmon, who will be present in the absence of Rabbi Morton Hoffman, is a graduate of Juillard School of Music and will present a musical program.

Services will be conducted by Harold Harris, assisted by David Rosenberg. An Oneg Shabbat will follow, with refreshments served by the women's auxiliary of the congregation.

Sausalito Will Host Outdoor Art Festival

For the fourth consecutive year Sausalito will play host to an outdoor art festival on Aug. 8 and 9 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., according to Henry T. Malcheski, chairman of the Sausalito Arts Festival Committee.

"Through the cooperation of city officials," Malcheski added, "we will put on the show in a new location this year — the large municipal parking area fronting the bay between the sandspit and the old railroad ferry slip."

He said the new location will accommodate "far more exhibit space and visitors than was possible in prior years."

Malcheski announced that Marin artists who wish to participate may obtain applications from him at The Mart in Sausalito.

"We plan to have all phases of the graphic arts represented," Malcheski declared. "Included will be painting, photography, metal work, jewelry, ceramics, weaving, mosaics and related activties."

Last year an estimated 25,000 attended the outdoor event.

KENTFIELD MARINES ON 'INVASION'

A German street sign overhead, three Marine Reservists of 14th Rifle Company in Kentfield engage in street fighting. But it's all make-believe at reservists' summer camp at Camp Pendleton. The authentic European street scene was recreated to provide proper atmosphere and obstacles for exercise. The Marines, who appear to be taking it dead seriously, are (from left) Pfc. Roland E. School Book Ban Repealed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — School librarians can put religious and political books of a denominational or partisan nature back on their shelves this September.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown signed a bill this week repealing the state's ban on such material as long as distribution is not made for partisan, sectarian or denominational reasons.

Among other bills approved by the governor was one by Assemblyman Thomas J. MacBride (D-Sacramento) requiring that car salesmen working for manufacturers, dealer or transporters be licensed by the state.

Another provides for state investigation of a veteran's financial status to determine his eligibility to enter a veterans home. It was sponsored by Assemblyman Lester A. McMillan (D-Los Angeles).

Food Prices Show Wholesale Level Drop This Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Wholesale food prices declined this week to their lowest level since early November, 1956, Dun and Bradstreet reported.

At $6.00 the organization's food index was down 6 cents from last week and at its lowest point since the $5.95 reading Nov. 6, 1956. The index now is within striking distance of the 1956 low of $5.86, which, in turn, was the lowest reading since May, 1950.

The index has declined so far this year from the 1959 high of $6.24 in the first week of the year.

The indext represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound of 31 foods in general use.

New Apartment For San Rafael

A new $130,000 apartment building, containing 16 units, will begin going up at the southwest corner of Grand and Mission avenues in San Rafael.

Williams Construction Co. will put in a building of stucco and redwood, with tar and gravel roof. Each unit is expected to have two bedrooms. Carports are planned for off-street parking. The apartment will be completed in three or four months, weather permitting.

Asian Nations Working On 7,000-Mile Highway

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Asian nations are working on a dream highway project that will enable modern motorists to retrace the caravan routes Marco Polo once traveled.

The goal is a 7,000-mile Pan-Asian highway that will take a motorist from Turkey to Indochina or Malaya.

A network of old caravan routes, some dating to 1,000 B.C., will serve as the backbone of the new highway.

Marco Polo used the routes to explore the East. The armies of Genghis Khan, Alexander the Great and Tamerlane trod them on the road to conquest.

Traders used the routes to bring to Europe their precious loads of silk, jade and spices from the Orient.

The project was conceived by the highway subcommittee of the U.N. Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East-ECAFE.

ECAFE experts recognized that international civil aviation had played a major role in the last decade in bringing together the countries of Asia. But this mode of travel remained beyond the majority of Asian people.

Railway links were described as serving an important purpose but generally inadequate for the entire area. The experts said such projects as the Pan-American Highway and road improvements in Europe underscored lack of progress in Asia.

The first task is to build highway links to connect existing roads systems. Some countries have already started this preliminary work.

The next task will be to improve existing roads until they can handle modern traffic.

Agreements will have to be worked out for simplifying border procedures and relaxing customs formalities.

The region has been divided into three zones for planning purposes. The first takes in Viet Nam, Cambodia, Laos, Thailand, Malaya and Burma. The second covers Burma's western connections, East Pakistan, India, Ceylon, Nepal and motor roads to West Pakistan. The third embraces West Pakistan, Afghanistan and Iran.

2nd Bubonic Plague Case Reported

BERKELEY (AP) —California's second case of bubonic plague this year is recovering in Sierra Hospital at Sonora, Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, state health director, announced.

In Sonora a hospital spokesman confirmed the plague case but said the patient had asked that his name be withheld.

Merrill said the victim was a 40-year-old man whose business exposes him to wild rodents which frequently are infested with plague-infested fleas.

He said the disease is endemic in California because of the presence of such flea-ridden rodents and that early diagnosis of the disease and prompt treatment with antibiotics, as in the Sonora case, are essential for curing human victims.

Probation Violator Gets Jail Term

James Ralph Preston, 23, Fairfax sheet metal worker who ran off to Palm Springs with a 15-year-old Belveron Gardens girl while on probation for a similar offense, must serve six months in county jail.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court sentenced Preston Tuesday for contributing to the girl's delinquency.

In May, 1958, Preston got three years probation for contributing to the delinquency of another 15-year-old girl. Last month, he was caught in Palm Springs with the Belveron Gardens girl.

Judge Keating ordered the previous probation revoked. Preston lives at 19 Sequoia road, Fairfax.

MORE 'REAL HOMES' URGED BY SPEAKER

SANTA CRUZ (AP) —A Seventh-day Adventist conference was told this week: "If there were more real homes, there would not have to be so much preaching and praying for prodigal sons."

The speaker was Axel O. Nelson of Escondido, recently retired educational director for the Pacific Union Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists in California, Arizona, Nevada, Utah and Hawaii.

"If we paid no more attention to our plants than we do to our children," he said, "we would now be living in a jungle of weeds."

He spoke to about 5,000 persons assembled for the 81st annual encampment of Adventists at nearby Soquel.

College Approved For Stanislaus

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has authorized a state college for Stanislaus County.

Brown signed into law a bill by Assemblyman Ralph M. Brown (D-Modesto) to establish the institution. The 1957 Legislature appropriated $500,000 to purchase a site for the college but no site has yet been chosen.

Brown said the college conformed to the general agreement between the board of regents of the University of California and the state Board of Education on expansion plans.

Terra Linda Bond Vote Sept. 15

Determined opposition was shaping up today as directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District called a meeting for Tuesday to make the first public presentation of drawings of proposed $350,000 recreation developments.

Mrs. Harriette H. Wills of 705 Montecillo road said members of the newly formed Terra Linda Home Owners Committee will be on hand to question the proposal. The committee, formed this week at Mrs. Wills' home, opposes a bond issue.

Service district directors said the bond election will be held Sept. 15. John P. (Jack) Namle, board president, said the date was decided on at an informal meeting of the board this week.

He said the board will pass a resolution Tuesday making the election date official. Previously the target date was Aug. 28.

Because of an expected large turnout, Tuesday's meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m., will be held at the Christ Presbyterian Church.

Also today came an announcement from James Schryver of 640 Montecillo road, a member of the Terra Linda Parks and Recreation Committee, that a survey of public opinion on recreational needs "indicates that over 70 per cent of the residents desire facilities that will be presented and discussed. My committee has proven to be the Terra Linda CSD directors that the need exists, that an overwhelming majority of the residents desire the facilities, and that the cost is reasonable and within the financial capabilities of the community."

However, Namle said that of the 1,000 residents questioned in the survey, only about half

College Board Picks San Rafael Man

The San Rafael High School District now has representation on the Marin Junior College District board of trustees.

Robert E. Oliver of 56 Circle road, San Rafael, was selected last night to fill the vacancy created by resignation of Mrs. Ada M. Fusselman of San Anselmo.

His term will run until June 30, 1962.

Oliver is manager of commercial research for Columbia-Geneva Division of United States Steel Co. with offices in San Francisco.

ROBERT E. OLIVER
Named to college board

THREE ASPIRANTS

He was one of three aspirants for the vacant board post who appeared before the other four trustees last night to state their qualifications. Also appearing were Francis B. Boone, Fairfax attorney with offices in San Rafael, and Alan Ewen of Mill Valley, assistant managing director of the Olympic Winter Games. All three were unsuccessful candidates for the same board in the May election this year.

Oliver was nominated by Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy and seconded by Kent O. Seymour for the position. George C. Washburn nominated Boone but there was no second.

The vote for Oliver was then unanimous.

TRIO PRAISED

Board members praised the qualifications and interest of all three aspirants.

The majority of the trustees noted that they were influenced not only by Oliver's qualifications but also by the opportunity to provide a wider base of representation on the college board by naming a San Rafael resident. The four other trustees are all residents of Tamalpais High School District.

Oliver had stressed his experience in budgeting, long-range planning and general administration, and his interest, as the father of four small children, in the welfare of the schools.

While the vote for Oliver was unanimous it was preceded by some spirited wrangling among the board members. Washburn and Mrs. Deedy, in particular, clashed on two issues:

1. The role that faculty mem-

Vista Point Throng Sees Fleet Arrival

A heavy blanket of fog lifted just in time today to provide Marin's south shore a "ringside" view of arrival of the U.S. 1st Fleet in San Francisco Bay.

Vista Point was jammed with watchers as the long parade of ships began to pass under the Golden Gate Bridge shortly after noon.

Earlier, the missile cruiser Helena, flagship of the fleet, slid in under the fog at 9:45 a.m. to anchor off the Marina near Alcatraz and serve as review ship for the 10-mile parade of two dozen fleet units.

The half hour parade was headed by the 51,000-ton carrier Midway, followed by the 33,000-ton carriers Hancock and Kearsage, the heavy cruiser Bremerton, 10 destroyers, three submarines and a variety of other ships.

The parade followed a dawn rendezvous in the Pacific preparatory to entry into the bay. As Vice Adm. Ruthven E. Libby's flagship Helena came to anchor a series of thundering salutes began.

Aboard the ships were 15,000 crewmen expected to invest $1,750,000 in entertainment and souvenirs during a three-day stay.

TO FLY AT HAMILTON

Nun Aims To Break Sound Barrier Here

A 65-year-old Roman Catholic nun hopes to break the sound barrier in an Air Force jet at Hamilton Air Force Base next month.

Sister Aquinas, science education supervisor for the Green Bay, Wis., archdiocese, said today she has been assured a chance to be co-pilot of a supersonic jet at Hamilton, United Press International reported from Green Bay.

Sister Aquinas is to leave for the West Coast Sunday — by plane, naturally—to conduct a two-week science workshop at University of San Francisco. She said she'll then receive a jet briefing at Hamilton before taking off in one of the jets there.

A spokesman for 4th Air Force at Hamilton said permission has been granted for Sister Aquinas, who is a licensed pilot, to check out as co-pilot of a supersonic jet.

The flying nun commented that American education needs to take some jet-speed steps too.

"There's too much conservatism in education," United Press International quoted her. "Educators are not alert enough to adapt curricula to the newer trends and needs of our country."

Buchignani Named San Anselmo's New Police Chief

Raymond R. Buchignani will be San Anselmo's new police chief.

City Manager Arthur W. Brewer today notified city council members he had decided to appoint Buchignani, who made the higher mark of two Hub City police sergeants on a state-conducted civil service examination for the chief's job.

Last night, the council certified by 3-1 vote (with Councilman Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. absent) the two-man eligibility list composed of Sergeants Buchignani and James Orr.

DISSENTING VOTE

Councilman Carmel H. Booth battled unsuccessfully to have Asst. Chief Sam N. Serio, who did not take the examination, considered for the job. She cast the dissenting vote on certifying the list.

Buchignani will become chief on retirement of veteran Donald T. Wood on Aug. 1.

"Serio disqualified himself for the post when he refused to take the examination," said Councilman William Franchini in reply to Mrs. Booth's demand that the assistant chief be named to the post.

"If this were put to a vote of the people of San Anselmo, Sam Serio would be chief tomorrow," Mrs. Booth snapped.

ON SERIO'S BEHALF

Also speaking in Serio's behalf was William Sousa, fireman and president of the San Anselmo Civil Service Employees Assn.

Sousa cited praise of Serio by representatives of the Federal Bureau of Investigation whom he had encountered while attending conferences. Sousa said he felt Serio should be given serious consideration despite the examination results.

"It was common knowledge that Sam had been told that even if he did take the exam, he would not become chief," Sousa declared.

UNDER FIRE

Sousa's name had come before the council earlier when he was criticized by Councilman Carleton G. Little for remarks made after the defeat Tuesday of the proposal to remove department heads (including the police chief) from civil service protection.

Little objected to Sousa's declaring city employees are

CORTE MADERA GROWS 1,136 IN 21 MONTHS

The Town of Corte Madera has grown by 1,136 souls during the past 21 months, it was reported today by the California Finance Department.

Latest figures, computed for the purpose of distributing gasoline tax money, indicate the present population at 5,300.

In October, 1957, a special census undertaken by the federal government at the expense of the city showed a population of 4,164.

Clear Skies Seen Through Weekend

County's Budget Gets Final Nod

Supervisors Approve $11.8 Million Figure

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday afternoon gave its final blessing to the 1959-60 budget.

The board approved the budget by a 3-1 vote, with Supervisor William D. Fusselman voting against it. Fusselman is opposed to inclusion of funds for the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed civic center. Supervisor James A. Marshall was absent.

The final budget figure is $11,822,406.59, and the final budget figure for the library is $250,856. The library figures concerns only the taxpayers living in areas of the county served by the county library. Those taxpayers will pay a levy of 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation for library service.

BUDGET REVISION

Yesterday's action followed revision of the budget by the county auditor's department to make it consistent with changes the supervisors made during consideration of the preliminary budget and public hearings.

The board wound up public hearings last Saturday, and heard an announcement by Deputy Auditor Michael Mitchell that the tax rate for the 1959-60 fiscal year will drop from last year's rate of $2.30 per $100 assessed valuation.

He made the same prediction yesterday, but said the actual amount would not be known until all figures on assessed valuation are available. He would not venture a guess on the rate. He said the supervisors probably will set a tax rate on or before Aug. 20, more than a month hence.

OTHER ACTION

The board yesterday took time out for passage of the budget during an afternoon of hearing applications for assessment adjustments.

The board last week dumped requests from some county departments for salary raises that would have been as high as 25 per cent for some individuals. It approved a revised salary setup which gives all employees about a 5 per cent increase.

In broad terms, these are the final figures on the budget:

Salaries and wages, $3,533,278; maintenance and operation, $4,461,610.59; capital outlay for equipment, $96,819; and $2,147,000 (civic center) site acquisition and building construction. (Comparable figures for the county library are: $82,908; $66,900; $1,048 and $200,000.

Victim's Dad Asks Tahoe Safety Steps

A grief-stricken Sausalito father, whose only son vanished mysteriously in the dark depths of Lake Tahoe, appealed today for stronger rescue facilities which might prevent another such tragedy.

The appeal came from retired Army Col. Del W. Ehrhardt of 205 Fourth street, Sausalito. His son, John 28, apparently drowned in the lake last Saturday after being thrown from his power boat.

TOSSED OVERBOARD?

An open hatch on the drifting boat indicated Ehrhardt may have been tossed overboard by a sudden wave while working on the motor, Associated Press reported from Stateline, Nev.

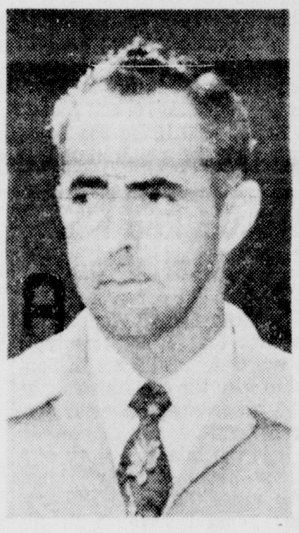
A life preserver seat cushion found floating a mile and a half from the boat—its seams torn and its arm straps loose—gave mute evidence that Ehrhardt did not drown immediately.

In a long letter to congressional and military leaders and to state and local officials, Colonel Ehrhardt declared he was "shockingly amazed" at the lack of safety on the mountain lake straddling the California-Nevada border.

SINGLE BOAT

He said the Coast Guard auxiliary's rescue facilities at Tahoe are limited to a single 40-foot boat, which was out of commission with a mechanical breakdown at the start of the search for his son.

A small dory with an outboard motor was being used for the search when he arrived, said the colonel.



DARYL A. HOPKINS

Mill Valley Principal To Be Hollis Aide

Daryl A. Hopkins, principal of Mill Valley's Edna Maguire School since it opened in 1956, will become health coordinator and general consultant with the county school department Aug. 1, County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis announced today.

He fills the vacancy created several months ago by the resignation of Roy L. Davis.

Hopkins joined the Mill Valley district 12 years ago as an eighth grade teacher at Park School. He became principal of Alto School when it opened, and of Tamalpais Valley School when it opened a few years later. He then opened the new Edna Maguire School in September, 1956.

Until January of this year, he was commanding officer of the 14th Rifle Company, Marine Corps Reserve. He is now on inactive status with the Marine Corps Reserve.

Hopkins and his wife, Irene, live at 642 Galerita way, Santa Venetia.

San Anselmo Flier Missing; Crash Feared

Friends of a missing San Anselmo flier fear he may have been involved in an airplane crackup somewhere between here and Reno.

The missing pilot is Larry Hamilton, 29, an architectural engineer, who lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brandt, at 24 Hampton avenue.

Mrs. Dorothy Kehoe of San Francisco, a friend of Mrs. Brandt, said Larry had a few more hours of night flying to do, and she thinks he took a plane out of some airport to head for Reno. The family has called all neighboring airports, but none of them reported a plane missing.

Mrs. Kehoe said they have not found the car in which Hamilton left Wednesday night. It is a 1955 Cadillac convertible, light green in color.

Mrs. Kehoe said Hamilton usually flew out of Santa Rosa, but he did not discuss flying with the family because his mother was strongly against it.

"All we know is that he took his equipment with him and nothing has been heard of him yet," Mrs. Kehoe said.

Hamilton, a bachelor, works for his father in San Francisco.

replied. The 70 per cent applies to those 500 who returned the questionnaire.

Schryver lashed out at the opposition group for "misleading and irresponsible statements."

"I say that the bond election is not being 'shoved down anybody's throat'. It is the natural outcome of a two-year study and many public meetings on the subject," he said.

Persons who attended the organizational opposition meeting at Mrs. Wills' home complained that results of the survey had never been made public. Namle said they were published, but perhaps not in detail, in the Terra Linda News, a community newspaper.

"The city of San Rafael has not announced a park and recreation program for Terra Linda valley," Schryver said, "and, in fact, has not even secured land for this purpose. The high school has not announced or even secured funds to install any facilities other than classrooms and a gymnasium. The City of San Rafael, in the opinion of my committee, is not an outstanding example of a park and recreation area and does not presently nor in the foreseeable future have adequate parks and recreation facilities."

At the Wills meeting, San Rafael City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said a swimming pool would probably be available at the new high school in two or three years. He also said that the land now set aside for recreational purposes could be taken over by the city and developed.

Preliminary plans to be presented Tuesday are those by the architectural firms of Royston, Hanamoto and Mayes, and Malone and Hooper, both of San Francisco. The Royston firm has prepared the site plan, and the other firm plans for the development of indoor facilities.

Planned are meeting rooms, tennis courts, a swimming pool, a multi-purpose slab, a patio and a kitchen.

Hunter Safety Class Tomorrow

A special hunter safety training course for Marin County hunters under 16 years of age will be held tomorrow at the police pistol range in San Rafael.

The four-hour class, 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., is sponsored by the Sheriff's Junior Rifle Club. Youngsters under 16 must pass this course to qualify for a California hunting license. Deer season starts July 25.

A registration fee of $1 will be charged.

Eighty-nine dogs were vaccinated for rabies last night at the Fairfax Firehouse, in the county health department's sixth in a series of 10 clinics.

The department said that brings the total of pets vaccinated to 691.

The next clinic will be held om 7 to 9 p.m. Monday at the Kent School in Kentfield.

College Board Pares Budget

Marin Junior College District trustees last night approved a preliminary budget whittled down by $13,000 from its former figure and changed the date for public hearing on it from Aug. 3 to Aug. 6.

The board reduced the budget total from $1,157,893 to $1,146,881 by deletion of several items.

Bids for lighting of the college athletic field are to be opened by president Ward H. Austin on the afternoon of Aug. 6 and presented to the board at its meeting at 8 p.m. on that date which will also be the budget hearing.

Sousa, with support from Mrs. Booth, defended his right to speak as he pleased as a taxpayer and head of the emloyee association.

Two letters were read to the council making recommendations for the job of chief.

LETTER TO COUNCIL

Strongly urging consideration of Serio was a letter from Miss E. H. Tompkins, longtime San Anselmo resident. Recommending the selection of Buchignani was a letter from attorney Robert Praetzel.

Sergeant Buchignani has served on the San Anselmo police force seven years and four months, and previously spent six months on the San Francisco force.

He was born in San Francisco and moved to Marin County when 12 years old, attending Fairfax School and Tamalpais High School. He also attended St. Mary's College briefly.

Before becoming a policeman, Buchignani spent six years in the Army. He served three years in the South Pacific during World War II as a master sergeant of infantry, and has the purple heart for wounds received in fighting in the Philippines.

He and his wife, Helen, and their three children, Diane, 12; Raymond (Rocky) 9, and Nancy, 7, live at 100 Ridge road, San Anselmo. The children attend Brookside School.

OLIVER

bers should play in school board elections.

2. Whether there has existed a policy or practice of spreading board memberships as widely as possible geographically.

The first issue arose while Washburn was questioning Oliver and asked him if he had run in the election as the candidate of the college's faculty association.

Oliver said he had no formal endorsement of the association but was proud that many of the teachers had decided "on their own" to support his candidacy.

Washburn then said he had been told by a friend that during the campaign Oliver had said that Ward H. Austin, College of Marin president, favored his candidacy.

DENIES STATEMENT

Oliver denied making any such statement. "I believe I did say that Mr. Austin had told me he felt San Rafael should be represented on the board," he said. "But I did not say that he supported me as a candidate. There has been a misunderstanding."

Mrs. Deedy objected to Washburn's questioning of Oliver concerning his faculty supporters.

"People in the employment of the college should not feel in any way restrained from exercising their rights as American citizens," she declared. "They have every right to participate in our elections and our campaigns, and to work for the betterment of our schools." Rupert E. Kempf, board president, agreed.

But Washburn said: "It seems to me that when the faculty promotes a candidate, that candidate is coming in here to represent the faculty and a conflict of interest results. Members of this board should be impartial and represent the taxpayers only."

Oliver replied that he had made no commitments to his teacher supporters other than to work for the betterment of the college.

Mrs. Deedy said there had long existed "an unwritten gentlemen's agreement that there would be representation from the San Rafael district on this board."

Seymour, in seconding Oliver's nomination, said he, too, felt that it had been past practice to spread representation on the board.

But Washburn said no such policy had ever been discussed by the board during his tenure and added: "I can't see why where a man sleeps is in any way a qualification for a school board. We are all residents and taxpayers of the district, regardless of the community we live in."

The new trustee was born in Cleveland, Ohio, and was graduated from University of Pennsylvania with a bachelor of science degree in economics. He served in the Army from 1942 to 1946, as a lieutenant in the finance department, and has been employed by Columbia-Geneva Steel since his discharge, as market analyst and manager of the commercial research department. He is a past president of Los Ranchitos Improvement Assn.

Children of Oliver and his wife, Mary Gertrude, range in age from 3 to 12 years.

Death Takes San Rafael Man At 90

Charles W. Goodwin, 90, a resident of San Rafael since 1906, died here yesterday. He had been living with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hollis of 1756 Lincoln avenue, and had been in retirement since about 1951.

He was born in Windsor, Canada, March 2, 1869. When he was still a small boy his parents took him to Alpina, Mich., and in 1890 he moved to Healdsburg.

Between 1906 and 1933 he worked with the bridge and buildings department of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad. Then he became superintendent of the Marin detention home where he was helped by his late wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Goodwin. After nine years he began work for the county farm where he continued until retirement.

Survivors include his daughter, Mrs. Ruth Hollis, and two grandchildren.

He was a member of the Knights of Pythias, Muir Lodge 123 and charter member of Tamalpais Temple 129, Pythian Sisters.

Services will be at 10 a.m. Monday at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael, with burial in Oakmont Cemetery, Healdsburg.

Find Tiburon Woman Dead

Lillian Marie McDonogh, 64-year-old Tiburon widow, was found dead on the floor of her garage yesterday morning, her face about a foot away from the exhaust pipe of her car, the motor of which was running.

Her son, Milton Samuel McDonogh, a tugboat captain, who lived with his mother, returned from work about 9 a.m. and found the body. The home is at 2330 Paradise drive, Tiburon.

At the request of relatives of the dead woman, Undersheriff Eugene Meyer issued orders to hush up the account of the death. Sheriff's investigators and officials of the coroner's office said they had been asked by Meyer not to release information on the finding of the body. The report of the suicide was not released until this morning.

Meyer was away from his office this morning and could not be reached for comment on why the information was withheld, and whether similar information is withheld on other cases.

The undersheriff sent four deputies to investigate the death. They included Chief Criminal Deputy Ellis Seibert, Inspector Guido Battaglia, Identification Chief Earl Cummesky and Deputy Arthur Leal.

The victim was lying on a blanket on the garage floor with her face toward the exhaust pipe.

A note on the bedroom dresser, scribbled in pencil, read: "I committed this act. Lillian McDonogh."

A doctor in San Francisco said he had been treating Mrs. McDonogh since 1948. She had been despondent for some time. Her husband, the late Samuel McDonogh, owned a boat rental shop in Tiburon.

She is also survived by another son, Gereau Francis McDonogh of 2311 Mar East, Tiburon.

Private funeral services are scheduled at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

STEEL UNION, INDUSTRY STAND FIRM IN STRIKE

Negotiations Static As Losses In Crippling Shutdown Mount

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Steel production loss mounted toward 100 million dollars today in the third day of the nationwide steel strike. No end to the crippling shutdown is in sight.

Many more millions in wages have been lost by 500,000 striking United Steelworkers, quietly manning picket lines at darkened mills.

Losses on both sides will grow steadily. The negotiations front is static.

There's little optimism on the part of strikers, the steel industry or the government that the contract stalemate can be resolved quickly. Neither the industry nor the union has given any sign of retreating from its stand.

Federal mediation efforts in the dispute will be renewed in New York Monday.

David J. McDonald, president of the Steelworkers, told pickets at the Bethlehem Steel Corp. plant in Bethlehem, Pa.: "We meet with the government on Monday, but I don't know whether it will do any good."

The strike at Tuesday midnight shut off nearly 90 per cent of the country's steelmaking capacity, representing about 300,000 tons of ingot steel daily.

Weekly production loss to the industry is estimated at 300 million dollars. The loss to strikers in wages is calculated at 70 million dollars a week.

In addition, allied industries such as coal and transportation have felt the strike keenly. About 25,000 workers have been idled due to business cutbacks.

McDonald journeyed to Bethlehem from New York as part of a union campaign to boost striker morale. Howard R. Hague, USW vice president, was touring the Chicago area while I. W. Abel, secretary-treasurer, was in the Pittsburgh.

The union president told a cheering throng: "Industry never wanted a contract. It never really made us an offer. We did not want to strike. It was the steel industry itself that provoked the shutdown."

McDonald indicated he would return to New York today. R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, was in Pittsburgh.

Negotiations foundered on the union's demand for increased wages and improved fringe benefits, the industry's steadfast refusal to make any concessions that would raise labor costs.

Steelworkers had been averaging $3.10 an hour before the strike.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) and Democratic Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts urged President Eisenhower to appoint a government fact-finding board to make recommendations for settling the strike.

FIRM PROVIDES STRIKE CHIEF WITH COMFORTS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The chairman of the striking United Steelworkers Union local eased back into a U.S. Steel Co. chair and plopped his feet on a company desk in an air-conditioned company office.

He was sitting in a portable field office the company provided for the pickets outside its Maywood plant yesterday. The company even ran in special water and power lines.

Robert Paige, the local chairman, and Otto Oster, plant superintendent, even were seen to smile at each other—on opposite sides of the high wire fence surrounding the plant. Said Paige: "We slit each other's throats gently around here."

Steel Strike In Capsule

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

IDLE — Half-million striking United Steelworkers, plus an estimated 25,000 in allied industries, chiefly coal, rail and Great Lakes iron ore shipping.

NEGOTIATIONS — No joint bargaining sessions scheduled. Federal mediation officials plan separate talks with both sides in New York Monday.

PICKET FRONT—Quiet and orderly. Union president David J. McDonald toured Bethlehem, Pa., steel center yesterday. Other union officials were in Chicago and Pittsburgh areas.

OUTSIDE DEVELOPMENTS—Sen. Stuart Symington and Massachusetts Gov. Foster Furcolo proposed government fact-finding.

PRODUCTION LOSSES—Steel production loss mounted toward 100-million-dollar mark in third day of shutdown.

ISSUES — Union wants increased wages and fringe benefits. Industry resists any rise in labor costs.

At the start of 1959, 4,925,000 persons were covered by employer-employee pension plans in the United States.

'HOT LEAD'

Long Shouts Threats At Newsmen

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—Louisiana's Gov. Earl Long had to be restrained from starting a fight in a Mexican cafe early today.

He spouted a tirade of curses and threatened to shoot newsmen following him.

His henchmen threatened a brawl in the streets of Juarez, Mexico, just across the Rio Grande from El Paso, if the governor wasn't left alone.

LIES DOWN IN CAR

At one time, Long lay on the floorboards of his car to keep from being photographed as he and his party ducked back and forth across the border trying to ditch reporters.

"I'm going to shoot them ---- ---- ---- I'm going to shoot them," Long screamed in the Cafe Charmont, a plush Mexican nightspot.

The display of violent temper by the 63-year-old mentally troubled governor started at the Hotel Hilton in El Paso shortly after 1 a.m. as he and his party left for Juarez.

'HOT LEAD'

"Why can't you leave me alone?" Long shouted. "Do you boys know what hot lead is? I've got plenty of it and I know how to use it. I'll shoot the lot of you."

But a car of photographers followed the governor's party to Juarez and tried to take pictures as he went into the cafe. Long called them obscene names.

The price of coal per ton at the mine is approximately the same today as it was in 1948.

HOOVER VISITS ALMA MATER

College Trustees To Review Adult Education Setup

Marin Junior College District trustees will meet next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the college with Samuel N. LeCount, head of the College of Marin adult education department, to review adult education programs and policies.

At that time the trustees will consider new personnel policies and a number of proposed new courses for the fall term as suggested by LeCount.

The board will also review its approval last week for start of a Mill Valley parent education-cooperative nursery school class with 20 students.

Board president Rupert E. Kempf noted last night that the action was contrary to past district practice of requiring a minimum enrollment of 29 before permitting such classes to start. He said he felt the trustees would be wise to "set up a standard and then stick by it so that everyone will know where we are going."

LeCount argued that provision should be made for exceptional circumstances. He said parent education classes customarily pick up additional students after they are under way.

Trustees approved a schedule of adult education classes for the 1959 fall quarter (not including the proposed new courses) and authorized a class in landscape design.

The board decided not to take immediate advantage of new state legislation authorizing junior college to charge out-of-state students a tuition of up to $180 a year. The matter will be considered again in a few months.

College president Ward H. Austin said the school now has pending 24 applications from out-of-state students for admission this fall. One result of a tuition, he said, would probably be that many of those prospective students would be unable to attend the college.

Kempf said he would like to know what other California junior colleges plan to do in the matter before taking action.

Trustee George C. Washburn disagreed. "I think we should do our own thinking in these matters, and not always be looking for some other district to follow," he said.

But the board majority decided that further study is needed before action can be taken on the tuition proposal.

The board awarded to Lee-Mac Paving Co. of Corte Madera the contract for some street work and seal coating of parking lots on the campus. Bidding was on a unit basis.

Costs to the district will be approximately $2,275 for the construction of a road west of the gymnasium and seal coating of the parking lot and paths around the gym; $850 for the seal coating of the parking lot near the new library addition and $2,000 for the repair of North road.

BATS IN YOUR ATTIC? HERE'S ACTION TO TAKE

If you have bats in your attic, you can drive them out with naphthalene flakes or kill them with a DDT solution, County Agricultural Commissioner Thomas W. Peryam said today.

One to five pounds of naphthalene flakes spread in and around attics will not kill the bats but will drive them out, Peryam said. This is the preventige method.

The other is a solution of one cup of 50 per cent wettable DDT to a gallon of water. This should be sprayed liberally among the rafters. In about one or two weeks, the bats will die.

Bats are being eyed with new alarm because three of them in San Rafael were found to be rabid in recent weeks.

Board Plans To Revise Rules For College Help

Marin Junior College District trustees decided last night that a proposed set of rules for non-teaching employees of College of Marin needs revision before adoption.

The decision to delay action on regulations compiled by Rupert E. Kempf, board president, was made after Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy said she felt some of them were more applicable to industry than to a college.

Kempf agreed further study should be given some of the proposals.

The proposed rules were listed in three categories.

The first category called for immediate discharge for such offenses as the intentional punching of the time clock of another employee, having a time clock punched by another, falsification of employment application, concealing defective work, stealing, misuse or removal of blueprints or confidential records, gambling on school property, sale or distribution of narcotics on school property, making of false or malicious statements concerning school personnel, conviction for a crime involving a sentence of 30 days or longer, and violation of rules of common decency or morality.

The second category called for a disciplinary layoff of three days or final written warning on the first offense, immediate discharge on the second offense for these offenses: Violation of safety rules involving negligence or willful disregard for human safety or college property, insubordination, use of vulgar or abusive language, unauthorized soliciting on school property, sleeping during working hours, posting notices on school property without approval, reporting for work drunk or with a hangover, possession of liquor on school property, and defacing of school notices.

For the third classification, penalties would include a reprimand on first violation, three-day layoff or written warning on the second offense, and discharge for the third violation.

This would include absence from work, unexcused by supervisor, habitual tardiness, leaving work before the end of a shift, leaving work area without permission, violation of safety rules not resulting in accidents, failure to promptly report an accident or injury, tampering with college property, refusal without cause to give testimony about an accident, neglect of work including negligent operation of equipment, entering restricted area without proper authorization, failure to work full shift, and failure to punch time clock at beginning or end of shift.

College president Ward H. Austin endorsed the proposed rules and said arrangements are being made for a time clock for the buildings and grounds personnel.

Mrs. Deedy said she felt the purpose of the rules to be excellent, but believes some of the proposals "are not intended for the kind of people we have working for us here at the college."

Others, she added, might be difficult to enforce. She pointed to the provision that employees are not to leave a work area without permission as an example.

Hike In Jobless Pay Bill Signed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has signed into law a bill increasing state unemployment insurance disability benefits from $50 to $65 a week.

The law is the fourth piece of social legislation signed by the governor. The others increased unemployment insurance from $40 to $55 a week, increased workmen's compensation from $50 to $65 a week, and legalized supplemental unemployment insurance benefits.

The unemployment disability bill will become effective Jan. 1. It was introduced by Assemblymen Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) and Phillip Burton (D-San Francisco).

Judge's Order Youth Attend Mass Rapped

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The American Civil Liberties Union today protested a municipal court judge's order that a youth attend church services as a condition of probation.

But Judge Andrew J. Eyman brushed aside the protest over the case of William J. Korpa, who pleaded guilty to a battery charge stemming from a teenagers street brawl. The youth had a juvenile court record.

"No citizen can be required to attend or join a church," said Ernest Besig, ACLU executive director.

Judge Eyman replied: "If this boy or any defendant appearing before me can be rehabilitated through religious ideals, that's better than jail. I've done this before, and I will continue this policy."

He had sentenced Korpa (of 417 Sixth avenue) to two years probation on condition that during the period he would not drink "and attend mass every Sunday."

War I Navy Deserter Surrenders

OAKLAND (AP) — Lewis E. Clayburg, 72, has gone without Social Security payments for seven years, he hold the Federal Bureau of Investigation yesterday, because he deserted the Navy in World War I and was afraid to collect payments under a false name.

Clayburg walked into the Navy recruiting station Wednesday, the FBI said, and surrendered as a deserter because "I want to get it off my chest."

Once a ship's carpenter and now a farm and odd job worker, Clayburg said he went on a drinking spree Aug. 7, 1917, from his post at Bremerton, Wash., Navy base, "woke up in Oregon" and decided not to go back.

The FBI said a check with Washington, D. C., failed to turn up any "wanted" status for Clayburg.

CARAT CROP PROVES TOUGH TO HARVEST

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Three men crawled on their hands and knees for five hours in a tomato patch searching vainly for $2,000 in carats.

They found only battered swizzle sticks and Hawaiian leis — leftovers from a boat club party where Mrs. Virginia Craigie lost two diamond rings, apparently in the straw that covered the dance floor.

Musician John Bayer hauled away the straw for mulch in his tomato patch but explained, "I didn't know what I was asking for. First thing I knew Mrs. Craigie was out here asking to look through the straw."

She searched and failed. Then insurance adjustor William Hales hired three men to hunt for the carats in the straw. They planned to look again today.

James Stewart Given Promotion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Armed Services Committee yesterday approved the long-delayed nomination of movie star James Stewart to be a brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve.

Approval came only after the Pentagon changed his mobilization assignment to a desk job.

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), said the committee was unanimous in approving the reserve promotion after it was disclosed that the World War II bomber pilot would be assigned to public relations, in any mobilization emergency, rather than to the Strategic Air Command's 15th Air Force as chief of staff.

Singer Billie Holiday Dies In N. Y. Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Billie Holiday died today in a city hospital bed — a wasted shadow of the once great blues singer who packed night clubs from coast to coast.

Bouts with narcotics and liquor had cracked her mellow style, and she had been in eclipse in recent years.

The Negro entertainer — called "Lady Day" — died in Metropolitan Hospital. Her husband, Louis McKay, was at her bedside.

The immediate cause of death was given as congestion of the lungs complicated by heart failure.

Miss Holiday, 44, was taken to the hospital unconscious May 31 after she collapsed in her apartment.

When death came, she was under arrest — charged with possession of a pack of heroin in her bed.

In better days Miss Holiday had appeared with Benny Goodman and Louis Armstrong. Among her big song hits were "Them There Eyes," "Strange Fruit," and "I Cover the Waterfront."

Miss Holiday was born Eleanora Fagan in Baltimore April 7, 1915.

She started smoking marijuana at the age of 14. By the time she was 25 — in 1940— she was on heroin. It was on and off narcotics after that.

She got her name Billie through her idolization of Billie Dove, the old-time movie star. She adopted her first name and picked up the Holiday from a branch of her own family.

Billie Holiday married twice, the first time to her manager, Jimmie Monroe.

Winds Feared At Fire Scene

KERNVILLE (UPI) —Extreme turbulent wind conditions are predicted today as more than 900 firefighters battle a Sequoia National Forest blaze which has burned for seven days.

More than 6,000 acres have been blackened. Forest supervisor Eldon W. Ball estimates the fire is about 80 per cent controlled.

Forest officials said conditions are generally good except on the northern edge of the fire in the Tobias Creek area where no major front has been established. Efforts in this region are hampered by the extremely steep and rocky terrain.

This lineup of power-packed defenders, shown at McGuire Air Force Base, N. J., is guarding U. S. shores these days against any sneak attack. At left foreground is the newest addition to the "team," Convair's F106A Delta Dart. Next to the Dart is a Genie (MB1) atomic air-to-air rocket with which the F106A can be equipped. Bargain Days Draw Throng To Hub City

San Anselmo Bargain Days yesterday drew so many people into town that merchants couldn't leave their stores, hence no quorum for the scheduled weekly meeting of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce.

"Customers certainly came in for those bargains," commented George G. Washburn, chamber secretary. "We're having a three-day sale including today and tomorrow. So we just skipped this week's meeting but there will be one next Thursday."

Winning tickets in the Bargain Days give-away of two television sets and two transistor radios will be drawn at 11 a.m. Monday on the lawn of the San Anselmo City Hall, announced Homer Rickards, sale chairman. All 43 participating merchants are giving away tickets, with no purchase necessary.

Ten numbers will be drawn for each prize and posted at both banks and the Ross Valley Savings and Loan Co. office, said Rickards. If the top number is not presented within five days, the second number will be declared winner and will be good for presentation within 24 hours, when the prize will go to the third number, and so on.

City Manager Donald A. Duerr will act as auctioneer.

The sale includes unclaimed property collected by the police department as well as surplus city property.

Included are eight bicycles, eight swivel chair, an office desk, some rattan chairs, water skis, baby strollers, boat trailer, auto parts and luggage.

Duerr said there is also a fur coat but he declined to attempt identification of the type of fur.

Everything goes to the highest bidder.

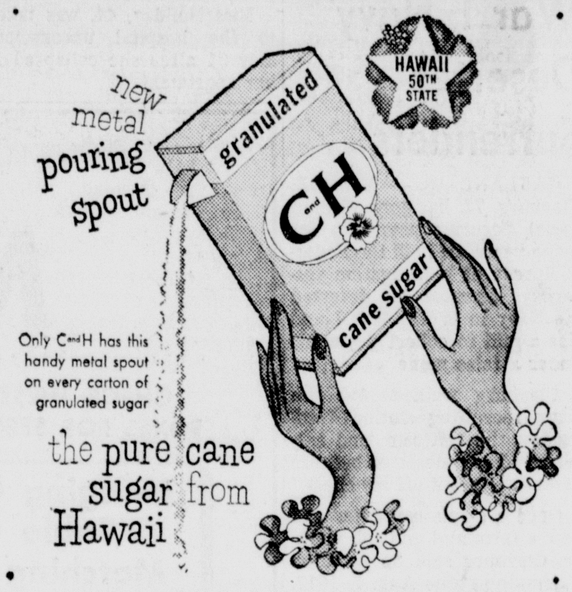
New Supertanker Wharf Dedicated By Port At L.A.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Port of Los Angeles yesterday dedicated the world's first protected supertanker terminal designed so that one man can handle the unloading of 35,000 barrels of crude oil an hour.

Harbor general manager Bernard J. Caughlin said that in the past the new giant tankers have had to remain at sea and have their cargo discharged through pontooned pipelines. The new concrete wharf is 960 feet long and the bay at the point is dredged to 46 feet.

The new terminal facilities include one 30-inch pipe from the tanker to tank farms. One man sitting at a control panel can control the flow of oil to the maximum of 35-thousand barrels an hour.

The facility is under a 30-year lease to the Union Oil Co. with a contract clause making it available to any company that desires to use it.



Tiburon District Asks More Hilarita Annexation Data

Tiburon Sanitary District directors in a special meeting last night decided they will require some figures on the costs of additional equipment necessary for including the Hilarita Housing Project in the district before its annexation can be considered.

The sanitary district directors met with the Marin County Housing Authority to discuss the proposal.

District engineers were instructed to get up cost figures for another meeting, planned within two weeks, said Robert A. Sterling, secretary.

The City of Belvedere has set a deadline of Oct. 1 for Hilarita to terminate its use of the Belvedere sewage facilities.

Castro Quitting As Cuba Minister

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro is quitting as prime minister, apparently to rally public support for his troubled regime. Cuban workers at once began strikes and parades to show they are behind the bearded revolutionary.

Castro arrived at the presidential palace at midmorning, apparently to present his resignation to President Manuel Urrutia. Radio stations said Castro will speak to the people tonight to explain his decision.

Groups of workers marched to the plaza of the presidential palace, shouting support for Castro and his revolution.

It was generally agreed in Havana that Castro still is the No. 1 man in Cuba and that his absence from office will be brief.

Reports circulated in business circles that differences had arisen between Castro and President Urrutia, installed by Castro.

Many were saying Urrutia will step out of the presidency and that Castro himself would take over the job. This was denied, however, in official circles.

Castro's decision to resign was announced today in Revolucion, newspaper of his 26th of July Movement and confirmed by Raul Castro, his brother and heir-apparent.

Associates said Castro had been upset by recent developments, including the resignation and flight of his air force commander, Maj. Pedro Luiz Diaz Lanz. Later Diaz told U.S. senators that Castro and others high in his government are Communists—a charge the Castro forces vigorously deny.

Castro also has been disturbed about evidence of opposition to him within Cuba. But close associates say these activities have been annoying rather than serious.

Castro took over as prime minister Feb. 17.

ONLY BIG FOUR EXPECTED

Geneva Looms As Summit Site

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

GENEVA (AP) — There seems to be a tacit understanding with the Soviets that the East-West summit conference—if it is arranged—will be held in Geneva.

Western diplomats think it will come soon after the wind-up of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's Scandinavian tour Aug. 30.

The United States, Britain and France are reported taking it for granted that the conference will be confined to the Big Four powers.

East and West German delegates almost certainly will be along to serve as "advisers" in any talks on Berlin and the wider problems of a German peace settlement.

The Western Allies seem sure that the Soviet Union does not intend to press overly hard for the admission of Poland and Czechoslovakia as full participants at the summit talks. If they are right, the prospects are dim that such nations as Italy and Yugoslavia will be invited.

Allies authorities think the conference will work on these items:

1. The formal conclusion of a temporary East-West agreement on Berlin.

2. Means of reviving long-stalled disarmament negotiations within the framework of the United Nations.

3. German reunification, the German peace treaty and measures to consolidate the security of Europe, including steps to insure against surprise attack.

4. Sideline talks by the world's three nuclear powers —the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union—on a pact to suspend the testing of nuclear weapons.

5. Fixing of a date and possibly a place for another foreign ministers' conference and another summit conference.

All the Allied powers are agreed that no summit talks can be arranged until the Soviets agree in clear-cut terms to respect existing arrangements and Western rights in Berlin for a period of freeze on the dispute over that city's future.

Big Four Foreign Ministers Still Fail To Make Progress At Geneva

GENEVA (AP) — The foreign ministers of the Soviet Union and the Western powers failed today to make any progress in narrowing their differences over a possible Berlin truce agreement.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville of France and Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko debated the terms of a Berlin standstill deal in a three-hour luncheon meeting at Couve de Murville's villa.

The session was covered by a secrecy agreement and Western officials would say afterward only that no progress was achieved.

Herter, Lloyd and Couve de Murville were understood to have made a new effort at today's meeting to get Gromyko to break the link between the proposal for an 18-month truce in the Berlin crisis and his proposal for an all-German committee to negotiate on German reunification and a peace treaty. Apparently they failed again, as they had in public sessions earlier this week.

Yesterday's meeting produced some evidence that the West may find it possible in the end to get an agreement to shelve the Soviet threat to Berlin for several years.

The Western ministers believe that progress toward agreement can be achieved only in secret sessions, away from the propaganda spotlight.

On Monday, Gromyko said he would not agree to secret meetings unless the delegations from East and West Germany were present.

Gromyka obviously was making a grandstand bid for recognition of the Communist East German regime.

Nikita Credits Communism With Maintaining Peace

STETTIN, Poland (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev flew today to this Baltic port city in northwest Poland where Catherine the Great of Russia was born.

Khrushchev was accompanied by Polish Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka as he began the fourth day of his state visit to Poland.

At Katowice last night, Khrushchev credited communism with maintaining peace in the non-Communist world.

"If the Socialist (Communist) camp did not exist, the capitalist countries would fight among themselves," he said.

Khrushchev gave a 10-minute speech that climaxed the third day of his tour of Poland.

He warned West Germany that Russia could "repeat" its defeat of Germany if it became necessary.

"There is a reactionary voice in West Germany," he said. "Hitler started it but we gave him a lesson. Adenauer has forgotten the lesson given to Hitler, but it can be repeated again."

Nevertheless he reiterated his statement that the Soviet Union does not want war.

There are some 40,000 insurance agents in Russia, but they all work for the same government-owned company, Gosstrakh.

Latin America Arms Aid Limit Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees voted today to set a 67-million-dollar limit on military assistance to Latin America for the fiscal year that began July 1.

They took this tentative action as a compromise three and one-half billion-dollar foreign aid bill, tailored to meet most of President Eisenhower's requests, neared final approval.

LAST TOUCHES

The conferees met again today to put the finishing touches on a provision to shift military aid funds to the regular Defense Department budget for a two-year trial period.

This was at least a partial victory for the President, who had urged permanent authorizations for military assistance abroad starting with the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1960. The Senate had approved the plan, but it was not in the House bill.

SUBSTITUTE PLAN

The House conferees agreed to a substitute provision authorizing such appropriations for the years beginning July 1, 1960, and July 1, 1961. If approved by both houses, this would shift military assistance out of the foreign aid bill for two years and enable the President to go directly to congressional appropriations committees for financing it.

All yesterday's actions were tentative, and subject to change before final action is taken at tomorrow's session.

Bitter Battle Assured On Labor Control Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bitter unpredictable battle on the floor of the House was all but assured today over adoption of a labor-management controls bill.

The House Labor Committee, at a late night session, virtually completed action on a bill denounced by a Republican spokesman as Teamsters President James R. Hoffa's greatest victory. Faction-split Democrats disagreed on various provisions and on the bill's overall effectiveness.

In many respects, the bill met most basic objections of organized labor and represented a substantial revision of the Senate-passed version.

Rep. Carroll D. Kearns of Pennsylvania, senior committee Republican, told reporters "Jimmy Hoffa has won his greatest victory."

"The bill tentatively agreed on by the House Labor Committee fails to correct the racketeering that has been revealed" by the Senate Labor-Management Committee investigation of the Teamsters and other labor unions, Kearns said.

"In fact," he said, "it exempts nearly 70 per cent of the nation's unions from even reporting their activities."

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market widened its losses moderately late this afternoon as steels, motors and rails declined. Trading was slow.

Volume for the day was estimated at 2,700,000 shares compared with 3,170,000 yesterday.

Leading issues were off from fractions to a point mostly.

An assortment of special situations and trading favorites posted gains.

Volume slackened and it was apparent the price softness was due more to a drying up of bids rather than to selling pressure.

The market was mixed at the start then made a progressive show of weakness.

Losses of about a point were taken by U.S. Steel, Republic Steel, Lukens and Jones and Laughlin.

Southern Pacific dropped about a point. More moderate losses were shown by New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio and Southern Railway.

Koreans Die In Stampede

SEOUL (UPI)—A sudden rainstorm sent thousands of Koreans fighting their way out of a stadium in Pusan tonight in a death-filled stampede.

Orieng Press said in a dispatch from the southern port city that 47 bodies had been counted. Several hundred others were reported injured. Orient Press said the dead were crushed and trampled to death.

Orient Press said about 50,000 persons had gathered in Pusan Stadium to watch a special "free citizens" show sponsored by the Kukje Shinbo newspaper of Pusan. Heavy rain brought on by Typhoon Billie started to fall and the crowd began to flee, the agency said.

Many died as a frantic struggle developed at the narrow entrance gate, the agency said.

Here's Weekend's Marin Film Fare

By LESLIE DARD

In brief, here's what you can see at Marin's film houses this weekend:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

James Michener's little book of short stories, "South Pacific," has come a long way, culminating in a six-million-dollar color epic which is now on the screen of the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo.

Directed by Joshua Logan, it is a lavishly made, engaging show which retains all the joy, sorrow and comedy of the stage version.

Only the most diehard fans of the Mary Martin-Ezio Pinza team will complain about Hollywood's choices: Mitzi Gaynor and Rossano Brazzi.

In the subsidiary story, John Kerr plays the young Marine hero and Frances Nuyen is his Polynesian beauty.

The comedy contingent is headed by Ray Walston. Juanita Hall, from the original cast, re-creates Bloody Mary.

One of the most striking things about this film is its use of color. Careful differentiations have been made between plot sequences, which were filmed in normal color, and the musical segments, which were made in a kind of misty, dreamlike kaleidescope of changing hues.

The Rodgers and Hammerstein songs are as delightful as ever.

RAFAEL THEATER

In the spring of 1863, a group of Union cavalrymen made an audacious raid into the heart of Confederate territory, severing the lines carrying supplies to Vicksburg and thus materially shortening the Civil War, perhaps even changing its course.

It is this story which is related, with embellishments, in "The Horse Soldiers" (color), starring John Wayne and William Holden. It starts Sunday.

Wayne portrays Colonel Marlowe and Holden is his surgeon major, sent along to minister to the wounded. Constance Towers plays a rebel beauty who overhears Marlowe's plan and is dragged along for the entire 16 days of the raid.

Director John Ford has made of "The Horse Soldiers" an exciting, if familiar, war story which tingles with action. Still, the script does not pretend that war is glorious, and it establishes that both sides must pay a heavy price.

NOVATO AND SEQUOIA THEATERS

Walt Disney's "Sleeping Beauty" (in color and Technirama 70 process) is a full-length animation of the elaborate Charles Perrault version of the fairy tale. It opens at both of these theaters Sunday.

Disney has reincarnated the precious blonde lass who served him so well in "Snow White" to be his beauty. The three good fairies are kind and pretty little butterballs, with droll and sprightly magic in their wands.

Disney's songs and background music are adapted from Tchaikovsky's "Sleeping Beauty" ballet and the result, along with the story, is the whimsical animated magic parents and children have always liked.

MARIN MOTOR MOVIES AND FAIRFAX THEATER

"Alias Jesse James" offers Bob Hope in one of the funnier vehicles he's had in recent years. It's now showing at these two theaters.

In this comedy (color), he plays an insurance salesman who unwittingly sells a policy to Jesse James and then is ordered to go West—either to invalidate the policy or preserve the life of the outlaw.

In short: An evening with Bob Hope; anything for a gag.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Alfred Hitchcock has substituted mental menace for physical peril in "Vertigo" (color), co-featured with "Houseboat," a comedy starring Cary Grant and Sophia Loren.

Jimmy Stewart portrays a detective who must quit the San Francisco force because of his fear of height. Then an old chum with lots of dough hires Jimmy to shadow his wife (Kim Novak) who, he says, has suicidal tendencies.

It would be unfair to reveal any details of the plot, which is essentially a story within a story.

"Vertigo" is particularly noteworthy for its unusual camera techniques, which heighten the mood of the macabre.

LARK THEATER

"My Uncle," Oscar-winner as the best import of the past 12 months (in color), has been held over.

It stars Jacques Tati, the clown of "Mr. Hulot's Holiday," and his satire is keener than ever. This time around, Tati demonstrates the idiocy of modern gadgetry by contrasting our sometimes insane mechanized, electronic world with the gay, carefree life to be found in an old-fashioned Parisian suburb.

Tati's film is a succession of small bits which show a fairly limitless imagination and are almost always joyously funny. He is still the amiable blunderer of "Hulot's Holiday," creating havoc wherever he goes.

IN CAVALRY EPIC—John Wayne heads the cast of "The Horse Soldiers," a story of cavalry in the Civil War, which starts Sunday at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael.

Law College Names Engle 'Man Of Year'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — U.S. Sen. Clair Engle (D-Red Bluff) is the 1959 "Man of the Year" at University of California's Hastings College of Law, the college announced yesterday.

Engle was a member of the Hastings class of 1933.

FRENCH VIEW OF U.S.

This Film Has Everything —Almost None Of It True

By ANTHONY AUSTIN

PARIS (UPI) — It's the movie that has everything — and almost none of it true. It's definitely anti-American, but Americans who flock to it don't know whether to howl with rage or giggle at its absurdities.

The motorcycle mob of blank faced young hoodlums rips into the American town. Black leather jackets zero in on the hapless bookstore owner.

Slap! His eyeglasses fly from his hands. Crash! Cowboy boots grind his groping fingers into the floor.

"Brutality in America!" is the screaming message of the opening scene of the new French movie, "I'll Spit on Your Graves."

The scenes shift. In a cabin deep in Mississippi (after a lynching, of course) a poor white takes a pull on a bottle—imported Ballantine's Scotch—what else?

Meanwhile, back on Main street, tempers rise. The drugstore owner pulls his pistol from under the counter. Candles in empty bottles splutter in the night.

The hero, a light-skinned Negro passing for white, makes for the Canadian border with the white girl who loves him because he scowls.

Alas! Floodlights bare the fleeing pair and machine guns cut them down. Uncle Sam has the border watched.

Boris Vian, a Parisian Jacques-of-all-trades, who wrote the script was not limited in his descriptions of America, since he has never been there. He died three weeks ago of a heart attack while watching this movie version of his original novel, "J'irai Cracher sur vos Tombes."

The movie is the talk of the sidewalk cafes and American tourists flock to it for three reasons — to get mad, to giggle or to gulp at the sex scenes which would never be shown in an American movie.

American small town girls wear their Parisian dresses only to shed them at the drop of a stare. In an underwater kissing scene the girl lacks the top of her bikini.

New Setup For Kentfield Schools Eyed

Possibilities for reorganization of Kentfield School District will be outlined by Supt. Harold R. De Pue at a meeting of the Kentfield School Board at 7:45 p.m. Monday at the A. E. Kent School library.

Included in plans for 1960-61 will be organization as a separate independent operation and combination with adjacent districts, as well as unification of a portion of the Tamalpais High School District around Redwood High School.

Several future meetings will be devoted to these subjects in contemplation of full exploration before the end of the year.

Election will be held for offices of president, clerk, and choice of a board representative for the Marin County Committee on District Organization.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Jake, Alias 'French Doughnut,' Cheers 'Em At West End Villa

Happy expressions you see on the faces of Pete Ostaggi, Nola, Wilma and the others at West End Villa are there because of Jake, alias "The French Doughnut."

His real name is Jake Donat. Maybe it was meant to be Jacques but he prefers Jake or Frenchy, and he's the new chef. He makes everybody happy for two reasons. First, he's that way himself and it's catching. Also, he's a good cook and that's catching, too, among the customers.

Jake has dabbled in food from the time he was twelve when he helped his dad in a sausage factory. Once he discovered there were other things to eat beside sausage he set about learning to prepare them and got into such a delectable rut he's never been able to stir his way out.

He took to cheffing for the country clubs, had a couple of restaurants of his own in Oakland and Phoenix. Actually, he fits in with things at West End Villa like chicken saute with mushrooms, sole and tartar sauce, prime rib and horseradish.

His veal Parmesan is neat and customers come out to the kitchen to find out what he does to sweetbreads to make them taste that way. Besides the things on the menu he's added others—think of something and ask for it. Check on the apple and banana fritters, too.

Good wholesome food here, moderate prices and a splendid family restaurant.

RETURNING TONIGHT and continuing Fridays and Saturdays each week at Trader Horn's for dance and listenin' music are Frank Hagerty and Al Trobe. There's another fellow with them playing the drums but he's too modest to have his name mentioned — you'll recognize him.

Together they maye a trio and since they were all part of the old Fourmosts I guess for want of a better name you could call them the "Fourmosts —Minus One."

SWEPT SUDDENLY into managing the food department at the Ranch House in San Anselmo the first of this month, and what with Peggy taking off on a vacation, Don McLaughlin is just now getting organized with his new menu.

Accent is on the barbecued tasties he used to prepare at the Red Fox—chicken, spareribs, shortribs, char-broiled steaks and ham, and of course, prawns flavored with wine. Adjoining lounge supervised by Wes Martin himself can be tapped for cocktails and wines to go with your meal.

Additional menu attractions will be added from time to time, I expect, but Don is playing it cagey—trying out new recipes before putting them down for sure.

EVENING SHADOWS on Richardson Bay are a romantic backdrop for Zack's outdoor dockside tables. If I were an artist I'd like to paint them and I guess some Sausalitans go there just to daub at their palettes instead of their palates.

Waterfront gear stands out in bold relief against the last fading light in the sky. An inspirational sight except for one thing.

On a nearby jetty stands the tall boom of a crane with its suspended rope sling—looking for all the world like the grisly silhouette of a hangman's noose. Or have I been watching too many westerns lately?

TIBURON TOMMIE has concocted a drink called Mai Tai Near as I can make out it's his own variation on the theme of an old Polynesian love potion, made with rum, apricot liqueur and something else to give it potency.

I dunno—I'm just mentioning it in case you're interested. Don't blame the consequences on me. You're over 21, aren't you?

STRANDED in San Francisco and don't know where to eat? Make the experience a novel one and try the House of Lebanon on Geary between Grant and Stockton—a comparatively new dinery of three months standing, specializing in authentic Arabic cuisine. Tell Kay and John Amato you're from Marin county. They are, too, and will make you feel at home.

House of Lebanon is a beautiful little spot, decked out in black and gold, oriental design. Food is carefullyESCSESCSSS pictures and lots of atmosphere. Food is carefully prepared, prices are right and there's a cocktail lounge.

Kay and John have lived in San Rafael about three years, decided to team up with Nela and Stubby Salanitro (Nela is from Lebanon) and Pete Arnes to give dining out the true Arabic touch. Menu also includes French dishes but you should try some of the house specialties.

Open for lunches from 11:30 a.m. (a different lunch menu every day) and for dinners from 5 p.m. Closed on Sundays except for special parties. Reservations recommended whenever possible.

Fighting Mary's Days Numbered

OAKLAND (AP) — The scrapper's torch is going to deal "the fighting Mary" the death blow the Japanese never could.

In two or three weeks five tugs will haul the 31,500-ton battleship Maryland down from Bremerton, Wash., to Oakland to be reduced to steel scrap by the Learner Co.

Eight months will be required to cut up the old sea warrior that survived attack at Pearl Harbor and carried the war to the shores of Okinawa.

The Maryland, built in 1920, was taken out of service in April, 1947.

Kuchel To Seek Pt. Reyes Park Survey At Once

WASHINGTON — Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel said today he has been informed that the National Park Service is going forward without delay in surveying the Pt. Reyes seashore area with a view to possible creation of a national park or national recreation area.

With a $15,000 appropriation Kuchel was instrumental in obtaining, the San Francisco regional office of the National Park Service is at work on preliminary phases of a land use plan for the area.

In a letter from George L. Collins, chief of recreation resource planning in the San Francisco headquarters, Kuchel was told the park service hopes to come up with a program which will preserve scientific features including sea life and unspoiled stretches of seashore in its natural state. The regional office restated its opinion, "the area warrants national seashore status."

Since he started efforts to obtain planning funds for the project, Kuchel has received many letters supporting the idea of preserving this stretch of shoreline, he said.

Collins assured Kuchel his office will work with local groups, including the College of the Pacific, which is particularly interested in perpetuating an area suitable for continuing sea life studies carried on by tion with William E. McDonnell Dillons Beach.

San Jose School Site Negotiations To Start

Trustees of the San Jose School District last night agreed to begin negotiations with owners of 16 acres at the end of San Jose boulevard in Raphael Village, proposed as the site for a new intermediate school.

The site is owned by Novato contractor Reuben Kaehler and several other persons represented by San Rafael real estate broker Merritt W. Pollock, reported Supt. Philip W. Schneider.

Should negotiations for the purchase of the land fail to result in agreement within 90 days after they are started, said Schneider, the district will be left with no recourse but to condemn the property in accordance with state law.

The new school is hoped to be constructed within a year or two, to provide for an enrollment of 600 children — about half the number of 7th and 8th graders expected in the district when the area is saturated with residences.

The superintendent reported that construction has begun on the rehabilitation phase of the old Meadow Park School buildings adjacent to Hamilton Air Force Base and that demolition of old Air Force residential units on the site has started, making way for the new Meadow Park additions, to be completed by February, 1960.

The work is being done by the Walter J. Kubon Construction Co. of San Rafael.

Airmen Move Into 2 New HAFB Dorms

Airmen of the 78th Fighter Group at Hamilton Air Force Base today began moving into two new three-storied dormitories at the base, built at a total cost of $666,000.

Opening of the modern dorms, each with 70 three-man bedrooms, will lead to a general shifting of several units at Hamilton next week. Members of the 78th Air Police Squadron will move into the quarters vacated by the 78th Fighter Group; the 1902nd Airways and Air Communications Squadron will move into the barracks vacated by the Air Police, and the 78th Installation and Transportation Squadrons will leave their quarters in favor of the former AACS barracks.

The new dorms were started by Baldwin Construction Co. of Marysville in April, 1958.

SKUNK VILLAIN?

Girl's Flock Dwindles One Per Day

A 9-year-old Novato girl, earning her spending money by caring for her neighbor's nine chickens, is asking the sheriff for help.

Like the proverbial nine little Indians, the nine little chickens have been disappearing one per day until there are only four little chickens left.

Patricia E. Pedroli of 705 Lamond avenue is caring for the chickens owned by Willard M. Denny Jr. of 728 Lamont, who left for vacation last July 7. Every morning since then Patricia has found one less chicken.

Deputy Sheriff Harold Goerndt investigated and found the bottom wire of the chicken pen loose enough for an animal to crawl through. He thinks that a skunk or some other animal has been crawling in each night to feast on a chicken per day.

Patricia is determined to keep closer watch on the flock so that she will have at least one leghorn left for the Dennys when they return.

Goodwill Store Opens July 30 In San Rafael

A new Goodwill Industries store will open July 30 at 1918-20 Fourth street, San Rafael, it was announced today by William A. Marcus, first vice president.

Ed Tyrrell, for many years a police officer in the area, will be manager of the store which is newly redecorated and located between the Lady Baltimore bakery and the Motor Vehicle Department.

Among articles to be placed on sale will be women's, men's, children's and infants' clothing; repaired and newly finished chests, tables and chairs, lamps, radios, and toys; and a smallware department specializing on bridge prize possibilities such as whistling teapots, copper skillets, pictures and candlesticks.

Work On Hub Firehouse Must Wait, Council Told

Despite approval by the San Anselmo City Council last night of plans for the proposed firehouse, the city is no closer to actual construction of the building than before.

The city had hoped to go ahead on necessary concrete foundation work while waiting for formation of a non-profit corporation for financing the building on the installment plan. But City Manager Arthur W. Brewer told the council this appears to be impossible.

Reporting to the council on discussions yesterday with Hanauer and Co., the eastern firm which will provide financing for the proposed formation of the corporation, Brewer said any move by the city to go ahead on construction at this time would add nothing but legal complications.

"We are still trying to find a way to start construction before the rainy season," Brewer said.

If the building is to be started this year, any concrete work must be done while the creek bed under the proposed building is dry.

In other action last night, the Council:

1. Approved a two-hour parking limit on Sir Francis Drake boulevard from Tunstead to Greenfield avenue and in the business block of Bank street off Sir Francis Drake.

2. Instructed Brewer to investigate the possibility of the taxi stand on the west side of Sir Francis Drake being moved into the Greyhound bus depot lot. This would free a portion of the block, now red-zoned, for either parking or a right turn lane into Tunstead avenue.

3. Approved bringing up to date, as to street names and numbers, the maps which hang in the council meeting room, as well as varnishing and cleaning up the mural map, painted in oil, at the north end of the hall.

4. Ordered plans and specifications for paving of Drake boulevard to Center street and Center from Madrone to Bridge streets at an approximate cost of $7,500.

5. Instructed City Engineer John C. Oglesby to draw up a map of the Sorich property behind Star Hall, dividing the property into seven parcels for possible piece-by-piece purchase by the city for a corporation yard and park site.

6. Decided to wait "a couple of months" before purchasing a five-foot strip of land along Red Hill avenue across from United Market for widening the street.

New Jet Craft Now On Guard Over East Coast

McGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N. J. (AP)—The Convair F106 Delta Dart, an all-weather jet interceptor designed to wreak atom-rocket havoc among enemy bombers, today stands guard over the nation's most populous area.

A squadron of about 25 planes — the first such unit in the world — was formally put into service here yesterday as part of the North American Air Defense Command.

The squadron is assigned to the New York Air Defense Sector, which protects the 25 million people living in the New York-Philadelphia-Washington triangle.

Ross Trustees Set Budget Of $225,437

A $225,437 budget was approved by the Ross School District Board last night.

Supt. Stephen Parodi said this compared with a budget last year of $214,250, which represents an increase of $11,187. Most of the rise was due to teacher salary increases, he said. Some of it will go to improvements in the science, mathematics and foreign language programs.

Public hearing on the budget will be held Aug. 5. This is the date of the next regular board meeting, but meetings subsequently will be on the third Monday of each month, Parodi announced.

It was decided to contribute $50 to the Marin Junior Museum for services such as visits by children to the museum. This works out, Parodi estimated, at about 10 cents per child.

The boarded awarded a $990 contract for outside painting to Peter Thorsfeldt.

Polio Preying On Unvaccinated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney warned today that crippling polio is on the upward march this summer — particularly among the unvaccinated.

The nation's health chief said that about nine out of 10 of the cases have been reported among persons who have not had anti-polio shots.

Burney also said the number of cases of paralytic polio this year is more than double the toll at this time last year.

Brown Says State Can't Keep Adding More Courts

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California can't continue increasing the number of superior courts each year, Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today, without a review of the entire judical system.

The governor called on judges to administer the courts as efficiently as possible.

He said he expects judges to "work hard and render decisions expeditiously."

The comments came after Brown, at his news conference, read a letter from Superior Court Judge Dean Sherry of San Diego urging him to veto a bill establishing four more departments of the San Diego Superior Court.

The governor said he already had signed the bill when Sherry's letter arrived.

Sherry expressed belief that if the judges themselves would take the lead, court congestion could be relieved without any more judges. He termed the $300,000 cost of four new judges in San Diego as an unnecessary waste of public funds.

New Faces Would Cure Bridge Board Bad Habits

It looks like the Golden Gate Bridge Board is up to its old tricks.

That is, an ordinary toll-payer is not permitted to "speak his piece" before bridge directors. They think they are doing a great job and they don't want to be told anything to the contrary.

The Independent-Journal was the target of verbal brickbats from several bridge directors after we called the public's attention to the fact that a recent toll schedule revision provided an increase in rates for commuters.

After a show of verbal acrobatics, the board finally reconsidered and abandoned the commute rate increase.

More recently it was pointed out that the new commute books work a costly hardship on some commuters because they are issued for a calendar month. If yours expired before the end of the month, it may be too late to use up another one before it expires; so you have paid for a bunch of tickets you couldn't use.

That isn't right, obviously.

A commuter whose name ought to be familiar to Marin residents, Tom Hardcastle of Novato, made it a point the other day to attend a meeting of the bridge board's finance committee, to plead for relief.

Hardcastle is an old hand at speaking out on behalf of commuters. He headed the Marin County Commuters Federation during some rather fierce fights over Greyhound commute rates.

Some Greyhound officials got pretty rough at times, but apparently Hardcastle never was made to feel so thoroughly squelched as he was at the bridge finance committee meeting Monday.

As we say, it looks like the bridge directors are up to their old tricks.

Our own view is that there has never been anything wrong with the bridge board that a set of new faces wouldn't remedy.

Next time our Marin County Board of Supervisors considers appointments to the bridge board, the supervisors ought to keep this in mind.

It may be that some commuters will show up to remind the supervisors of this need for some changes down at the bridge.

PUSH BUTTON EXISTENCE BY YEAR 2000

What will the year 2000 be like from the point of view of creature comforts? Here are some predictions by industrial authorities:

1. The typical home will be run entirely by electrical gadgets.
2. The temperature of a house will always be just right because an automatic control center will adjust to any changes in weather conditions.
3. Most household chores will be reduced to a minimum by merely pushing a button.
4. Automobiles will be equipped to eliminate smog, to "dial" the desired speed and even to fly in low altitude air channels.

Material advantages can prove a great blessing so long as they serve man and don't turn him into just another gadget.

After all, the big job of each in this life is to work his way to heaven. So, the more conveniences we enjoy, the more worthwhile the Lord expects our lives to be.

"Mind the things that are above, not the things that are upon the earth."
(Colossians 3:2)

Let not the passing fancies of this life, O Lord, distract me from the never-ending happiness of eternity.

Are You Rich Or Poor? Here's Test That Will Help You Decide

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you rich or poor?

Sometimes it's hard to tell, world values being what they are.

But here are a few tests to help you find your status gratis:

You're poor if you have to worry about keeping up with the Joneses.

You're rich if Jones asks, "Mind if I borrow your credit card?"

You're rich if you still have one good friend you knew when young.

You're poor if a panhandler takes one look at your face—and decides not to hit you up.

You're rich if you can say "Money isn't everything" — and name something it isn't.

You're poor if you can't.

You're rich if you're the healthiest guy in the poorhouse.

You're poor if they have to help you up the steps at the Country Club.

You're rich if they welcome you at a snob restaurant even though you're wearing tennis shoes.

You're rich if you can't even remember the names of all your former wives.

You're poor if you can't forget their names.

You're poor if you can't afford to own a car made before 1910.

You're rich if you walk to work — just because you like to.

You're rich if you can choose the particular ocean you prefer to swim in.

You're poor if you have to paint your own yacht.

You're rich — and probably over 70 — if your second cousins still send you happy birthday cards.

You're poor if they cross the street to keep from meeting you.

You're poor if the only sunsets you see are on television.

YOU'RE RICH IF the singing of birds in the morning doesn't annoy you.

You're rich if you can't recall all the servants you've had in the last five year.

You're poor if you can recall only one — the wife.

You're rich if, when someone says "Let's go to the beach," you reach for a phone to charter a plane to Biarritz.

YOU'RE POOR IF the whole gang winds up at Coney Island.

You're rich if you wear that 15-year-old elbow-patched sports jacket because they don't make 'em like that anymore.

You're poor if you still wear it because you can't afford a new one like it anymore.

Low Bond Interest Rates Criticized

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The interest rates on good bonds, 20 years ago, were five per cent or more. In fact I did get 8 per cent on Great Western Power Gold bonds in 1922. They were soon called in at 105 when Pacific Gas and Electric took over.

The index shows that the cost of living has more than doubled in the last 20 years so interest (which is the rent of money) should be 10 per cent now instead of 5 per cent.

To this should be added another 2 per cent for the expected annual increase in cost of living. Therefore, the rate on current municipal bonds should be no less than 12 per cent.

The investor whose $10,000 provided two service trucks for the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. 20 years ago must pay twice as much for food and clothing now. The gas company employees who use this equipment have been given raises to compensate the increase in cost of living. The bond holders have been victimized. Let us try to give a fair deal.

Please print this. I would like to hear comments.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Why Does Democratic Chairman Criticize His Party's Course?

WASHINGTON—You can't pick up a newspaper these days or trudge down a shadowed corridor on Capitol Hill without running into a Democratic feud; a real big, full-sized, intra-party feud, not just a little, petty, personal feud.

Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler throws a headline at Democratic Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson and vice versa.

Mr. Butler criticizes the Southern Democratic conservatives and the Northern Democratic moderates and condemns his party in Congress for not piling up enough Eisenhower-opposed spending bills to give the Democrats ammunition for the 1960 election — lots of vetoes and lots of issues.

Sen. Johnson dismisses Chairman Butler's advice to the Democratic party as about as useful as Republican Chairman Thruston Morton's — and about as friendly.

THE DEMOCRATIC advisory council, which is made up of big-name non-Congressional Democrats like Mr. Truman, Adlai Stevenson, Averell Harriman, etc. — used to devote itself to criticizing the Eisenhower administration but is now criticizing the Democratic leadership of Congress for not accepting its advice and counsel any more than the President.

And the Republicans do their best to look only moderately happy and keep out of the line of fire lest they distract a barrage in their direction.

WHAT IS CHAIRMAN Butler really after in attacking the Congressional leaders of his own party? My answer would be this:

Mr. Butler is just as sincerely dedicated to the welfare of the Democratic party as Harry Truman or Lyndon Johnson or Sen. Richard Russell. His view of what is good government and good politics and good strategy for 1960 is just radically different from Lyndon Johnson's. He believes that the political climate of the country is much farther to the "Left" than does Sen. Johnson. He wants to see this Democratic Congress build a record of "issues" by enacting a whole series of bills which, even if vetoed, would show the country what it could have during the next four years if it would elect both a Democratic President and a Democratic Congress.

Clearly the Democratic Congressional leaders and the majority of Democratic members of Congress do not share Chairman Butler's estimate of public opinion. They believe that the 1960 Democratic candidates, Congressional and Presidential, will be better off next year if the Democratic 86th Congress gives the country all the moderate legislation and all the moderate, budget-balanced spending which is enactable rather than three times as much which would end up being vetoed and unenactable.

On top of this is the fact, as Walter Lippmann has been stressing, that this 86th Democratic Congress, while elected during a recession, is legislating during a period of high prosperity. This means there is no justification for an unbalanced budget. If larger expenditures are voted, they can only be justified by increased revenue.

MR. BUTLER MUST feel that his maneuvers will help put the 1960 convention in control of Democratic liberals and insure a platform and a nominee so acceptable to the liberals that they would almost certainly be unacceptable to the more conservative Democrats.

I'm sure he would shrink from the idea, but I wonder if Mr. Butler isn't strengthening the case for Lyndon Johnson's own nomination for the Presidency? I am not advocating it, but I am saying that it is eminently logical: a Johnson nomination based on a Johnson legislative record.

Hollow Malignin' Must Be Stopped!

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

For the third time lately, I have run across an item in the I-J, reporting a scrape with the law by someone living on Butterfield Road. In each case the address was given, followed by "Sleepy Hollow." In none of the cases was the address within Sleepy Hollow. It is obvious that some one of your reporters, possibly the one who covers the police departments and the CHP, doesn't know his geography!

Let's not have more drunken driving, etc., ascribed to Sleepy Hollow residents, than actually should be. Accordingly, please be advised that the first Butterfield Road number in the Hollow is 644. If the fact of living in Sleepy Hollow is newsworthy (just why it is escapes me), let's be accurate about it! So please pass this gem of information on to him or them as are malignin' our fair Hollow!

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By DONALD G. DAVIS

Cockles, French Delicacy, Can Be Found On Marin's Beaches

Not long ago a young fisherman from San Francisco was hailed into court and fined for taking an over limit of cockles from a Marin beach.

The single thing that interests me about this is the cockle. Because up to a couple of years ago all I knew about cockle was the "silver bells and cockle shells" in the old nursery rhyme.

So when I read the piece in the paper about cockles I remembered one of the most wonderful meals I had ever eaten.

In the fall a couple of years ago, in France, Frances, expecting our second child, and I (we left the boy in Germany) made a motor tour of Brittany.

WE STOPPED at a village near Mont-Saint-Michel, which we were to tour the next day, and took a room in an old inn that proudly advertised an even older interior and centuries-old rooms. We settled on a paneled room that featured a four-poster, creaky floors and furniture and the traditional French plumbing demurely tucked away behind massive double wooden doors.

We were warm from traveling, after seeing that our room was in order descended to the sidewalk for refreshment.

A little while later Frances said she would do without supper, and forthwith went to bed. "Must have been the ice in my lemonade," said she.

I FACED the prospect of going to dinner alone. It was not that I minded dining alone. I just don't speak French, and she does.

I went to the dining room and cautiously took a seat. (This was difficult for me, because I knew things would get balled up. I once sent a Parisian waiter into orbit by asking for a slice of cold ham for breakfast, at which meal there one usually eats just a roll and coffee.)

But things went better than I thought they would. The waitress spoke a little English and pointed out some specialties. About two hours and three dozen cockles later I was beaming, totally satisfied

THEY HAD SERVED me stuffed cockles. They came simmering on the half shell in large indented plates like those used to serve snails. They were full of butter and garlic and herbs and bread crumbs.

Not knowing French, and remembering what little I know even less, I can only recall that the stuffed delicacies were called something like "palourde farcie." But a trip to the dictionary here lists cockles as "bucarde." Called by any name they are delightful.

I always wanted more, and upon mentioning this to a friend as we were about to return to the states, he said, "I don't think they have them in the U.S."

The only other thing I remember about them was the shape of the shell — like a clamshell only smaller.

THEN CAME the story about the cockles for which the man was fined.

Further research discloses this: Cockles are plentiful on the shores of Marin, particularly along Bolinas beach, and at Drake's and Tomales bays. They must measure at least one and one-half inches in diameter (large than the ones served me in France). The season is open all year, but the limit is 50 per day (just enough for me). You must walk out at low tide, watch for bubbles in the sand, then dig with a shovel or hoe. I can hardly wait.

But, one more thing about the dinner in France. When I returned to my room my wife rallied briefly and I went on and on about the cockles. She groaned and went back to sleep. That night I was bitten by a spider.

Bond Issue Will Put State Water Problems Squarely Up To People

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Governor Edmund G. Brown's signature on SB1106, which is the Burns-Porter Act submitting a bond issue of $1,750,000,000 to the people of California for implementation of the California Water plan, puts the project ahead another step.

For many years the California legislature has been bickering about water development and the result has been that the state has done nothing toward conserving its water resources. The federal government has accomplished most of the major works, and water districts and local communities have done the rest.

THE SIGNING of the bill marks the first major step in the water program since the Central Valley's Project was voted by the legislature in the late 1920's. Although the legislature voted to proceed with this project, the actual work was done by the federal bureau of Reclamation.

The bond issue will be submitted to the people of the state at the November, 1960, general election.

The question will be one not merely of money, but of survival itself. California could survive under present circumstances, without the huge outlay, provided no more people entered the state and no more industry established itself within our boundaries. However, no one expects a static situation to exist. As the governor says:

"This bill will remove the last great obstacle to California's full growth and prosperity. By 1985, this project will be serving areas with a population of 21,000,000, out of an estimated total state population of 35,000,000—more than twice the present population of California."

(The population now is more than 15 million).

THE COST FOR the conservataion project is expected to be small as far as the entire population of the state is concerned.

"The only items chargeable to the general taxpayer," the governor explained, "are the recreation facilities in the program, estimated to be about three per cent of the total. Everything else will come back from those who use the water and power, and those living in areas not served by the project will not have to pay the costs."

The plan, therefore, is to retire the bonds through revenues from the project, placing a very small cost on the general taxpayer, all of which will be favorable as long as times are good. But if times get bad, the bonds become a general obligation of the state.

It would appear, however, that the state must undertake the project in any event, if the people here now want to prepare for a doubling of the population by the year 1985.

SO NBC TAKES HIM

CBS Won't Let Humphrey Talk

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One television network closed its coaxial eye on Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey today but another flashed him a welcome—whether he's announced or unannounced as a presidential candidate.

NOMINATED TO AEC—Nuclear scientist John H. Williams was nominated yesterday by President Eisenhower to the Atomic Energy Commission to succeed Willard F. Libby, resigned. Williams now is director of the AEC's research division. (AP Wirephoto)

The Minnesota Democrat was knocked off the Columbia Broadcasting System's "Face the Nation" TV show next Sunday because network attorneys felt he had become a presidential candidate. This, CBS explained with regret, might force the network to give obscure candidates equal time on that program.

Humphrey replied that this was "all nonsense," and was both "unnecessary and unfounded." He said the fact that Gov. Orville L. Freeman and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota had set up a Humphrey-for-president organization did not make him a formal candidate.

His explanation had scarcely hit the news wires when the senator announced that the National Broadcasting Co. had invited him to appear this morning on its early show, "Today." Humphrey, who already had gotten some legal advice, quickly accepted.

Asked point-blank on the NBC program if he were a presidential candidate, Humphrey replied that he has given the question "very, very serious thought" and presumed that one of these days it would be "answered in the affirmative."

But he emphasized anew that he is not now a candidate, saying that "I've gone as far as I am going to."

Army Studies Wreckage Of Rocket

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Army today began picking up the pieces of its shattered Juno II satellite rocket.

Hundreds of charred fragments were scattered over an area the size of two football fields. They will be photographed just as they landed when the 76-foot rocket exploded yesterday.

Then they'll be carted away for study.

The range safety officer destroyed the missile five seconds after it was launched when its guidance system went haywire and it tilted toward the mainland instead of over the ocean.

The rocket flew crazily for a few seconds before crashing to a fiery doom 50 yards from the launch pad. All four stages blew apart. The launch area received only minor damage.

Breakwater Project Slated In Humboldt

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has signed into law a bill appropriating $460,000 for construction of a breakwater at Shelter Cove in Humboldt County.

The breakwater will help form a small boat harbor.

The appropriation will come from the small craft harbor revolving fund.

NEWS VIEWS

By LEON C. SMITH

It may be the atomic age, and gun-toting westerners may be riding the TV ranges high wide and handsome, but Chicago has an old law on the books that can disarm every kid in the city. A while back police announced a crackdown on the sale of toy pistols to the city's small fry. Squirt guns, cap pistols and Buck Rogers disintegrators are as illegal as a pickpocket's intentions. If the gendarmes can make that one stick they'll need more cops than an old Mack Sennett comedy ever had. We may not especially approve of juvenile artillery, but we'd sure hate to run down every piece in this town. There'll be a pack of tired policemen in old Chicago. And when somebdy says, "They went that-a-way," the posse is apt to say, "So what?"

Jones Faces Bucs Tonight In Crucial Series Opener

PITTSBURGH (UPI)— The San Francisco Giants hustled into town today for a crucial four-game series with the fourth place Pittsburgh Pirates—after narrowly averting a second double-header disaster in Philadelphia last night.

A couple of old World Series heroes — Johnny Antonelli and Dusty Rhodes — prevented the Giants from dropping their second twin bill of the season to the Phillies last night.

Antonelli tossed a three-hitter and Rhodes singled home the winning run in the ninth inning to give the first place Giants the nightcap, 1-0. The Phils won the first game 6-4.

Sam Jones (12-9) is Manager Bill Rigney's choice to take the mound for the Giants tonight. Ronnie Kline (7-7) will probably pitch for the Pirates.

Rhodes, who batted home the winning run in the 1954 series that gave Antonelli his victory over Cleveland, hit a line drive over second base to send Jackie Brandt home with the big run

Brandt had singled and gone to second when Centerfielder Richie Ashburn momentarily bobbled the ball on the soggy turf.

Gene Conley, although touched for eight hits, pitched almost as well as Antonelli. Except for the ninth, he was able to keep the Giants well in control.

The victory was Antonelli's 14th of the season against only four losses. It was his third shutout, his second against the Phils.

Mike McCormick, the young lefthander who tossed three shutouts at the Phils earlier in the season, was chased from the mound by the Philadelphians in the first game.

He was touched for four runs in the four and a third innings he worked. The loss went to ex-Philly Jack Sanford who is scheduled to pitch here tomorrow. Sanford came in in the sixth inning and he was hit by a two-run rally in the seventh that won the game for the Phils.

The game-winning rally saw Ashburn walk, Ed Bouchee single and Wally Post also single, to drive home Ashburn. Dave Philley clinched it with a pinch-hit double off the centerfield scoreboard to score Bouchee.

Robin Roberts, who allowed the Giants 10 hits while working the distance for the Phils, was credited with his second win over the Giants this season and his eighth win against as many losses.

The Giants will play a single game against the Pirates tomorrow and a double-header Sunday. They return home to play the Dodgers on Monday.

MORE TO COME?

Stanford Enters New Conference

STANFORD (AP)—With Stanford University signing on, the Athletic Assn. of Western Universities expanded to a big five conference.

There was talk the new league would grow bigger.

"I don't see how they can help taking back the Oregon schools eventually," Jack Curtice, Stanford football coach, said in a strictly personal comment after announcement yesterday of Stanford's decision to join the new group.

The AAWU carries on in place of the Pacific Coast Conference, and AAWU football champions will represent the West in Rose Bowl games starting in 1961.

The four original AAWU members were California, UCLA, Southern California and Washington, all penalized by the former PCC for violating aid-to-athlete regulations.

The PCC officially died July 1 after angry discord over aid-to-athlete standards. Former PCC members not yet invited to join the new conference are Oregon, Oregon State, Washington State and Idaho. The 1960 Rose Bowl's west team will be picked from among the original nine PCC members under a contract commitment.

Jess Hill, Southern California's athletic director, joined Curtice in expressing a hope the AAWU would grow.

"I'm very happy," said Bill. "I'm very hopeful that as time passes we will enlarge the association."

Leo Harris, Oregon's athletic director, declined comment on whether Oregon eventually might join the conference.

"You have to be invited," Harris said.

Tom Hamilton, wso resigned as Pittsburgh's athletic director to take over as the AAWU's executive director, will not have investigative powers as did the PCC commissioner.

Dr. Wallace Sterling, Stanford president, said Stanford's academic standards will continue to be exacting.

Builders Unbeaten In Summer League

Billings-Hutchison Builders, paced by John Galten's 15 points, won their third straight game in the adult division of the Drake Summer Basketball League last night.

The Builders downed the Giacomini team, 34-24 to remain the only unbeaten team in the league.

Other games last night saw Pinky's Pizza Parlor drub Taveggia-Brusati Sports Shop, 47-30 and the Benchwarmers smash Cox and Co., 36-19.

Nalu Rallies To Capture Hawaii Race

HONOLULU (UPI)—The sloop Nalu II, nosed out in two previous Trans-Pacific Yacht Races ,came through in "Silky Sullivan" style today to take over the handicap lead from the yawl Chubasco.

Balboa investment broker Peter Grant used every bit of canvas possible to bring the 46-foot sloop across the Diamond Head finish line at 1:09:39 a.m. (HST).

The Nalu II's handicap time for the 2,225-mile run from San Pedro, Calif., to Honolulu was 9 days, 5 hours, 50 minutes and 27 seconds. The Chubasco finished in 10 days, 20 hours, 18 minutes and 15 seconds.

The sloop's stretch drive apparently assured it the Class C and the fleet handicap trophies.

However, a darkhorse—the Class D Debit—still had a mathematical chance for a handicap victory. To win, it must cross the finish line by 3:30 a.m. (HST) tomorrow.

Nalu II was just three minutes off the time of the winner, Legend, in the 1957 race—and finished third, 54 minutes behind the Staghound and the Constellation in the 1955 run.

Seventeen of the yachts in the field of 41 have now finished the race which began on July 4. Late finishers last night were the yawl Kialoa, of Newport; the yawl Robon, of Lido Isle Yacht Club; and the ketch Marilen of Santa Monica.

Expected to complete the race today were the Skylark, Los Angeles; Diablo, Alamitos Bay Y.C.; Tasco II, St. Francis Y.C.; Patronilla, Portland; Janie, Portland; and No Hu Hu, Honolulu.

The Chubasco, owned by Arnold Haskell, actually finished in second place behind the scratch boat Goodwill, a 161-foot schooner owned by Ralph Larrabee of Newport.

Sally Blair Ames of Los Angeles, only woman skipper in the race, won the Class A Division with her 75-foot schooner Constellation which finished Wednesday morning.

Li'l League Playoffs In Mill Valley

Mill Valley's Little League "World Series" tops all baseball action in southern Marin tomorrow when the Tigers, champs of the American League, and the Realtors, pennant winners of the National loop, play for the Mill Valley City Championship starting at 2 p.m.

The game will be aired over Radio Station KTIM with the voices of Ted Mitchell and Karl Barron.

The Tigers, who were the American loop's winner three straight years, have yet to win a city championship, while the Realtors have been in two out of the three played.

The Realtors club was undefeated in 16 games. On the other side of the field, the Tigers finished with a 14-4 record.

Manager Stan Woodward of the Realtors will probably start with his big righthander David Beswick, while manager Barney Johnson of the Tigers will go with either Cedric Collett or Larry Brady, both righthanders.

Here are the probale starting lineups:

Realtors — 1B, Jim Hopper; 2B, Bill Stephenson; 3B, Ronnie Rhoades; SS, Dick Finn; LF, Greg Zak; CF, Pete Rucinski; RF, Steve Woodward; C, Tom Hayes; P, David Beswick.

47 Runs Scored In Softball Twin-Bill

A wild and woolly doubleheader produced 47 runs last night in the San Rafael Softball League at Albert Field as McPhail's team routed Keaton's, 20-1, and the Dugout Dandies blasted Currie Plumbing, 18-8.

The McPhail victory saw George Weaver pitch a one-hitter and Al Baldwin, Ed Schulze and Roy Ellison lead a 22-hit parade. Baldwin had four hits and Schulze and Ellison three each.

HUB COUNCIL TO HONOR BASEBALL STAR

John Boccabella, Marin Catholic High School third baseman and San Anselmo's representative on this year's all-northern California nine, is due for official recognition by the city council.

The acknowledgment of Boccabella's diamond exploits —which include playing in the Polo Grounds in New York in the annual sandlot classic last year and being honored by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors — followed a letter from his father, Dominic Boccabella, blasting the council for ignoring the youngster's efforts.

Mayor Arthur W. Smith admitted the council had committed an "oversight" in their failure to publicly note John's rise to stardom.

"I admit I am not too sports-minded," Smith said. "It is unfortunate the recreation department did not bring this matter to our attention."

UMP GETS A KICK OUT OF RIGNEY

Manager Bill Rigney of the Giants appears to be placing a well-aimed kick on posterior of Umpire Frank Dascoli during argument in game against Phillies last night. The manager was kicked out of the game for protesting a close decision. When he was told to leave the diamond Rigney kicked first base, but camera angle made him appear to be kicking Dascoli. Yanks Win Pair, Take On Leading White Sox

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

All you can say about the American League pennant race at the moment is IF.

IF the Chicago White Sox can do no worse than split the four-game series they open in New York tonight against the Yankees, they might be able to do something with their newly reacquired lead.

IF the Cleveland Indians can rebound quickly they might bounce right back into first place in a four-game series at Boston opening tonight.

IF the Yankees can sweep the White Sox, or at worst lose no more than one of the four, then it might be all over.

The White Sox slipped back into first place while splitting a doubleheader at Boston yesterday, losing 5-4 after pushing their winning streak to five games with a 4-3 decision in the opener. The Indians were jolted to second, a game behind after a month's stay on top, when they dropped a double-header to the Yankees, 7-5 in 10 innings and 3-0.

Kansas City defeated third-place Baltimore 4-3, and Washington's spurting Senators swept a three-game series from Detroit's sliding Tigers 5-2.

In the National League, first-place San Francisco beat Philadelphia 1-0 on Johnny Antonelli's three-hitter after the Phils had won the first game of the twinight double-header 6-4. Third-place Milwaukee lost its third in a row to the Chicago Cubs, 4-2, Cincinnati defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 7-5.

The White Sox beat Boston on Sherm Lollar's tie-breaking double in the seventh inning against loser Tom Brewer (7-6). Dick Donovan won it. He allowed only four hits, but needed Gerry Staley's hitless two-inning save for a 6-5 record.

Ted Williams' pinch single in the sixth gave the Red Sox a 4-4 tie in the second game, and Vic Wertz, who drove in an early run with one of two doubles, then beat reliever Ray Moore (2-6) with a seventh-inning single. Mike Fornieles gained his first victory in relief.

Bobby Shantz (4-3) pitched a five-hitter, walking two, striking out seven, for his fourth straight victory, first complete game and first shutout since 1957 in the nightcap for the Yankees. Enos Slaughter and Hank Bauer homered.

The fourth-place Yanks gained a 5-5 tie on Yogi Berra's 11th homer in the ninth inning of the opener, then put it away on Mickey Mantle's two-run, two-out homer off losing reliever Gary Bell (8-9). Yankee relief ace Ryne Duren lost his shutout string at 32 innings—tops in the majors—when the Indians scored twice in the eighth for a 5-4 lead.

Olmedo Booted Out Of Nat'l Tournament For Not Trying

RIVER FOREST, Ill. (UPI) — The U. S. Lawn Tennis Assn. today considered disciplinary action against Alex Olmedo, who was kicked out of the National Clay Courts Tournament for not trying.

The 23-year-old sparkplug of the U. S. Davis Cup team and holder of the Wimbledon singles crown went down in listless defeat against South African Abe Segal 6-2 ,6-1, 6-0, in singles yesterday and left the court amid loud boos from a disappointed crowd at the River Forest Tennis Club.

Segal said Olmedo told him he "threw the match."

"I came here to play tennis. I don't like to win that way," Segal said.

Olmedo and his partner, Earl Buchholz of St. Louis, Mo., were dropped by officials from the doubles.

Olmedo's burst of temperament threw the tournament into an uproar. The Peruvian walked off the court and hurried from the dressing room to his hotel room, refusing to speak to anyone.

Later Perry Jones, captain of the Davis Cup team, quoted Olmedo as saying he was "sorry about the whole thing."

Olmedo, Jones said, would "talk to everybody later" to explain his actions.

Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode, the top-seeded Forest Hills, N. Y. queen who was seeking her fourth clay title, was eliminated by Rene Schuurman of South Africa, 7-5, 8-6, and Larry Nagler, a 19-year-old unknown from Hollywood, Calif., defeated eighth-seeded Grant Golden, Evanston, Ill., 6-4, 6-0, 0-6, 6-3 in a men's quarterfinal tilt.

Output of soybean oil in the United States now exceeds that of cottonseed oil, previously the chief vegetable oil produced in this country.

The number of illegitimate births in this country rose from an estimated 89,500 in 1940 to almost 202,000 in 1957, the last year tabulated.

Norton Choice In 2 Races Against Russ

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —until Bobby Morrow regains his form, the new "world's fastest human" is a lanky lad from San Jose State named Ray Norton.

The Russians are going to get a look at him for the first time in three events in the U. S.-Soviet track meet Saturday and Sunday.

Ray, 21 ad 180 pounds, is favored to win the 100 meters, 200 meters and anchor the 400-meter relay, which should win in a breeze. Already this year, he has equaled the world record for the 100 yards (9.3) and the 100 meters (10.1).

Norton thinks it's mostly a matter of gaining confidence that has brought him along, plus some very serious pep talks from his coach, Bud Winter.

"It used to be," he said today, "that I'd get so nervous and tied up before a race, that I wouldn't have a chance. Why, until last year, I used to dream about a meet for a week. I'd get muscle spasms just lying in bed. Strictly mental, but it was awful.

"But Bud taught me to concede to no one and think no one is better than I. Now I'm confident I can beat the Russians Edwin Ozolin and Leonid Bartenev."

Pinelli May Ruin Umps' Chances Of Sharing Players' Pension Plan

CONNOLLY

It is consoling to read one of my favorite authors, "Babe" Pinelli, the ex-umpire, who notices some nasty traits developing in the ranks of organized baseball players.

"Alibi and chronic kickers" is what Pinelli chooses to call cry-baby ball players. And he isn't fooling. He really wades into players, managers and fakers who "would rather whine and scream than swing a bat."

When Pinelli quit active playing and turned to umpiring he surprised everybody. His friends knew Babe had a fiery temper and were afraid he'd become a "fighting umpire."

As a young player he tangled with the likes of Al De Vormer, White Sox catcher, Ty Cobb, Detroit's favorite son, and he even pushed the late and great umpire Bill Byron around. But because he was shifty with his dukes and knew how to fight, Babe's mixups were short-lived.

In the late 30s, while umpiring in Los Angeles, Babe came to me and asked for a lift to become a major league ump. He knew that the late George Grant, once owner of the Boston Braves, and I were pals. So I made the "pitch" with Grant who was a great admirer of the Babe.

JOHN HEYDLER, then president of the National League, Grant's close pal, Jack Lelivelt and I were playing golf this particular Monday at the Wilshire Golf and Country Club. I invited Pinelli to come along. He never played golf, but agreed to pack my clubs if he could only meet Heydler.

After the golf game, while driving back to the Biltmore Hotel, Heydler inquired of me, "What makes you think Pinelli would be a great umpire?" Heydler asked.

"When he quit playing baseball he led the Coast League in base stealing," said I.

That was all Heydler needed. He realized that an umpire, to be effective, had to be able to move around. And in Pinelli's case he knew Babe could anticipate the next play

A FEW DAYS later, Heydler bought Pinelli's contract from Harry Williams, then president of the Coast League. I think the figure was around $1,800.

For 21 years thereafter Pinelli roamed the National League circuit and became one of the finest umps in the business. When he quit, his last game happened to be the only perfect World Series game in history. Of course Don Larsen of the Yanks was the winner.

So when I pick up True Magazine for August and read of Pinelli's whacking of ball players, I begin to add up things. I remembered that a year ago it was Pinelli who was carrying the torch for the umpires to become a part of the baseball players' pension fund. So far the players haven't agreed to take in the umps and maybe now that Pinelli has spoken his piece about the leagues being loaded with players "who are worse than old women," the players never will adopt the umpires as co-pensioners.

Calhoun Vs. Dick Tiger In Rematch

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI) — Tonight's featured boxing show (on NBC, 7 p.m. PDT), like so much summer television fare, is a repeat: A return 10-round match between Dick Tiger of Nigeria and Rory Calhoun of White Plains, N.Y.

But if the two promising middleweights put on a show as good as their first encounter six weeks ago in New York, few viewers will complain.

The two boxed 10 exciting rounds in Madison Square Garden June 5. The fight, the first in this country for Tiger, ended in a draw when Calhoun made a strong comeback in the later rounds.

Tiger, British Empire middleweight titleholder, had the edge over the 24-year-old Calhoun, according to a poll of sports-writing covering the fight. But one official scored the fight even on rounds and points while another gave the edge to Calhoun and the third said Tiger won.

Mindful of their tight battle the first time around, the odds-makers rated tonight's War Memorial Auditorium bout a toss-up.

Ruuska Captures Mile Race In National AAU

REDDING (UPI) — It's one down and three to go today for Sylvia Ruuska in the Women's National A.A.U. Swimming Championships.

Miss Ruuska successfully defended her mile crown yesterday by winning in a new meet record time of 21:38.9.

On today's program are the 100-yard freestyle, 220 backstroke, 220 breaststroke, 440 individual medley and one-meter springboard diving. Miss Ruuska is the defending champion in 440-yard medley.

Defending champion in the 100-freestyle and 220 backstroke is Chris von Saltza of Santa Clara. Susie Ordogh, Washington Athletic Club, Seattle, is the defending champ in the 220-yard breaststroke.

Miss Ruuska, who holds more records than any current campaigner among the mermaids, will compete in six events during the meet. In addition to the individual events, she'll race on two relay teams.

While she failed to crack her own American record yesterday, the 17-year-old blonde did crack the meet record of 22:13.7. Miss Ruuska has a best time of 21:26.4 for the American mark.

Surprise second place finisher in the mile run was Carolyn House of the Los Angeles A.C. Miss House, only 13, took a position about three lengths behind the champion and stayed there throughout the race. She dropped back on the last couple of laps and was timed in 21:45.9. Donna Graham of the Riviera Club of Indianapolis, Ind., one of the pre-race favorites, finished in third, clocked in 22:10.

Casper Sets Pace In Utah Tourney

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — National Open champion Billy Casper led a field of 155 into the first round of the Utah Open golf tournament today.

The Apple Valley, Calif., champion fired an 8-under-par 31-33—64 yesterday in winning the tournament's pro-am preliminary. Smiley Quick of San Francisco, a former Utah Open champ, followed with a 65. Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif., second to Casper in the National Open, tied at 66 with George Schneiter Sr. of Billings, Mont.

Tournament officials expect a score of 270 to 275 will win the 72-hole tournament, which ends Monday.

Davis Student Learns On Marin Dairy Farm

Donald J. McIsaac, Tocaloma dairyman, is one of more than 100 farmers and ranchers giving assistance to the University of California College of Agriculture this summer through the Davis farm practice program.

Getting practical, on-the-farm training with McIsaac is Anthony J. Mathios of San Francisco. Young Mathios, a pre-veterinary student, got the job through an agreement between McIsaac and the college's farm practice division.

"We have 112 students working on farms from southern California to eastern Washington," said Harry O. Walker, chairman of the Davis division. "These boys, many of them from city backgrounds, will come back to school in the fall with knowledge of production problems and an understanding of agriculture they could not get without farm work."

Under the program, students prepare during the year with a non-credit course to familiarize themselves as much as possible with farm machinery and methods.

The farm practice project, often known as the Bixby program, is designed to fill the gaps in experience of agriculture students.

Davis students work with range operators, fruit growers, dairy farmers, veterinarians and many other agricultural specialists.

Vote On Monte Maria Service District Asked

Petitions urging an election to determine whether a community services district shall be former in the Monte Maria subdivision of Novato have been signed by 120 persons — 95 more than needed to bring the issue to a vote.

E. Donald King, president of the Monte Maria Improvement Assn., said today the petitions will continue in circulation for several more days and will be presented to the county board of supervisors next week.

At the time the petition is presented, said King, he will request that no election be set which would precede an incorporation election for Novato.

Should incorporation take place this year, plans for the district would be dropped, he said, since the city would be requested to perform the improvements being sought. But should incorporation be rejected, "then the trigger would be cocked" for an election for creation of the district, he added.

The proposed district would be formed exclusively to improve and maintain the three center island strips on Sunset parkway at the entrance to Monte Maria off South Novato boulevard.

The entire project would be financed by a loan estimated at $1,500, to be amortized over a three-year period. The 124 homes in Monte Maria would be charged an ad valorum tax, estimated to cost each home owner an average of $7.58 per year for three years. After that, the cost would amount to about $3.11 per household per year for maintenance, said King.

An election to determine the formation of the district would also serve to elect a three-member board board of directors.

Jobs In State At High Peak

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Two state agencies announced yesterday that California employment in June was at an all-time high and unemployment was down substantially from a year ago.

Director John F. Henning of the Industrial Relations Department said total civilian employment rose to a record 5,853,000 during June, up 192,000 or 3 per cent from 1958.

Employment Director John E. Carr reported unemployment at 234,000 was down by 121,000 from last year but still remained at the second highest June mark since 1954.

Solution Grasped

EAST AURORA, N.Y. (UPI)—Francis Nichols, 20, of North Java, took things into his own hands when he realized he was in dangerously fast company. Nichols reached across James Kerwin, 21, driver of the car in which they were travelling, and pulled the key from the ignition, ending a 100 mph police chase.

IN COLORADO

Miss Keagy Bride Of Dwight Allen

Mr. and Mrs. Van Allen Treat returned to Sausalito yesterday from Fort Collins, Colo., where they attended the July 11 wedding of Mrs. Treat's son, Dwight S. Allen and Kathleen Keagy, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reiner A. Keagy of Fort Collins.

The double ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. William J. Hage took place at Danforth Chapel at 3 o'clock. Chapel decorations were pink gladioli flanked by white candleabra with pink gladioli garlands.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a waltz length gown of peau-de-soie, hand embroidered with sprays of lilies of the valley. Her shoulder length veil was caught with clusters of the delicate flower which was repeated in her hand bouquet.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Richard H. Finley of Big Springs, Tex., who wore a pink embroidered polished cotton gown with overlap of pink chiffon, and carried a basket of pink gladioli.

Candlelighters were Peggy and Debba Ackard of Denver, Colo. The little flower girl was six-year-old Kristine Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green of Fort Collins, who wore a white lace and net dress with bouffant skirt and carried a miniature basket of pink gladioli. Andy Ackard, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Ackard of Denver, was ring bearer.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was his only brother, Robert E. Allen Jr., of Berkeley, with Steve Ackard of Denver as usher.

The bride's mother wore beige embroidered organza and Mrs. Treat chose a silk floral print in shades of pink and green.

A reception for 150 guests followed the ceremony with Velma De Baer in charge of the guest book.

The new Mrs. Allen received her B.A. degree at University of Colorado and is a member of Delta Gamma Sorority. Dwight is a graduate of the University of California where he will continue at the School of Law. Following a wedding trip to Jackson Hole, Wyo., the couple will be at home after Aug. 15 at Berkeley.

How To Bathe Dog During Hot Days

NEW YORK (UPI)—A dog bath during the dog days can be easy on both pet and owner when a few simple precautions are taken.

The water temperature should be about the same used for bathing babies, says Bob Bartos, manager of research kennels for a dog manufacturer. Test the water with your elbow to make sure it's not too warm.

Before dunking your pet, put a few drops of sweet oil in each eye and plug its ears with cotton to keep out water and soap.

MAMIE'S MILLINER

Sally Victor Gets Fall Theme From 11-Day Visit To Russia

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mamie Eisenhower's milliner is back from Russia with the news that the "lack of good fashion is appalling."

Mrs. Sally Victor found Soviet women anxious to see American styles, anxious to try on the all-over floral hats which were a hit with U.S. women this spring and summer, and amazed at American hat makers' methods of keeping a hat on—with the tiny combs set inside the band and pushed firmly into the hair.

"The women aren't nearly as hat conscious as we are," said Mrs. Victor. "I guess they're just supposed to pave streets, not wear hats."

The milliner took with her, on an 11-day visit to Moscow and Leningrad, 18 of her own designs. First she showed them to salesgirls and executives at GUM, the state-owned department store in Moscow, and then left them as gifts for "Americans and Russians who were especially helpful on the trip."

"The women oh'ed, ah'ed and touched," she said. "A woman loves pretty things, no matter where she is."

"The flowered wig hat . . . I wore one of pink rose petals . . . was the biggest hit," she said. "And all those jingly bracelets American women wear created quite a stir among the Russians."

Mrs. Victor returned with a theme for her fall collection, shown this week. The milliner copied Soviet Cossacks, cathedral spires and hats once worn by Catherine the Great.

"If you're going to Russia to look for new art, don't," she said.

New York Fashion Previews Show Clothes With New Ease

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—All-American fashions, made to be worn in each of the 50 states, scored a smash hit as some 240 fashion editors from all sections of the country applauded the opening shows of a week of fall previews by New York designers.

Clothes shown today have a new ease, a new swagger, an air of casual sophistication that identifies the well-dressed American woman at home or abroad.

A highlight was a showing of American knit fashions by Alamac, climaxed by the appearance of Miss America of 1959, Mary Ann Mobley, in a white cotton knit evening gown designed by Ceil Chapman and trimmed with the state flowers of each of the 50 states.

Each fashion shown, ranging from casual separates to formal evening gowns, was dedicated to one of the United States, with special bows to Alaska and Hawaii.

Afternoon showings included highlights from the collections of Maurice Rentner, Mollie Parnis and Hannah Troy.

Bill Blass, talented young designer from Maurice Rentner, shows a group of handsome and flattering styles ranging from little "smoking jacket" suits with lush fur collars to evening fashions in the fabulous category. One of the latter is a black broadcloth theater costume consisting of short sheath dress with puffed short sleeves of white ermine, worn with a sleeveless jerkin-like jacket, cut to fit over the ermine.

Mollie Parnis, known as the favorite dressmaker of Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, shows a group of flattering and ladylike "Sunday silks," of which a white satin shirtwaist dress with jeweled buttons is typical. Also outstanding are a group of luxurious metallic brocades used for theater suits, short dinner dresses and coats.

Hannah Troy underscores the trend toward casual elegance with an evening ensemble of ice blue satin, the rakish collar in white mink, the matching dress cut on the simplest lines.

Better Shrimp

High And Low News In Fashion Necklines

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)— Sometimes a girl can look more enticing in a high-necked dress than in one slashed for maximum exposure, says Oleg Cassini, reviewing his fall collection for members of the national fashion press.

Just to make sure, however, he shows necklines in two extremes — either high turtlenecks or plunging as low as the law allows.

The high-necked versions usually are fitted to reveal every curve of the figure, an effect of which Cassini is highly in favor. A new interpretation of the white tie—without tails—is his dramatic black velvet evening sheath, long, tight and devastating, with white satin bow tie worn in a new position—at the bosom.

A highlight of his collection is a snugly fitted gray wool sheath with black turtleneck dickey and an asymetric neckline below. This one he calls "Scotch and Soda."

Ben Zuckerman, known for upper-bracket suits and coats, shows severely man-tailored suits with easy fit, and sparks them with fur "gimmicks" — his word for small ascots, of mink, leopard or ermine.

Zuckerman also brings back the fitted Chesterfield coat in popcorn tweed, complete with black mink "gimmick."

John Moore, young designer for the house of Talmack, shows a youthful and wearable collection of day and evening fashions, with particular attention to glamor for the cocktail hour, in the form of brilliant metallic brocades, austerely cut.

Embroidery Display Forms Program Of Blythedale Lodge

A display and demonstration of handpainted embroidery was the unusual program that followed the recent meeting of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge No. 305 at the Odd Fellows Temple in Mill Valley.

During the meeting conducted by noble grand Mrs. Peggy Dahl it was suggested that a shower of birthday greetings be sent to Mrs. Anna Scott for her 91st birthday this week. Mrs. Scott has been a member of the Rebekah Lodge for over 50 years and is presently a member of Blythedale Lodge.

Mrs. Barbara Ridgeway of the Home Embroidery Co. displayed and demonstrated the unusual method of embroidery with paints. Members took part in the demonstration using tubes of paint as one would a pen or pencil in tracing in color the outlines of the stamped models.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Harry Wall, district deputy president of District 61, Rebekah Assembly of California, and Harold Owen, District Deputy Grand Master of District 11, IOOF of California.

Have A Fur For Every Occasion

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Need a fur for a night? A fur-leasing firm may be your best friend.

Four or five years ago a woman would have felt embarrassed to borrow a fur, says M. Dillon Russell, of Miami's only fur rental business, but nowadays it's a commonly-accepted practice.

Russel's clients include all classes, ages, sizes and purses. He receives many requests from women who can afford to buy furs, but find it more convenient to rent.

His best customers are the wives of businessmen.

"These are the women who feel they don't use furs often enough to invest in their own but they do want them for special occasions.

Renting, Russell insists, is more economical than buying a fur.

"First of all, there is no origina output. There is no worry about depreciation, no insurance, no storage, no upkeep, no remodeling.

Mrs. Kershaw Weds Harold E. Winey

Mrs. Margery Lee Kershaw of Mill Valley and Harold E. Winey of San Francisco were married yesterday afternoon in the chapel of Star King School in Berkeley.

Relatives only attended the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Samuel Wright at 4 o'clock.

The bride chose for her wedding ensemble a blue lace over satin dress fashioned with boat neckline, three-quarter sleeves and bell skirt. On her hair she wore a blue satin halo coronet and lilies of the valley and forget-me-nots were attached to her purse.

Her only attendant was her aunt, Miss Fanny Adler of San Francisco, who wore a Dior blue taffeta dress, white satin hat and a corsage of phalaenopsis orchids.

Best man was Jack Adams of Mill Valley.

Among those attending the wedding were the bride's daughter, Shawn, a student at Tamalpais Valley School, and her son, Tony, who attends Tamalpais High School. Also present was the bridegroom's daughter, Susan, a student at University of California.

Following the ceremony a reception for approximately 110 guests was held at the Claremont Hotel in Berkeley.

When the couple left afterward to take a plane to Mexico City, the new Mrs. Winey was wearing a charcoal gray suit with gray beaver felt hat and black accessories. After several weeks in Mexico they will return to live in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Winey is secretary to R. Gordon Agnew, chairman of the department of Oral Pathology at the University of California. Her husband is director of the California Fund for the Salvation Army.

Newlyweds Are Feted At Reception

Just returned home from a tour of duty with the U.S. Air Force in England is S/Sgt. Henry G. Stuehmeyer and his British bride, the former Joan Thorp, whose parents reside in Ruthin, England.

This is the first trip to the United States for the new Mrs. Stuehmeyer. After driving to San Rafael from New York, she says, "It certainly is big," and that the weather here is more like that in England.

A reception was held in their honor at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gimi John Sessi in San Rafael Meadows.

Their next tour of duty will be at Portland International Airport, in Portland, Ore.

Show Will Feature Morgan Collection

"If summer comes can fall fashions be far behind? And what better place to find the answer to this question on these warm summer days than around the cool pool at Rickey's Rancho Rafael?

For "Fashion Forecast for Fall" is next in the Fashion Focus series of luncheon fashion shows to be held next Tuesday.

To be show in an exclusive preview is the Jackie Morgan fall collection, which will be flown from Los Angeles for this first in a series of six major previews of fashion trends for fall. This designer, who specializes in coats, suits, costume suits and after five wools, has risen to top rank in the moderately priced field. Checks, plaids, and paisleys in browns, mahoganys, beige and rust reflecting the earth tones of Marin's well loved hills will be featured.

In the spotlight as honored community service group will be the Marin Volunteers, a group of Marin County women dedicated to serving the needs of Marin's Senior Citizens. In order to attend, the group will take time off from "Trade Whims," its recently-opened thrift shop in the basement of the Senior Center.

Modeling will be Mesdames William Donohoe, Clarence Amonette Jr., William Byron Wallace, Raymond Brusati, Evelyn Husby, Corky Jones, and Caroline Rose, president of the Marin Volunteers.

Reservations for the luncheon which begins at 12:30 p.m. may be made by calling Rickey's. The fashion show will start at 1 p.m. and clothes will be modeled informally around the poolside tables so that guests may inspect colors and fabrics at close range.

Mother Claims College Is A Waste For Women

Mrs. A. E. "I agree with the professor who said women should not go to college. I graduated five years ago, expecting to be a teacher. Instead, I married. I now have four children. My life is an endless round of drudgery. Any dumbbell could do what I do. My sister did not go to college. She also has four children and is much happier than I am. She doesn't know what she is missing. Doesn't college really make a girl unfit for motherhood?"

Reply. Probably some colleges do. A few women's college presidents say they consider their graduates who get married failures. That's an awful attitude. Most college leaders disagree with them. I believe that in general college graduates make superior mothers. They know more about human nature. They have broader horizons. Don't say any dumbbell could do what you do. You should use your training and insight in your delicate job of getting the little ones off to a good start in life.

Mrs. T. Y. "My daughter is 12. She's a happy little thing. She never has asked about 'the facts of life.' She doesn't know where babies come from, or how they are born. Should I bring up the subject with her?"

Reply. Your daughter is unusual. Probably you should bring up the subject indirectly. Can you have a pet which will reproduce? That would lead to conversations. You might follow the suggestions in the Child Study Association's paperback book, "What To Tell Your Children About Sex." Price 35c. All children should know the facts of life before reaching their teens. It is an important safeguard.

Mrs. P. V. "I'm still upset over your preference for cross-breed dogs. I have a kennel where I raise German shepherds which have been bred for good dispositions. They make wonderful pets. Can't you admit that?"

Reply. Yes, of course. If parents can find a strain of pure-bred dogs which have been bred for a good disposition, they'll get good pets.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, July 17, the 198th day of the year, with 167 more days in 1959.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The evening stars are Saturn, Jupiter, Venus and Mars.

On this date in history:

In 1821, Florida was formally ceded to the United States by Spain.

In 1862, President Abraham Lincoln won power to conscript men into the armed forces.

In 1897, Rudyard Kipling's poem, "Recessional," was published for the first time in The London Times.

In 1898, the Cuban city of Santiago surrendered to the United States in the Spanish-American War.

In 1917, the British royal house changed its family name from Saxe-Coburg and Gotha to Windsor.

In 1936, the Spanish Civil War began.

In 1948, Southern Democrats organized a states' rights party.

In 1955, Arco, Idaho, became the first community in the world to receive all its light and power from atomic energy.

A thought for today: Rudyard Kipling said, "And a woman is only a woman, but a good cigar is a smoke."

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

Despite cuts and bruises, he chased the boys over backyard fences and collared them.

Chorale Sings Monday At Band Concert

Members of the Winifred Baker Chorale will appear as a feature attraction Monday night with the second outdoor band concert of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District Non-Marching Band.

The one-hour program begins at 7:30 p.m. and will be held on the ground of the Hoffman School, Las Gallinas avenue, in Terra Linda.

The singers will present some of the battle songs they featured at their recent concert with Byron Jones as soloist singing in Welsh. Other soloists will include Robert Cardoza, Robert Clover and Elsie Rowley. The group will sing unaccompanied except for two numbers for which Walter Sparks will play guitar.

The semi-chorus of the chorale will be heard in three numbers which they have not sung publicly before. These include two madrigals, "Sing We and Chant It" and "The Silver Swan," and Randall Thompson's "Alleluia."

Better Welfare Staff Is Sought

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Department of Social Welfare is aiming to have a far better qualified staff by 1965.

The department has proposed a new employee classification plan related to an overall management pattern. The plan went before county welfare directors and personnel directors recently and includes new ideas for recruitment, training, scholarship, supervision salaries and public understanding.

Radio Energy Used To Study Circulation

BERKELEY (UPI)—A scientist at University of California here has come up with a radical new method of studying blood circulation that promises to be a great boon in the development of new drugs and medicines.

Dr. Jerome R. Singer, associate professor of electrical engineering, said his method starts with a small amount of radio energy sent through the patient's tissue, not enough to do harm. By studying this energy's absorption, Singer learns about the patient's blood.

FCC Considers Plans To Shift TV Channels

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Communications Commission yesterday announced it is considering several channel change proposals which would make Fresno a predominately VHF television area.

The FCC said it also is considering a proposal to add VHF Channels 8 and 12 to Bakersfield if the Mexican government concurs. Bakersfield also has VHF Channel 10 and UHF Channels 17, 29 and 39.

The commission said it is proposing to assign VHF educational Channels 2, 5, 7, along with Channel 9, to Fresno. It also proposes to keep UHF Channel 53 in that city.

Channels 12, 18, 24 and 47 would be moved from Fresno, Channels 5 and 9 would be removed from Goldfield and Tonopah, Nev., respectively.

The commission said KJEO in Fresno would have to shift from UHF Channel 47 to Channel 2, McClatchy station KMJ-TV from 24 to 5, and Triangle Publications, Inc. station KFRE-TV from 12 to 9.

The commission also invited comments on conflicting proposals to assign additional VHF channels to either Sacramento or San Francisco.

S. F. Bay Pollution Study Authorized

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday signed a bill appropriating $213,000 from the California water fund to begin studies and investigations of water pollution in the Sacramento River and in the San Francisco Bay Area.

The bill was authored by Assemblyman Charles W. Meyers (D-San Francisco.)

Under the measure, the state Department of Water Resources will received $130,000 for the first year's study of the Sacramento River problem. The studies will continue for three years at an estimated cost of $400,000.

The University of California will receive $83,000 under the bill for the first year's study of water pollution in the Bay Area. The investigation is expected to require five years, and will cost about $428,000.

BELTS

Partial Survey Finds Car Seat Belts Little Used

SACRAMENTO (CNS) Only about one automobile out of 33 in California is equipped with saftey belts, but these are in use only about on-fourth of the time.

Any expanded use of the safety belts is up to the individual motorist. The recent Legislature killed a bill which would have required the devices in all California vehicles after 1961.

In addition, the Legislature directed the California Highway Patrol to discontinue an opinion-survey of its investigating officers. For about a year, each officer filled out a form after an accident, noting whether seat belts were present and in use, and possible effects. The form also included a space for the officers' opinions on what might have resulted in no-belt-equipped vehicles if they had been installed and in use.

Of 54,409 automobiles involved in accidents checked during the first half of last year, only 1,975 were equipped with one or more belts. If the belt was in the driver's seat, it was in use about one-third of the time but usage of belts in other passenger positions was only about one in five.

Results of the opinion forms were punched on cards and sent to Cornell University for processing. However, results were somewhat less than conclusive.

In the first place, CHP officers are "sold" on use of the belts, most of them fastening their safety belts as automatically as they turn on the ignition switch. Because of this opinion, they tended to minimize the possible effectiveness of belts, when they were not present, to keep from being influenced by their own judgment.

In addition, the opinions appeared to be influenced by the presence or absence of injury. Opinions stating the belt was effective appeared more frequently when the belt had been used than when it had not been available.

COLOR IS DRAMATIC. It flags attention . . . more people stop, look, and read. Surveying 3,600 men and women readers, the Houston Chronicle found that color practically doubled the readership of advertising. A message was remembered as much as three times longer than when printed in black and white. Twice as many readers said they purchased products advertised in color than responded to similar black and white ads. A particular color ad tested was remembered by 53% of the men and 69% of the women a month after it was published.

These dynamic results confirm the experience of thousands of advertisers in all parts of the country. Similar action is obtained with color in the I-J right here in Marin, at only slightly higher rates than for ads in black and white. Every week more local advertisers are using the powerful selling force of color in their Independent-Journal ads to produce extra sales.

For full information on how to give plus-power to your advertising with color, ask the I-J.
